PLOT TO SET UP FASCIST RULE IN RUSSIA IS BARED

Two Ex-Leaders Tell Story at Trial.

[Copyright: 1936: By the Associated Press.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 20.—Death for communist leaders to pave the way for a Fascist régime in Russia was the picture unfolded tonight in the trial of sixteen persons charged with fostering a terrorist plot against the soviet.

Gregory Zinoviev in dramatically shouted words accepted full guilt for the conspiracy to kill soviet leaders and gain control of the government as he faced judges and prosecutors in the hall of columns, the former nobles club.

Zinoviev Defines Fascism.

"Trotzkyism plus terrorism is, of course, Fascism," he declared. "I went all the way from opposition party powers to counter-revolution and terrorism and actually Fascism."

Zinoviev and Leon Kamenev, who with Josef Stalin, now secretary of the communist party and dictator of Russia, once ruled the soviet during the illness of Lenin, answered state charges in entirely different manner.

Kamenev quietly discussed the plot from the witness stand, but neither he nor Zinoviev made any attempt to deny responsibility for the conspiracy.

With Leon Trotzky, former soviet minister of war now in exile in Oslo, Norway, the two men were expelled from the party in 1927. Later they recanted and were taken back into the fold.

But from the date of their expulsion, Zinoviev said, they were loyal to the ideals of Trotzky, who was accused by the state of being the master mind of the current plot.

Admit Double Crossing.

"We never broke or betrayed our alliance," Zinoviev declared. "We did, however, deceive the party by playing the rôle of double crossers by pledging loyalty anew to the party in order to use the same weapons Trotzky was employing, but in a different manner.

"I lied ever since the struggle against the government started," he continued, facing his accusers like a man who sees death and doesn't care. "But now I am determined to tell the truth.

"Trotzky's rôle in the counter-revolution was greater than mine, although mine was great enough. I am guiltier than Trotzky because I was here doing the actual work."

Breaks Zinoviev's Testimony.

Once Kamenev broke the testimony of Zinoviev, who said he hypocritically had written an editorial against the assassins of Sergei M. Kirov, the chief aid of Stalin.

"Kamenev planned the same thing," said Zinoviev.

Abruptly Kamenev asserted:

"I did not! I had no intention of writing an article."

Both men were convicted and sentenced to long prison terms in connection with the Kirov death in 1934 and presumably were arrested in prison on the conspiracy charge.

It was brought out that a plot to kill Stalin in 1934 failed when A. Bogden, Zinoviev's secretary, killed himself rather than murder Stalin. The dictator was to have died with his aid, Kirov, at Leningrad.

Adds Details of Plot.

Simply he said: "We faced in 1932 two alternatives. Because of the success of the government we knew we had failed.

"We could capitulate, throw in the sponge, and conform to Stalin, or we could conspire for terrorism as a desperate effort to regain power.

"We decided on the second alternative."

The conspirators then sought to enlist all enemies of Stalin, of whatever political faith, in the campaign to overthrow the Stalin régime.

Five "Aids" Listed.

Five men, Kamenev said, remained in the good offices of the government and aided the conspiracy by fighting

CLAIM CARMONA KILLED; NATION SHUT TO WORLD

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Aug. 21 (Friday).—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports reaching here early today said a revolt had broken out in Portugal and that President Oscar Carmona had been killed.

No messages had been received here from Lisbon, the Portuguese capital, in nine hours. The Lisbon radio station was silent throughout the night.

The Portuguese government, while adhering last week in principle to France's proposal for a general European neutrality accord respecting the Spanish civil war, assailed leftist factions in Spain, asserting there had been unwaranted destruction of property and mass murders, committed "with cold premeditation."

Gen. Carmona seized power in 1926 and was elected president Nov. 29, 1926, without opposition. Aided by Premier Salazar, he has ruled Portugal as a virtual military dictator ever since. He was re-elected in 1928 and again in 1935.

In 1933 a "corporative state" constitution, modeled after Premier Mussolini's Italian program, was adopted.

GERMANS WARN MADRID.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on Back Page.)

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—A new squadron of German warships steamed from Kiel harbor today at full speed for Spanish waters with official orders to use force, if necessary, to enforce the freedom of the seas for Germany. The squadron includes Germany's newest pocket battleship, the Graf Spee, the cruisers Nuremberg and Leipzig, and four destroyers.

This new and dangerous development in the critical Spanish civil war situation followed the stopping and searching of the German steamer Kamerun yesterday by a Madrid warship.

Arrival of the Nazi squadron in Spanish waters will make sixteen warships ready for action. Nine other naval craft already are near Spain.

Madrid Warned.

Rear Admiral Carl, chief of the fleet now in Spanish waters, left no doubt of the tenseness of relations with the loyalist government when he warned Madrid in connection with the search of the Nazi steamer that "henceforth force will be met with force."

The text of the admiral's warning:

"After settlement of the first breach of law made by the destroyer Almirante Valdes before Seville [apparently a reference to reported damage to German property in Seville] the cruiser Libertad yesterday afternoon forced the German steamer Kamerun to follow her outside Spanish waters and searched her with armed soldiers.

"This action against a German ship is a breach of the right of free shipping on the high seas. I am not disposed to tolerate such acts of force. I have instructed my sea forces to meet all unjustifiable acts of force from your ships with force."

Backs Hitler Ultimatum.

Admiral Carl in these strong words backed up Berlin's warning to Madrid that Nazi warships will "defend other German ships against acts of violence by all means at their disposal."

"The German government, soon after receipt of news of the incident created by the Spanish government in connection with the steamer Kamerun, instructed its chargé d'affaires at Madrid to protest in the sharpest form against the action of Spanish warships in violation of international law and to give notice the German government will hold the Spanish government responsible for all conse-

Willie Fears the Worst and Does His Best

Ever since Willie Brown, 21 years old, came from Kansas City, Mo., three months ago, he has been on the lookout for Chicago gangsters. This proved too bad yesterday for one stickup man.

Willie is the curb service boy for his uncle, Charles Baureis, proprietor of the Whoopee inn, 3900 River road, Franklin Park, where he lives with the Baureis family. On his duties his flair for the dramatic led him into the habit of keeping a notebook, in which he jotted down the license number of every car containing suspicious looking characters which drove in for curb service.

Spots Big Tan Auto.

Willie saw a great many persons that he deemed suspicious and his fancy ran wild speculating on what fate might await them. On Sunday night the license number of a big tan automobile he considered thoroughly suspicious was jotted down. On Tuesday the night the automobile and occupants against visited the place. On Wednesday night after midnight it returned. Five men emerged from the crowd and help up the inn.

They displayed guns, ordered the inn's guests and employés to lie on the floor, and then tied up Willie, his uncle Baureis, the latter's wife, Grace, and three customers, including a woman and her husband.

Willie Gives His Clew.

After taking $25 from a cash register, $70 and a gun and a revolver from the adjoining living quarters, three watches and 32 quarts of whisky, the bandits departed. Then Willie, his freckles standing out, his red hair mussed, excitedly supplied county highway police with the license number of the car.

Lieut. Henry Andel and a squad investigated the number and then went to the home of John Giolions, 23 years old, 1536 Taylor street, owner of the car. He was taken to the county highway station in Morton Grove, where he was identified yesterday by Willie and Baureis as the driver of the car and one of the men with guns. The police are searching for his accomplices. Giolions served six months in the Bridewell for auto theft in 1932, police records show.

Only 75 days remain in which to save your country. What are you doing to save it?

AURORA VOTER, 101, REGISTERS; HE'S FOR LANDON

Bert Wilder, 101 years old, put a Landon sunflower on his coat lapel yesterday and with his wife, Anna, 86 years old, walked more than a mile from his home at 727 North Lake street, Aurora, to the town hall to enroll under the new permanent registration system.

"Who was the first President you voted for?" a registration clerk asked Wilder, who is Kane county's oldest resident.

Blind Men Meet After 20 Years; Recognize Voices

Medway, Mass., Aug. 20.—(AP)—A door opened in the home of Dennis Reardon, 94, and a voice said, "How are you, Denny?" Blind, Reardon replied, "How are you, Jack?" and was led to the arms of George W. Bartlett, 92, of Brockton, also blind. The meeting was the first in twenty years. They were tentmates in the civil war.

Olson Sinks; Consider 2d Transfusion

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Gov. Floyd B. Olson, suffering almost constant pain from a stomach ailment, was sinking slowly tonight as Mayo clinic physicians considered a second blood transfusion in "a day or two."

A clinic bulletin, however, reported at a late hour that Olson was resting more comfortably.

The governor was still hopeful over the outcome of his illness, remarking to his personal aid, Maurice Rose: "I guess we'll have to arrange to put some microphones in this room for the campaign."

Party Leaders Confer.

Olson's condition was such that his stenographic secretary, Morris Hursh, came here from St. Paul. Hursh's presence gave rise to speculation the governor might be asked to issue a statement soon on the Minnesota political situation.

Olson is the Farmer-Labor party's candidate for the United States senate. Simultaneously with Hursh's arrival several party leaders conferred in St. Paul. They did not disclose the topics discussed.

With the announcement the second blood transfusion might be given to bolster the chief executive's waning strength came a Mayo clinic bulletin saying that the patient was experiencing increased difficulty in assimilating nourishment.

Peritonitis Still Danger.

Olson's pulse and temperature were described as "practically normal." His abdomen was considerably inflamed and the danger of peritonitis still existed as his strength ebbed.

The same determination that identified him in political circles marked his attitude toward his affliction. He has insisted to his few visitors—close personal friends—that he will recover.

None of those who have seen him for brief periods of time have revealed to the governor the odds confronting him. Most of his nourishment is administered intravenously, and opiates are used to ease the pain.

THRONGS GREET NOMINEE AS CAMPAIGN TRIP OPENS

Train Will Cross Northern Illinois This Evening.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Gov. Landon will be given encouraging first hand information on his mounting strength in Illinois from party leaders this evening while his special train travels across the state from Clinton, Ia., to Chicago, with stops at Sterling, Dixon and De Kalb.

National Committeeman George F. Harding, National Committeewoman Bertha Baur, and Otis F. Glenn, nominee for United States senator, will head a delegation which will board the train at Clinton. Mr. Glenn will introduce Gov. Landon to the crowds at the Illinois stops. Wayland Brooks, nominee for governor, will speak at meetings in Sterling and Dixon, preceding the arrival of the train and will board it at Dixon for the trip to Chicago.

In Chicago 2½ Hours.

In Chicago tonight plans are for the train to be parked at the Union station for two and one-half hours from 11 p. m. to 1:30 a. m., Chicago daylight time, at which hour it will pull out for West Middlesex, Pa., Gov. Landon's birthplace, where he is to deliver his first major speech of the campaign tomorrow.

The Illinois itinerary, as given out by the Republican national committee here, calls for arrival of the Landon train at Clinton at 6:35 p. m. central standard time and departure at 6:40. Among those who will board the train during that interval are National Committeeman Harding, Mr. Glenn, State Chairman Perry B. McCullough of Lawrenceville, Cook County Chairman Edward F. Moore, Judge Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court, George F. Nixon, candidate for the Cook county board of tax appeals, and Julius Miner. About fifty Illinoisans have been invited to board the train.

County Leaders on Hand.

It also was probable that several Republican county chairmen and state central committeemen from northwestern Illinois counties would join the party for the trip through their territories.

Thousands of people are expected to gather at North Western railway stations along the route of the Landon special. The approximate time the train will reach each Illinois town during the evening follows:

[Central standard time.]		Maple Park	8:46
		Elburn	8:52
Union Grove	6:54	La Fox	8:56
Morrison	6:58	[Chicago daylight time.]
Round Grove	7:03
Agnew	7:05	Geneva	10:01
Galt	7:09	West Chicago	10:06
Sterling	7:15	Wheaton	10:13
Nelson	7:25	Glen Ellyn	10:16
Dixon	7:35	Lombard	10:20
Nachusa	7:53	Elmhurst	10:26
Franklin Grove	7:58	Maywood	10:33
Ashton	8:03	River Forest	10:35
Flagg	8:07	Oak Park	10:38
Rochelle	8:12	Austin Blvd.	10:42
Creston	8:19
Malta	8:25	Austin station	10:44
De Kalb	8:35	Kedzie avenue	10:50

The Landon party is scheduled to stop at Sterling for three minutes, at Dixon for ten minutes, and at DeKalb for five minutes, but demonstrations at these points may delay the train's departure. A crowd of at least 15,000 is expected at Dixon, where an old fashioned rally, with Mr. Brooks as the principal speaker, will precede the arrival of Gov. Landon.

After its arrival in Chicago the train will be switched from the North Western tracks to the Union station, where the Pennsylvania lines will take it over for the trip east.

Grasshopper Horde Invades Beaches on North Shore

A grasshopper invasion of north shore beaches was reported yesterday. At Waukegan the insects have been annoying bathers for several days. In some places the grasshoppers, dead and alive, are heaped six inches high. Boat owners reported seeing heaps of the insects floating a hundred yards off shore from Wilmette and Evanston.

Elect Republicans to Congress, Is Plea of Governor.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Gov. Alf M. Landon began his campaign for the presidency today by speaking in eleven cities in Colorado and Nebraska and showing himself to at least 25,000 persons along the route of his special train that is carrying him to the east. He will make his first major campaign address at West Middlesex, Pa., next Saturday afternoon.

Gov. Landon arrived here at 10:10 tonight to spend the night. Somewhat nervous as he started out on this great adventure, the Republican candidate gained in poise and assurance during the day, as the friendly crowds gathered around his car platform at every station stop and greeted him with cries of "Hello, Alf." Some one of the Landon party said that it reminded him of the spirit of the Teddy Roosevelt days.

A cheering crowd of several thousand awaited Landon's arrival tonight. A heavy rain fell as the governor rode through eastern Nebraska. He remarked how welcome such a rain would be in Kansas and congratulated Nebraska farmers on their hay crops.

5,000 at Grand Island.

Although the brief addresses which the governor made today were not intended as any great pronouncements on his part, he touched on various vital issues of the campaign, under the influence of the crowds that were anxious to see him and hear exactly what he stood for. His largest crowds were at North Platte and Grand Island, Neb. At the latter place 5,000 were at the station to meet him.

Special platforms near the train had been erected at these two points and the governor walked out to face throngs that filled all the space near him. State wide radio broadcasts had been arranged at both places.

The sunflower was the feature of the campaign that was most in evidence today. At Grand Island the band played "O, Susanna" as the governor walked from the train to the stage, wading a puddle on the way to shake hands with a little girl.

State Leaders Welcomed.

Across Colorado and Nebraska the governor was welcomed by state delegations, and hundreds of local Republican leaders boarded his train and were received in his private car. He spent the day talking with these people, informing himself on local problems and giving what aid he could toward the state candidates.

Gov. Landon emphasized today the importance of electing Republicans to congress. Candidates for both houses in Washington were with him during the day and he asked the people to elect them. What is needed, he said, is a congress that will debate important legislation.

"The best way to insure a congress which will once more function in the American way," he said at Grand Island, "is to elect a Republican congress. I hope you people are going to send Bob Simmons and Cullen Wright to congress this fall.

No More "Must" Legislation.

"We do not want any more 'must' legislation. We want a congress that will fulfill its constitutional function of consideration and debate."

In another way he struck out at the New Deal.

"There are many things that government should do," he told the people at North Platte and Grand Island, "but I think we want these things done without squandering our money. I believe that a man can be liberal without being a spendthrift."

Seven Talks in Iowa.

He will attend a breakfast with political leaders in Omaha in the morning and tomorrow will enter Iowa and Illinois. Seven platform talks are scheduled for Iowa, with a special rally at Cedar Rapids at 4:50 p. m.

The governor left his mountain home early this morning and met the group that is traveling with him at the Stanley hotel in Estes Park, Colo. From there through Loveland and Greeley to La Salle, Colo., where a caravan of eight or ten cars was met and escorted at times by a highway patrol that wound its way out of the cool mountain canyons to the foothills and plains. The governor looked tanned and recovered from his recent illness.

He said good-by to his Colorado neighbors from the rear platform as soon as his special train arrived from Denver. Hundreds crowded around his automobile while he was waiting.

Mrs. Landon and their daughter, Peggy Anne, sat inside with him and the governor remained with them as long as possible.

Democrats for Landon.

"I am a New York Democrat," said one woman, reaching through the car door to shake hands, "but I am going to vote for Landon."

"I am a Texas Democrat," said a big man, who brushed through the crowd. "I am for Landon, too."

"Hello, partner, glad to see you," said the governor, as an Oklahoma man came up. He remembered two or three people from Kansas.

He thanked his Colorado "neighbors" for coming down to the train to see him start the campaign. He said he had spent many happy summers in Colorado and hoped to return there many times.

It was found soon after Landon had said good-by to his family and neighbors that a brief case in which were two of his speeches and his trunk keys had been left behind. His West Middlesex speech was on hand and being mimeographed, but the Buffalo and Chautauqua addresses, on which so much labor had been spent, were missing temporarily. They had been left in charge of a highway patrol man.

Railroad officials were notified and promised to get the brief case and its precious contents to him before he leaves Omaha in the morning.

Met by Stage Coach.

At La Salle he was met at the edge of town by a stage coach of ancient vintage, but bright with new paint and Landon slogans. It was driven by Harvey E. [Neighbor] Witwer, Republican candidate for state treasurer, who boarded the Landon train after he had driven his horses to the station. On the baggage piled on top of the coach, the name of Alf Landon had been painted and the words "Balanced," "Tax Reductions," "Sound Money."

At Fort Morgan Gov. Landon greeted several hundred beet sugar farmers and their families. His greeting to the people here was typical and follows:

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: I am glad to see so many of you folks here this morning, and I am glad to have the opportunity of starting off my campaign in this splendid Republican county of Morgan. I know this is one of the rich agricultural counties of Colorado and the west, and that the beet sugar industry is the nucleus and the backbone of your prosperity, and it should receive every protection from the federal government. It is one of the crops that we can grow here at home.

"There are many things which I would like to have the chance to talk to you about, but the time is short. I would like to have the opportunity of visiting with all of you, and I want to thank you very much for your courteous attention and the splendid reception you have given me."

Enters at North Platte.

The Landon party entered Nebraska at North Platte.

Ed Hull of Peoria, Ill., former congressman, was on board the train. He said he had been over the route in advance and had aided in arranging the stops and meeting places. He said that Landon had gained in strength 10 per cent during the last month. He had found his old Democratic friends in Denver now ready to vote the Republican ticket. Clarence Hamlin of Colorado Springs, former member of the national committee, said Landon had a good chance in Colorado.

W. D. MITCHELL HITS NEW DEAL LEGISLATION BEFORE CANADIAN BAR

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Sharp criticism of New Deal legislation in the United States was voiced before the Canadian Bar association's annual meeting today by W. D. Mitchell, former attorney general of the United States. He declared many of the Roosevelt administration's laws "denied citizens constitutional rights."

The former cabinet member, said that during the last three and one-half years the United States had been "actually governed by a series of void and unconstitutional federal statutes."

Mitchell said the New Dealers "obviously realize the growing antipathy of Americans," to the "abuses" and he expressed fear that "if the present administration continues in power we may expect resort to the filling of judicial vacancies with men committed to its views."

"Government officials who are ready to impose their will through statutes of doubtful validity by delaying and impeding their judicial review, will not hesitate to exercise the power of appointment in the manner to make their theories of government effective."

Wife Sues for a Divorce from Perry L. Smithers

Mrs. Genevieve Smithers, 711 Lake avenue, Wilmette, filed suit for divorce in the Superior court yesterday against Perry L. Smithers, former president of the Booth Fisheries company. The bill charged cruelty and nonsupport. Smithers received a salary of $40,000 a year while he was with the Booth Fisheries and now has a large income from an insurance business in addition to owning securities and real estate, the bill said. It asked an injunction to restrain Smithers from molesting his wife

ANDREW AWAITS HIS PROFIT IN COCAINE DEAL

Three men made friends with Andrew Tyranski, 48 years old, and one of them offered him $1,000 and a vacant lot on the south side for his grocery store at 2956 North Hamlin avenue. Yesterday Tyranski went with the men to look at the lot.

On the way they met a man they called "doctor," and discussed selling $3,000 worth of cocaine. The "doctor" said he would buy $9,000 worth if he could get quick delivery. As they drove away the three men offered to let Tyranski share in the deal, promising him $5,000 if he could put up $1,000.

Tyranski supplied the money and left the men at Wood and Harrison streets, where they told him to wait while they bought the cocaine. After waiting several hours the grocer went to the Shakespeare avenue police station.

ACTRESS BEATEN BY INTRUDER IN FILM CITY HOME

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Ruby Lorraine, English actress, was taken to Hollywood Receiving hospital tonight after reporting a prowler in her home struck her in the face with a pistol barrel. Miss Lorraine, wife of Rupert Grayson, British author, told officers the prowler entered through a window. She screamed and he pressed a revolver to her side, she said. When she screamed again he fired a shot, which went wild. Striking her across the face with the gun, he fled out the door, Miss Lorraine related.

GOV. LANDON HAS SMOOTH SAILING IN POLL OF BOAT

Volunteers Given New Proof of Trend.

Another straw vote which indicates the mounting strength of the Landon-Knox ticket was reported at headquarters of THE VOLUNTEERS on the 17th floor of Tribune Tower yesterday. This patriotic organization is recruiting thousands of citizens in behalf of the Landon-Knox ticket.

MORINNE CORDRAY

The new straw ballots were taken on a lake steamship cruising between Chicago and Buffalo by Miss Morinne Cordray of Pratt, Kas. She polled 397 passenger-vacationists with the following results:

Landon	220
Roosevelt	169
Lemke	7
Thomas	1

Democrats Object to Poll.

When her boat docked at Chicago Miss Cordray came to VOLUNTEER headquarters to report her results and also to sign a membership card and get literature and pledge cards to take back to Kansas with her.

"The Democrats on board the boat were mad as wet hens when they heard how my poll was going," she said, "so they tried to run one of their own. But they gave it up. I guess they found that mine really showed the sentiment among the passengers."

Miss Cordray will organize a VOLUNTEER unit in her home town and will devote special attention to enlisting Democrats who she knows wish to join just such an organization, which is not part of a political group but is enlisted only for the duration of the campaign.

"THE VOLUNTEERS is just the organization for those people," she said, as she left headquarters.

Thousands Enlist at Fair.

Chauncey McCormick, chairman of THE VOLUNTEERS, returned yesterday from Springfield to report that thousands of Republicans became VOLUNTEERS during Republican day at the state fair on Wednesday. Referring to attempts of the Democratic state jobholders to break up the Republican celebration, Mr. McCormick declared that it demonstrated the soundness of one of the VOLUNTEERS' slogans: "Vote for your liberties while you still have the liberty to vote."

"It became an issue far more real than we had been conscious of heretofore," he said.

"This question has been asked," said Mr. McCormick: "'Is it possible for the Republican party to beat the New Deal's $5,000,000,000 slush fund?'

"We know that we cannot possibly raise even a small fraction of such a sum. But conscious that there are millions of Americans who cannot be bought and who will give their very lives to protect the basic principles of the American system of government handed down to us by our forefathers, THE VOLUNTEERS was founded to organize and coördinate the efforts of these loyal, patriotic citizens.

"We believe that public opinion is the greatest force in America today and that we can enroll in THE VOLUNTEERS a large number of men and women to crush the power of the votes that can be gathered together even by the largest sum that has ever been spent in the history of America by a political party."

Mr. McCormick spoke at a large rally Tuesday in Fort Wayne, Ind., before Republicans of the Fourth congressional district. The VOLUNTEER movement was instituted in that district by Attorney Harry G. Hogan of Fort Wayne and Oscar G. Foellinger, publisher of the Fort Wayne News-Sentinel.

Women's Rally in 7th Ward.

Women VOLUNTEERS of the seventh ward rallied last night at 7517 Exchange avenue to hear Mrs. Clarence G. Goodwin, head of the VOLUNTEER movement on the south side, emphasize the importance of the women's work in the campaign.

"This is not a personal movement," said Mrs. Goodwin. "We must enlist all women; we must see that they register for the election, and we must see that they vote for Landon and Knox."

Mrs. Charles L. Gerds, wife of the seventh ward Republican committeeman, outlined the history of American governmental principles, and pointed out the importance of the coming election in defining the path which the nation is to follow.

Presiding over the meeting was Mrs. Henry Justeson, 7526 Essex avenue, president of the seventh ward VOLUNTEERS.

HOLDS NEW DEAL'S MISUSE OF PWA CASH IS AIDING G. O. P. CAUSE

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Corrupt use of PWA funds for political purposes in West Virginia is a large contributory factor in swinging that state—which in 1932 gave President Roosevelt a 75,000 plurality—into the Republican column, according to Walter Simms Hallanan, Republican national committeeman from West Virginia.

Mr. Hallanan called upon Representative Joseph W. Martin Jr., eastern manager of the Landon-Knox campaign at headquarters of the Republican national committee today and expressed the opinion the Republican national ticket would receive a "normal" Republican plurality of something like 50,000 this year.

G. O .P. LEADERS EXPECT 100,000 TO HEAR LANDON

Governor Will Speak in City of Birth.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New Castle, Pa., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—The western half of Pennsylvania and much of eastern Ohio will be represented in the audience to hear Gov. Alf M. Landon on Saturday deliver the initial speech of his campaign as Republican candidate for President.

G. Edward Green, secretary of the Pennsylvania Republican committee, at arrangements headquarters here, estimated this afternoon that the crowd will approach 100,000. Transportation facilities and not general public enthusiasm may limit the attendance.

Speaks on Golf Course.

The speech is to be delivered on a platform at No. 1 tee of a golf course just outside the village of West Middlesex, Landon's birthplace, 17 miles north of here. Twenty special trains will deliver 14,000, including fifty bands. The masses are coming by highway, by chartered bus, automobile caravans, and in single motor car parties. The roads are limited, but there are plans for their operation with a maximum of efficiency.

Parking areas, staked in nearby fields of wheat and hay stubble are ample. All roads leading to the meeting place are to be operated as one way inbound thoroughfares from noon until 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Thereafter, until the congestion clears, probably about 5:30 o'clock, the roads will carry outbound trafic only.

Delegations Will March.

The one exception to this one way plan is the pavement of highway 18 for the 1.7 miles between the village railroad station and the golf course. It has been reserved for pedestrians, official cars, and shuttle buses. Delegations plan to march from their trains behind their bands.

The man power behind the trafic arrangement is a coördination of the Pennsylvania highway patrol, state police, uniformed American Legion men, and sheriff's deputies. The Tribune roadster, at the request of the Republican national committee, has been serving in an advisory capacity.

FORGED RELIEF ORDERS PUT WPA WORKER IN JAIL

Francis Grece, 23 years old, 1836 West Erie street, a WPA worker, was fined $25 and sentenced to six months in the Bridewell by Judge Francis Borrelli in the South State street court yesterday on a charge of obtaining food under false pretenses by forging relief orders.

Relief authorities caused his arrest after Austin McGrail, 5127 Emerald avenue, charged that his estranged wife, Irene, mother of three children, and Grece were getting food on relief orders made out to McGrail.

K. OF C. CALLS ON U. S. TO PROTEST WAR ON RELIGION IN MEXICO

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 20.—(AP)—A resolution calling upon the United States government "to remonstrate against the persecutions carried on by the Mexican government against religion and the denial of human and divine rights of the Mexican people," was adopted at the closing session today of the fifty-fourth international convention of the supreme council, Knights of Columbus.

The delegates also adopted unanimously another resolution commissioning their officers to bring about the exercises of the "good offices of the United States government on behalf of Mexican Catholics and religiously minded peoples of all creeds."

The first resolution inferentially accused Josephus Daniels, American ambassador to Mexico, of sympathy with the "anti-religious clique" in Mexico.

USE GOVERNOR'S DAY AT FAIR TO LAUD NEW DEAL

Fail to Conceal Party Split in Illinois.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Governor's day at the Illinois State fair this afternoon was in reality New Deal day. It was not a state jubilee. It was a tribute to the Roosevelt administration.

Old timers who year after year have witnessed these annual roundups of party strength said it was the first time in history that the state organization in power so completely subordinated itself to Washington. But all recognized that the transformation was not an un-Democratic invasion of state rights, but the desire of the present governor to fly the flag, "Roosevelt and Horner."

Mouthpiece for Roosevelt.

The protecting mantle of the New Deal was cast over the Illinois administration by a member of the Roosevelt cabinet, Attorney General Homer Cummings, who said he came here solely at the request of Gov. Horner, a personal solicitation over the telephone. But Washington dispatches have said that the Connecticut statesman also was sent as the mouthpiece of President Roosevelt.

Cummings was given the place of honor on the program in front of the grandstand. Gov. Horner preceded him. And he took up 50 per cent more time than did the governor. Heretofore the governor's address always has been the big event of the day.

This departure from long established practice was understood clearly by most of the crowd. In contrast to the throng at Republican day yesterday which had to battle its way into the grandstand, the crowd roamed freely through gates and ailes, filling every foot of space.

Try to Cover Split.

There was no concealing the fact that there was a distinct purpose to turn the spotlight on the Roosevelt deal in order to distract attention from the obvious fact that the split between Gov. Horner and the Cook county organization is just about as it was after the bitter primary last April.

The evidence of this was the absence of the two most potent individuals in the Cook county machine, Mayor Kelly and National Committeeman P. A. Nash. The Hornerites were irritated by the matter-of-fact manner with which the former was detained in Chicago for the dedication of a bridge. And they found little solace in a telegram sent by Nash from Glen Falls, N. Y., for they recalled that he sent just such a telegram on Governor's day last year and then carried Cook county against Horner by 150,000 a few months later.

Wishes Enjoyable Day.

The Nash telegram included no alibis for his absence, no mention of the illness that some folks here said was the reason he was not present.

"We of Cook county join with other Democrats assembled at the fair and will work for and assure the election of President Roosevelt, Gov. Horner, and other candidates on our state ticket," the telegram said. "I feel confident that Illinois again will be in the Democratic column for President Roosevelt and the state ticket. To all of you Democrats I wish an enjoyable day."

Despite the attendance of hundreds of precinct workers and jobholders said to have been rounded up under pressure, there was no substantial offset to the absence of Kelly and Nash. The Chicago leaders of prominence who rode in the governor's parade from the governor's mansion were those who were with him in the primary, mostly under cover.

They included District Attorney Michael L. Igoe, State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney, and A. J. Horan, bailif of the Municipal court. None of the three has any substantial influence in the county organization. Except for Ald. Jacob M. Arvey, leaders of ward strength failed to show themselves prominently, although there were a number of committeemen in Springfield.

With this background, with the full strength of the Horner pay rolls brought in from all sections of the state, the day was a disappointment to the outdoor audience. Attorney General Cummings read a speech filled with statistics for a great part of his half hour.

Gov. Horner, too, recited from figures, his being to show that the big increase in state expenditures was due to extraordinary necessities. He was the better reader of the two, but the applause for him did not begin to approach the enthusiasm shown for Wayland Brooks, his Republican opponent in November.

Keep Horses Out of Sight.

Participants recalled that a year ago Gov. Horner's speech was interrupted by boos because he delayed the racing program. Horses appeared on the track warming up and the applause for them irritated him so that he announced he would manage the show himself this year. It was believed that he may have done so as not a single horse showed on the track until the speaking was over.

But the length of Mr. Cummings' speech and Gov. Horner's did stretch out the program so that Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who followed them, found it necessary to remind the restless and talkative crowd that the schedule called for "a solo and not a chorus."

So long had he been put off that he put aside his prepared 5,000 word speech completely and limited himself almost entirely to showering compliments on his associates on the speakers' platform.

Cummings was introduced briefly by State's Attorney Courtney, who, it was noticed, had only a word of praise for the state administration.

The attorney general promptly presented his credentials as spokesman by reading a letter written to him by President Roosevelt which embodied a message to the people of Illinois—his hearty greetings and his approval of their "determination to hold the state fair in the midst of their battle against an appalling drouth."

"Stirred by Horner's Skill."

Attorney General Cummings' direct praise for Gov. Horner was this:

"We in Washington are familiar with Gov. Horner's long record of faithful service and we are stirred by the knowledge of the courage and executive skill with which he has administered his great office."

Gov. Horner opened and closed his twenty minute talk with praise for the New Deal.

Just at the close of Senator Lewis' speech scattered drops of rain began to fall. Soon a brief shower drove most of the occupants of the uncovered special section devoted to the governor's use into a rush for shelter and politics was over for the day.

During the program it was reported that a joker was offering a bribe to persuade the band to play "Has Anybody Here Seen Kelly," but the number was not heard.

Illinois Republican Candidates Get Together

MACON COUNTY FILES "PAUPERS' PLEA" IN SUIT OVER PENSIONS

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Macon county entered a "paupers' plea" today in Circuit court in answer to a mandamus suit of twelve Macon county blind persons seeking to force the county to place them on county blind pension rolls.

Answering the petitioners' bill, Acting State's Attorney Ivan J. Hutchens advised the court that the county's blind pension appropriation is exhausted and that outstanding pension claims as of July 1 create a deficit of approximately $7,000.

The suit was brought by twelve blind persons over the age of 65 when the county refused them pensions on the contention they should obtain assistance from the old age pension.

STEEL OFFICIALS DENY CLAIMS OF VOTE FOR LEWIS

Steel company officials yesterday denied a statement by union organizers that employé representatives of 47,000 workers in the Chicago district had voted to indorse and support the steel unionization drive sponsored by John L. Lewis' committee for industrial organization. Van A. Bittner, Chicago director of the steel workers' organizing committee, issued the statement.

An official of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company said that less than 90 employé representatives, or less than half of those in the district, had attended a meeting held at Lewis committee headquarters in Gary Wednesday evening and that many of these had left when they found the meeting was called as a rally for the Lewis sympathizers rather than for the announced purpose of establishing a coöperative council of employé representatives in the district.

A statement issued by chairmen of employé representation plans in eight plants of the Carnegie-Illinois company also denied Bittner's statement.

BROOKS ATTACKS FARM PROGRAMS OF NEW DEALERS

10,000 Hear Candidate in Four Speeches.

BY STANLEY ARMSTRONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Aledo, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Wayland Brooks, the Republican nominee for governor, in four speeches today graphically portrayed to over 10,000 residents of farms and rural communities the absurdity in the New Deal farm program that has deprived the American farmer of a portion of the American market and flooded that market with foreign grown produce.

Brooks' audiences were made up principally of those who depend on agriculture for their prosperity. They were attentive crowds, which received his remarks with vigorous applause. They were enthusiastic, too, at mention of the name of Alf M. Landon, the Republican nominee for President.

Power Given to President.

"The New Deal's plan for agriculture," said Brooks, "presents the strangest contradiction ever seen in government. In 1934 1,700,000 acres of corn and wheat were withdrawn from production in Illinois and in 1935 1,440,000 acres. While this limitation was placed upon the growing of corn the President alone was given power to fix trade treaties with foreign countries.

"Any one with the slightest experience could have seen that the farm produce of other lands had to be kept out of the United States or this plan was worthless. While the equivalent of 80,000 forty acre fields of corn and wheat in Illinois alone were in enforced idleness in 1934 and 1935 to reduce production, the farmers of South America, Asia, and Europe were permitted to flood the American market with many million dollars worth of foreign grown produce."

Speaks at Centennial.

Besides speaking at Aledo, which is celebrating the Mercer county centennial, Brooks spoke at a homecoming at Hinckley in De Kalb county, at the Old Settlers' picnic at Toulon in Stark county, and at a La Salle county Republican rally at Starved Rock. His trip to these places came after a night spent on his farm near Ottawa, in La Salle county.

ARMED POLICE GUARD AGAINST VIOLENCE IN DRIVERS' STRIKE

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Four policemen armed with shotguns—weapons used in the truck drivers' strike of 1934—watched today for any disturbance in the wholesale district as the grocery drivers' strike began in earnest.

At least one delivery of goods to a retailer was stopped by cruising pickets though no violence occurred. Other pickets were stationed at most of the wholesale grocery companies and stopped both pickups and deliveries.

Some fifteen companies are involved and about 500 men are affected, although not all of the latter are strikers. A few concerns closed rather than risk an outbreak of violence.

Another strike—that of employés in thirty terminal elevators—has resulted in the closing of one flour mill and several feed mills.

Thief Removes Wall Bricks and Loots Store of Guns

Peter Von Frantzius, owner of a sport goods store at 2850 North Clark street, reported to the police yesterday that a burglar, gaining entrance by removing bricks from a rear wall, took 22 revolvers, 6 shotguns, and a quantity of ammunition from his store Wednesday night. The loot was valued at $1,000.

HAMILTON PLANS WINNING OF WEST WITH G. O. P. STAF

Acts to Fulfill Promises Made on Air Tour.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

John Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, called all the workers at Republican national headquarters here into a conference yesterday, and outlined their work in supplying campaign ammunition, expert aid and general service to the party workers he met on his 6,500 miles airplane tour of sixteen states of the west.

"On election day," he said, "the most we at headquarters can do in the last twelve hours is to cast one vote each, while those people out on the firing line are going to work all day getting out the vote.

Brass Hats Barred.

"On this western trip just completed we wanted to demonstrate to party workers that headquarters is not made up of brass hats, but of ordinary, mine run sort of folks, and that we've all got only one object together, the election of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas as President.

"In the western states workers often came from astounding distances. We went through sixteen states. In every one we had workers' meetings, and in the mountain states we had men and women many of whom had driven three, four or five hundred miles through terrific heat to attend an organization meeting.

Must Furnish Ammunition.

"I told them that all our energy at headquarters would not have a penny's value unless we could be of service to them. I told them what headquarters was trying to do: Furnish them with ammunition to use in the field, with information on problems they may face.

"People who stand around and scatter bird shot get nowhere. They must have an objective. One of the great temptations of politics is to sit with your heels on the desk and tell what you did in the campaigns of 1916 and 1920 and what you're going to do two months from now, instead of getting busy now.

"I told these workers they would get, from headquarters in their precincts, pamphlets, brochures, and leaflets on what to do. I made them believe we would do everything possible to help them, and you people can't let me down."

Mr. Hamilton insisted upon courteous and intelligent treatment of visitors at headquarters, and prompt response to inquiries—matters which in past campaigns have sometimes been neglected.

"One of the easiest ways to help Jim Farley is to crab," he told the headquarters folks. "If you want to elect a Republican President the best thing is to talk frankly and not gossip. If anything goes wrong, take it up with your department head—if you are right, it will be set right; if wrong, you have no right to grouch. Let us remember thousands and thousands are giving time and energy to saving the United States.

"That's all we're asking you to do—work shoulder to shoulder.

A Symbol of Coöperation.

"I went into the west confident of the east, in which I had been. I told the workers we are going to carry every state east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio river with the possible exception of Wisconsin. All we need is to get 35 or 40 electoral votes west of the Mississippi. To the party workers who crowded the meetings I was symbolic of the coöperation they feel they are going to get out of you at headquarters. I met 3,000 county chairmen and precinct workers who had never seen a national chairman.

"I just said to them 'If you'll take care of your Democratic precinct committeemen, your Democratic county committeemen, your Democratic state committeemen, I'll do my best to take care of Jim Farley.' With party organizations in every state, with 6,000 county and 138,000 precinct committeemen and workers all eager and ready, there isn't anything under the sun we fear."

Political Notes

Young Republican national headquarters here announced yesterday that every member of the Young Democrats league in Baldwin county, Ala., has swung to the Landon and Knox ticket. The reason given for the shift is that "President Roosevelt is spending too much."

◆

Taxes of nearly $62 were paid last year by the average automobile driver to run a low-priced car 15,000 miles, according to a statement issued yesterday by Robert Kratky, director of the tax division of the Republican national committee. The figure includes taxes imposed by federal, state, and local governments.

Boiler of Locomotive Explodes; 3 Men Killed

ZION DUCKS WHEN MADSEN FAMILY COMES TO TOWN

The Madsens of Kenosha—father and four sons—fought a family battle yesterday morning while their automobile careened recklessly through the streets of Zion, narrowly missing other cars and sending pedestrians scurrying to cover. The police finally caught them at 23d street near the North Shore line tracks in the suburb.

Those arrested were Charles Madsen, 74 years old, the father; his sons, Ludwig, 39 years old; Chester, 29 years old, and James, 36 years old, all of 5714 41st street, Kenosha, and Charles Jr., 41 years old, 5623 43d street, Kenosha. Charles Jr. was charged with driving while intoxicated and Chester and James with disorderly conduct. The father and Ludwig were freed.

Although fists flew in the wild ride, the Madsens presented a solid front when they were taken to the police station. They refused to tell why they had quarreled.

"We won't talk," they said in unison. "There was nothing wrong. We're not even mad at each other."

UNABLE TO SWIM, WADER DROWNS IN LAKE AT ZION

Caught by a sudden swell while wading in the lake off 29th street in Zion yesterday, Ralph Cole, 22 years old, who lived at 2218 Gideon avenue in that city, was drowned. Cole could not swim. His companion, Irving Mudgett, 17 years old, 2405 Gallilee avenue, Zion, was wading ashore with the unconscious man when a strong undertow swept Cole from his grasp. Three hours later the body was washed ashore at Dunes park.

Charles Ragner Eckstrom, 25 years old, 2240 West 107th street, was drowned on Wednesday while swimming in Lake Michigan near Sawyer, Mich., friends here were informed yesterday.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death yesterday at the inquest into the drowning of Robert Schneidt, 15 years old, 1811 Hammond street, in Lake Michigan off Burton place on Tuesday. The body was recovered yesterday by the park police.

WHAT! A WASH AS WHITE AS YOURS WITHOUT HARD RUBBING?
THAT'S RIGHT! AND YOU CAN GET THE SAME WONDERFUL RESULTS IF YOU'LL USE AMERICAN FAMILY FLAKES

Why YOU Can't Afford to Use Cheap Soap Chips

TODAY, thousands of women have discovered in American Family Flakes an amazingly simple, safe way to a whiter wash. A way that ends hard rubbing, so destructive to clothes. A way that does not depend on harmful alkali or strong chemicals to restore clothes to first-day whiteness.

Yet, miracle of miracles, every piece of the wash comes out perfectly clean—linens snowy white—colored fabrics bright and brilliant.

If you would enjoy this thrilling experience, then by all means discard your present soap in favor of American Family Flakes. Your reward will not only be a whiter wash in less time, and with less work—but your clothes will last much longer. This is why:

By actual tests, American Family Flakes proved that they contain more suds-making material than ordinary flakes, chips, or powders. Please consider that statement carefully.

These paper-thin flakes dissolve almost the instant they hit the water into rich, creamy, active "DOUBLE SUDS". And there you have the secret of the amazing success of American Family Flakes.

For, instead of depending on hard rubbing, or harmful alkali, or harsh chemicals to get clothes white—the "DOUBLE SUDS" actually float out dirt with utter safety to fabrics.

That's the miracle of American Family Flakes. Why linens turn out snowy white; why colored fabrics retain their brilliance and first-day beauty; why ALL clothes last much longer.

For over ninety years American Family has been the largest selling brand of soap in and around Chicago. A single wash will prove American Family Flakes the simplest, quickest, safest way to a whiter wash.

The few extra pennies American Family Flakes cost will be returned to you many times over in the extra length of time your clothes last.

Try American Family Flakes and prove, beyond any shadow of doubt, that it is always cheaper to buy good soap than new clothes. And for dishwashing, you will find American Family Flakes unexcelled—and as gentle to your hands as fine toilet soap.

HOPKINS ASSAILS GOV. LANDON AND G. O. P. CHAIRMAN

Irritated by Charges of WPA Waste.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, who has insisted that there is no politics in relief, today set himself up as the political oracle of the New Deal, denounced Gov. Alf M. Landon and John D. M. Hamilton, the Republican chairman, and undertook to dictate to sovereign states the manner in which they shall raise their contribution toward relief costs.

Hopkins, back from Hyde Park, where he reported on the drouth situation to President Roosevelt, exhibited great irritation at the deluge of charges of waste and political favoritism in the WPA. The concern which these charges are giving his office was indicated today when the WPA ordered an investigation of the situation in Bloomington, Ind., where the WPA has been paying $75 a thousand for stacking, unstacking, and restacking bricks.

Calls It "Lot of Tripe."

However, when asked about the Bloomington waste, disclosed by the official records of the city engineer, Hopkins said: "That's a lot of tripe."

"The Republican national committee is putting out all this claptrap," Hopkins asserted, "but they won't accomplish anything by belittling the fact that we are building swimming pools for poor people."

Hopkins referred to the charges of Republican Chairman Hamilton, made at Sedalia, Mo., that the WPA was building up a political machine and that men and women were being thrown out of jobs because they were not Democrats.

"If our friend Hamilton would do something about getting the state of Kansas to put up something for relief we'd be better off," Hopkins said.

Hits Landon Relief Plan.

Hopkins then ripped into Gov. Landon's declaration, made in his acceptance speech, that he would curtail relief expenditures by taking the saving "out of the hides of politicians."

"He means he will take it right out of the hides of the unemployed," Hopkins said. "Our administrative cost is only 3 per cent and it would be the same under the Republicans. They'd have somebody else sitting here in my place, but the cost would be the same unless they took it out of the hides of the unemployed."

Hopkins repeated his charge that the state of Kansas had not contributed a single penny to its share of the relief load.

"What about the counties and municipalities?" he was asked.

"O, that's a different matter," he replied.

The official records show that from January, 1933, until December 31, 1935, the state of Kansas contributed 0.9 per cent of its total relief cost of $54,745,989, and that local contributions were 26.1 per cent. Thus the total for state and local communities was 27 per cent.

Southern States Pay Less.

In Arkansas, home state of Senate Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson, the state and local share was 3.5 per cent; in Mississippi, home state of New Deal Senator Pat Harrison, the state and local contribution was 3.8 per cent; in Tennessee, home state of New Deal Senator Kenneth McKellar, it was 6.6 per cent; in Kentucky, home state of New Deal Keynoter Alben W. Barkley, it was 13.2 per cent; in South Carolina, home state of New Deal Senator James F. Byrnes, it was 0.2 per cent.

Hopkins was asked whether he would confirm reports that Gov. Landon "sold" him the idea of constructing farm ponds for water storage during the drouth of 1934.

"I never heard of it," he snapped. "That must be another one of Mr. Hamilton's brainstorms."

Kansas Serves as Model.

Despite Hopkins' disparagement of the farm pond plan, generally credited to Gov. Landon, an official WPA release today stated that Kansas was serving as a model for the nation in its response to the water conservation program. Evan Griffith, state WPA administrator, reported that 130 dams and pasture ponds had been started and that sites for more than 200 others had been surveyed.

O'BRIEN MOURNS PROFITS; SHRINKS AT $500 ALIMONY

Former Political Power Makes an Offer.

Lawrence C. O'Brien, former state representative, once a Democratic power on the near north side, declared yesterday that he has fallen on hard times. Business is so poor in his enterprises, which include several taverns, that he can afford to pay his estranged wife, Mrs. Irene Loftus O'Brien, and their three children, only $40 a week.

Mr. O'Brien, whose constituents welcomed him home from an income tax evasion term in Leavenworth penitentiary three years ago at a banquet [$2.50 a plate] in the Medinah club, revealed the sorry state of his affairs at a hearing before Master in Chancery Henry L. Burman of the Superior court. The master is hearing evidence in Mrs. O'Brien's suit for separate maintenance in which she asks $500 a month.

Shies at Publicity.

The hearing was secret, and cautious Mr. O'Brien called up Master Burman to find out if any newspaper reporters would be present before he appeared—immaculate in gray flannels and Panama hat. His lawyer, Robert M. Woodward, presented the offer of $40 a week.

"But $500 a month is only what regular household expenses amounted to before Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien separated a month ago," countered Attorney Theodore Hardeen Jr., representing Mrs. O'Brien.

Plagued by Difficulties.

"Forty dollars a week," reiterated Mr. O'Brien.

"But," said Attorney Hardeen, "Mr. O'Brien owns a string of taverns, a trucking business, a beautiful home at 71 Cedar street, and—"

"My client has had numerous difficulties," interrupted Attorney Woodward. Pressed for an explanation of the difficulties, he declined to give details—such a detail, for example, as the fact that Mr. O'Brien no longer is a political power.

Epithets Hurt Business.

When he returned from Leavenworth, where he served 15 months for evading a $100,000 income tax, he found things changed in his bailwick. His old associates, State Senator William J. Connors and Ald. Dorsey Crowe [42d] had formed an alliance, and they now have a good deal to say about affairs in the district.

Running a night life spot on the near north side has its difficulties without their coöperation, especially since Mr. O'Brien has called them a pair of "fat balonies."

IF YOU GO TO BED AT 10 P. M., THEN YOU'RE A TYPICAL AMERICAN

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(AP)—If you usually go to bed around 10 o'clock, your yawn is just one in a sleepy chorus that includes most Americans.

If you celebrate New Year's eve until 6:30 o'clock the next morning, the chances are good that you live in Chicago.

If you and your neighbors are up by 6 o'clock most every morning, it's another fair bet that you are either a farmer or a Californian.

Clews to these and other living habits of persons in different parts of the country were supplied today by a chart prepared for the world power conference, showing the way consumption of electric current goes up and down in a number of "typical" cities.

A squint at the chart, set up in the museum of natural history, indicated many Chicagoans didn't turn off the lights until 6:30 a. m. New Year's day, and didn't get up until 2 o'clock that afternoon.

In Seattle the celebration lasted until 5 a. m., and many folks slept until noon.

Residents of Detroit go to bed later and get up earlier than most other persons, although Californians set the record for early risers. Practically the whole state is up by 6 a. m., it was indicated.

Rochester, N. Y., residents like to tarry over their breakfasts, whereas those in Chicago hurry through the morning meal.

TOURING EXHIBIT TO SHOW FARM LOSS IN IMPORTS

G. O. P. Truck Will Leave for Fairs Today.

A unique traveling exhibit will roll out of Chicago today carrying a graphic message to prairie state farmers on the harmful consequences of the Roosevelt crop reduction schemes. The exhibit, prepared here under the sponsorship of the Republican national committee, consists of a large glass enclosed display case mounted on a motor truck.

Through the display of more than 300 imported articles of foodstuffs, it will illustrate how foreign farmers have found an outlet for their products in the American market to the detriment of the domestic grower.

Resembles Circus Wagon.

The exhibit has been built on the lines of the old circus wagon. One side and the rear is of plate glass. On the other side is mounted a large map of the world showing the numerous countries now sending their farm products into the United States.

The national committee selected the vehicle as an effective means of portraying the story of the results of the New Deal economy of scarcity. The truck will be sent to state and county fairs in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Minnesota, Michigan, and Indiana. The first scheduled stop is at the Marion county fair in Knoxville, Ia., tomorrow. From there it will go to the Missouri State fair at Sedalia for two days.

Carries Loud Speaker.

The truck is equipped with loud speaking apparatus. Francis J. Clair, agricultural economist in charge of the research department of the western division of the Republican national committee, will direct the tour and act as lecturer. The sound equipment will permit amplification of music and radio programs.

Short, pointed messages are printed on the exhibit. They include these: "Republican tarif principles protect American farmers," "American markets support foreigners," "The total value of agricultural products imported into the United States during 1935 amounted to $1,391,099,397."

Products on Display.

A look into the huge display case shows hams, canned beef, chicken, geese, bacon, frankfurters and other meats from Poland, Germany, Denmark, Argentina and Brazil; corn from Argentina and Africa; wheat from Argentina and Australia; dried eggs from China; canned vegetables from France and Italy; vinegar from France and England; oatmeal from Scotland and Ireland; barley from Poland; soy beans and flaxseed from China, and a number of oils from which substitutes for butter and lard are processed.

"This is a traveling exhibition of how the Roosevelt-Tugwell-Wallace agricultural administration programs and policies have given a New Deal to the foreign farmer," said Mr. Clair.

"All of the data used in our compilation has been taken from official government records. We will carry a complete reference library of the records from which the data was taken."

FOUND DEAD OF AUTO FUMES.

Charles Heimbrodt, 40 years old, was found dead of automobile exhaust fumes last night in a garage behind his home at 5423 West 22d place, Cicero. A rubber hose led from the exhaust pipe to his mouth.

What Farmer Lost in 1935 Imports

The following tabulation, showing the large imports of farm products by the United States in 1935 as a result of the Roosevelt crop reduction program was made public yesterday by the Republican national committee. The tabulation is part of a traveling exhibit which will leave Chicago today for a tour of the central west. It shows the importation of thirty-nine agricultural products in 1935, the domestic acreage which would have been required to produce these products, and the American farm population denied the opportunity for self-support because this acreage was not cultivated:

RADIO OPERATOR OFF FOR OCEAN WEATHER STUDY

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Paul Oscaynan, a former operator in Greenland, is on his way to Iceland to open a meteorological radio station for Pan American airways, the air line disclosed today.

Accompanied by his wife, Oscaynan is expected to reach Reykjavik early next week with equipment. He will be stationed there for a year to make observations in Pan American's long range study of northern trans-Atlantic weather conditions, looking to the establishment of a trans-Atlantic air service.

The station at Reykjavik will be the first of a number of stations to be opened by Pan American and follows a two year study of weather conditions by an expedition sent out by the air line.

Oscaynan was radio operator with the University of Michigan Greenland expedition at Mount Evans several years ago. His home is in Richmond, Va.

Grace Vanderbilt Davis Given Wyoming Divorce

Laramie, Wyo., Aug. 20.—(AP)—District Judge Sam M. Thompson of Cheyenne announced here today he had granted a divorce to Mrs. Grace Vanderbilt Davis of New York City from Henry G. Davis, member of C. W. Young & Co., investment counsel firm in New York. Mrs. Davis charged nonsupport. Custody of a 7 year old daughter, Cornelia V. Davis, was granted to the mother. Judge Thompson said a property settlement had been reached out of court.

NIGHT CLUB HOSTESS GOES FREE.

Linda Jackson, 22 years old, 102 East Chestnut street, a night club hostess, was freed of a charge of disorderly conduct yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in Women's court.

TONY LUNCHES ON 366 APPLES; AWAITS DINNER

Hatboro, Pa., Aug. 20.—(AP)—"Tony the Barber" took time out today to eat 366 apples in his shop window.

Two hours and six minutes later [less a nineteen minute pause for photographs] he appraised himself and said: "I feel fine. Why, that's nothing."

The man with the big appetite is Tony De Laurentis, bachelor, 36, who weighs 174 pounds. Three or four hundred persons gaped while he put the apples under his belt at the annual affair.

For breakfast a couple hours earlier he said he had six soft boiled eggs, a pound of fried ham, a quart of wine, half a package of cereal, and three cups of coffee. After he had eaten the apples he said he planned to have a "good dinner" in about two hours.

LANDON PARLEY WITH ROOSEVELT SET FOR SEPT. 1

Des Moines Prepares for Drouth Conference.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Surrounded by Democrats and New Dealers, Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Republican presidential nominee, will sit down on Sept. 1 to confer here with his opponent in the fall election, President Roosevelt.

The governor's office in the Iowa state capitol building will be the scene of the conference which was called by the President to consider drouth conditions in the midwest. Gov. Landon has announced that he will attend the meeting by way of discharging his duty as chief executive of the sunflower state.

Four Democrat Governors.

Four Democratic governors, in addition to Rexford G. Tugwell, head of the National Resettlement administration, will take part in the conference with the two presidential candidates. The governors are Guy B. Park of Missouri, Roy L. Cochran of Nebraska, E. W. Marland of Oklahoma, and Clyde L. Herring of Iowa.

Republican headquarters here today revealed that Gov. Landon has given definite assurance that he would come to Des Moines, although it was said that he has not yet received a formal invitation from President Roosevelt. The President, Gov. Herring said today, will stay in Des Moines all day on Sept. 1 and may stay all night if developments at the conference warant it.

Expect Public Appearance.

President Roosevelt is expected to make a public appearance sometime during the day. The political importance of his doing so becomes apparent when it is estimated that at least 200,000 visitors, most of them Iowa farmers who will be visiting the Iowa state fair at that time, will come to Des Moines for the precedent shattering meeting of the presidential candidates.

Nevertheless, E. H. Birmingham, Democratic state central committeeman, said today that he understood the drouth conference was to be nonpolitical. Birmingham was uncertain as to whether to arrange any special plans in connection with the President's visit.

Republicans Confer.

Carl Cook, chairman of the Iowa Republican state central committee, also was indefinite about G. O. P. plans for Gov. Landon's visit. Republicans held a conference on the situation here this afternoon and planned tomorrow to put the question up to the candidate himself, who will be crossing the state by train.

Gov. Landon is expected to visit Des Moines for a major speech later in the campaign.

CONTINUE RAPE ATTEMPT CHARGE AGAINST YOUTH

A charge of attempted rape against Robert George McIntyre, 19 years old, 5543 Henderson avenue, was continued to Aug. 29 before Justice of the Peace Harry Hoyt in Waukegan yesterday when Miss Marjorie Brucker, 25 years old, 4212 Drake avenue, was unable to appear because of injuries. McIntyre has confessed assaulting Miss Brucker near Fish lake, two miles northwest of Volo in Lake county, while their families were on a picnic on Aug. 9, according to Lake county officials. Miss Brucker incurred a broken jaw and other injuries. She was released yesterday from the Condell Memorial hospital in Libertyville, but will be confined to her home for several more days.

Charles A. Hider, organizer, says that there is a big field in national membership and that as many as half the honorably discharged young men of the CCC camps may be enlisted in the association of veterans.

One of the declared purposes of the organization is to support any party candidates who are in sympathy with the purposes of the organization.

BOLIVIA ORDERS ALL EMPLOYERS, WORKERS TO JOIN SYNDICATES

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The military government of this republic decreed obligatory syndicalization of all employers and employés today.

"Any inhabitant in Bolivian territory, whether man or woman, who participates in any way in the production and distribution of wealth," the first article of the decree ordered, "is obliged to be syndicalized [join a syndicate] under the terms and procedure of the syndicate statute."

The minister of labor said a national registration of syndicates, whether of employés or employers, would be held. Every inhabitant will be registered in a national bureau.

SLATER TELLS PLAN FOR NEW SCHOOL SYSTEM

State Representative Drennan J. Slater [Rep., 6th] said yesterday that the Illinois educational system is due for an "overhauling" when Gov. Horner calls the next special session of the legislature. In a talk before the Kiwanis club at the Hotel Sherman, Slater outlined the new school plan designed to reduce the number of school districts outside Cook county from 12,000 to 400.

A state board of education is to regulate school affairs, appoint a state superintendent of public instruction, and recommend a long range program, he said. He declared the redistricting will spread the burden of taxation more equitably.

"CALVERT BRINGS COOLING RELIEF" IS VERDICT OF JUNGLE TESTS

In a steaming "stew-pot" clearing, 300 miles inland in the heart of Guiana's "Green Hell", the Calvert Expedition sets up camp. Here skin-tests proved beyond doubt that Calvert cools.

Duty Only Skin Deep! The Calvert Expedition had one purpose—to prove that Calvert cools. They did—on the dermatherm, which showed a drop in skin temperature after ingestion of Calvert!

Tropic Wisdom Proved! Findings of the Calvert Expedition backed up the wisdom of tropic peoples, who prefer whiskey 3-to-1. Ecuadorians prefer it 7-to-1. Venezuelans 9-to-1. Chileans as high as 30-to-1.

Amazing skin-tests in steaming Guiana wilds bring out more proof of Calvert whiskey's astounding cooling qualities

Humidity hanging like curtains of steam before your eyes . . . pockets of intense heat lurking in the densest shade . . . this is Guiana's "Green Hell" where the Calvert-financed Expedition spent six long weeks . . . making skin-tests . . . proving beyond doubt that Calvert blended whiskey cools!

You can prove it yourself. Body heat is driven to the skin surface . . . where it dissipates, radiates, evaporates . . . leaves you cool, comfortable. Try Calvert tonight. FORMER MOVIE ACTRESS FIGHTS FOR 2 CHILDREN

Virginia Corbin Sues Mate in Cross-Bill.

Virginia Lee Corbin, 24 years old, who was a juvenile film star ten years ago, began a legal fight yesterday to regain custody of her two children from her husband, Theodore Krol, 35 years old, 4865 Magnolia avenue. The couple separated Friday and Krol filed suit for divorce in the Circuit court, charging his wife with excessive use of liquor and asserting she was unfit to care for the children, Harold Philip, 4 years old, and Robert, 18 months old.

On Wednesday he got an injunction restraining his wife from taking the children to Hollywood and was given their temporary custody. Yesterday Mrs. Krol, who lives at 420 Surf street, filed an answer to her husband's bill, denying his charges. She also filed a cross bill, asking separate maintenance and the custody of the children.

Krol Not in Court.

The former film star, now an attractive young matron, then went before Master in Chancery Samuel Epstein, who is hearing the emergency call for Judge George Fred Rush of the Circuit court. Krol was not in court.

Mrs. Krol testified that Friday she returned to the Surf street apartment to find her husband and "four large, strong and husky" assistants in possession. Krol, she said, previously deserted her when he went to England last May. He and the assistants ejected her and her mother, Mrs. Krol declared.

Mrs. Krol's bill charged also that Krol was engaged in questionable stock dealings in European countries and had been questioned several times by Scotland Yard detectives.

Injunctions Restrain Husband.

Master Epstein issued injunctions restraining Krol from molesting his wife and from taking or sending the children beyond the court's jurisdiction pending full hearing on the case in the fall. Another order restrains Krol from disposing of a $1,000 ermine coat and $300 in cash belonging to his wife. A writ of ne exeat was issued to prevent him from leaving the state.

"What hurts," Mrs. Krol said after the hearing, "is to have the memory of me, still living in the hearts of thousands who saw my pictures as children, sullied by Mr. Krol's charges."

MUMMY OF SLOTH PROVIDES KEY TO FIRST AMERICANS

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Finding of the well mummified remains of an ancient ground sloth—extinct for 1,000 years—and human remains indicating the existence of an American race contemporary with the animal was announced today by the national park service.

The find was made in the lower grand canyon of Arizona. The announcement said it was the first time anything other than the bones of such a creature had been found in this country.

The big animal, resembling a bear, lived 30,000 to 100,000 years ago, the announcement said.

R. Chester Stock of the California Institute of Technology and an associate, E. L. Furlong, went to the scene and confirmed the significance of the find. The human remains were found near a cave in which the mummified animal was unearthed.

"These human remains and pictures on the walls of cave dwellings," said Dr. Stock, "give proof that the earliest American people were contemporary with the sloths."

Missing Girl, 11, Found Living in a Dog House

Sturgis, Mich., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Eleven year old Mildred Saddison, missing from her home for four days, was found today living in a dog house in her own back yard because, she explained, she didn't like housework. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saddison, had enlisted police aid in the search for her. Mildred explained she slept in the dog house at night and left the neighborhood during the day.

KILLER INDICTED; CLEWS IN SECOND SLAYING TRACED

Mrs. Castle's Son to View Suspect Today.

Rufo Swain, alias James Gray, 27 years old, colored policy game operator, was indicted by the grand jury yesterday for the murder of Mrs. Mary Louise Trammell, whom he has confessed to beating to death early last Sunday in her room in the State hotel, 553 South State street.

After the indictment was returned investigators renewed efforts to link the slayer with the murder of Mrs. Florence Thompson Castle, night club hostess, who was fatally beaten in the Devonshire hotel, 19 East Ohio street, on June 19. Mrs. Castle's 7 year old son, James Thompson, who was in the room and said he witnessed the assault, declared the slayer was a "dark man."

Boy Will View Suspect.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, requested that the victim's son be brought here from Detroit to view the suspect. A message was sent to Detroit police asking them to find the boy and his grandmother, Mrs. Bert Thompson of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., who are reported to be visiting there, and have them return here. They are expected to arrive today.

Meanwhile, Swain was taken to Mrs. Castle's room. After her murder the message "Black Legon Game" was found on the dresser mirror in her room. The Thompson boy said his mother's assailant had written it with lipstick. Swain wrote the same message yesterday, assuming the position supposedly taken by the killer. H. A. Rounds, a handwriting expert, reported the original writing on the mirror and Swain's script had similar characteristics.

Rounds asked for further samples of the prisoner's handwriting to complete his tests and will make a report today. Capt. Gilbert at the same time ordered detectives with photographs of Swain to canvass the immediate vicinity of the Devonshire hotel to learn whether he had been seen there about the time of the Castle murder.

Alibi Is Broken Down.

Swain at first denied that he ever "operated north of Lake street." Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers announced last evening that this alibi was broken down by investigators. Swain admitted working for a coal company on the north side. Suspicion that Swain might be connected with Mrs. Castle's death came from a notebook identified as his. It was found on the fire escape of the State hotel and contained the notation "Hotel Berksh—." The Berkshire hotel adjoins the Devonshire.

It had been planned to arraign Swain on the Trammell murder indictment in the Criminal court this morning, but this will be postponed while the investigation continues in the Castle case.

PICNIC DEATH HELD MANSLAUGHTER.

A verdict of manslaughter by unidentified persons was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury which investigated the death of Dominick Irpino, 39 years old, 800 South Bishop street. Irpino was fatally beaten in a fight at a picnic in Melrose Park on July 12.

Moving Forward

Marshall Field & Company presents here each day observations and opinions intended to be of interest and value to those it seeks to serve.

Interesting CHICAGO
No. 2. The Field Museum

By CALEB

THE scene is an African water hole. A stately, sixteen foot giraffe—at the head of his family—recoils from a rhinoceros seated in the ooze, grumbling viciously at being disturbed.

Zebras nervously approach from another direction. A baby gazelle, with legs as slender and delicate as reeds, pauses before her mother. Guinea fowls beyond the tall termite nests anxiously wait their turn.

A soft haze is settling over the earth. The dust of the twilight distance softens the daytime shimmer of the sands.

Every one of the twenty-three animals in the scene is conscious of the day's hazards—now multiplied at the water hole. There are few amenities in Southern Abyssinia's wild life.

•

•

THIS is one of the Field Museum's 90 natural habitat exhibits. Nowhere in the world will you see anything superior, for here in hall after hall are animals postured and surrounded as they were in life. Every leaf and twig, every blade of grass, every stick and stone is here to make a picture true to Nature. These faithful foregrounds blend imperceptibly into painted backgrounds done with consummate artistry.

To attempt to represent the Field Museum by detailing a single exhibit or group of exhibits is like representing Chicago with a single square block. The inadequacy is evident. For in a few hours at the Field Museum you may skip blithely over the surface of much of man's knowledge of all that has been done in a billion years—by both man and Nature.

Many people cross continents to see far less than this—an encyclopedia come to life, of geology, botany, zoology, and anthropology, all laboriously and exquisitely built into three dimensional being.

There is something fatefully consistent in the fact that Marshall Field, who searched the world for merchandise, should have been the founder of this summary, on Chicago's doorstep, of world knowledge.

REPORT KILLING OF PORTUGUESE CHIEF IN REVOLT

Spain Menaced by 16 German Warships.

quences growing out of repetitions or a similar incident."

The Nazi government controled press dropped all restraint in treating the Kamerun incident and the Spanish civil war. Many newspapers used such a headline as this: "Red Spanish Pirates Search German Steamer in Open Waters."

Claim Russia Started War.

At the same time blasts were directed at soviet Russia. It was charged that the leaders of the Madrid government are "prisoners of the soviet, awaiting the arrival of Fascists to release them."

Many details were printed to convince the nation that the civil war was started by Moscow and that the Spaniards would not dare search a German ship unless they knew the bolsheviks would back them up.

The chance for German acceptance of neutrality proposals by France and Great Britain was considered, meantime, to have been all but destroyed by the Kamerun affair. It was reported that Hitler would demand apologies from Spain before he would consider entering any sort of arms embargo pact. It was admitted, however, that negotiations are continuing.

BAR RED REGIME IN SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 20.—It was reported here tonight that both Italy and Germany have made it known through diplomatic channels that they will not allow establishment of a Red régime in Spain.

Such a decision would exercise a vital influence on the course of events in Europe and portends formal recognition of the insurgent provisional government at Burgos by Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini.

The Madrid government's action in declaring a blockade over certain areas of the Spanish and Moroccan coasts and the German threat to use force to prevent a repetition of the so-called "Kamerun incident" has introduced a potentially dangerous complication in the international situation, in the view of official circles here.

Considerable doubt exists concerning the validity of Madrid's claim to establish a blockade. Decrees to this effect were published in Madrid Aug. 9 and 10, but the British government so far has refused to recognize them.

The grounds on which exceptions are taken to the Spanish claim are that no government—not even Madrid—has yet recognized the rebels as belligerents. It is doubtful, moreover, whether the Spanish government possesses sufficient ships to enforce the blockade. Both of these are essential requirements of international law.

In official circles here the view is apparently taken that the boarding of the Kamerun was a breach of international law and that the German protest is justified.

Duce to Show Off Allies.

[Copyright: 1936: By the Associated Press.]

ROME, Aug. 20.—Premier Mussolini tonight kept his country "in readiness" on land and in the air, as Fascist leaders watched the struggle between Spanish Fascist-rebels and loyalist forces for control of Madrid.

A picture of united central European military coöperation will be presented to the world by Il Duce at the annual war maneuvers beginning at Avellino next Tuesday, military sources said.

Special military missions will be sent to Italy for the maneuvers by Germany, Poland, Austria, Hungary, and Albania, these sources added. Other nations are to be represented only by their military attachés in Rome.

With soldiers marching in Italy a press ministry statement reiterated Fascist assertions that an Italo-French neutrality agreement on the Spanish war is "near."

U. S. TURNS DOWN BID BY URUGUAY TO PEACE CONFERENCE ON SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—The United States tonight turned down the bid of Uruguay to a proposed conference of nations of the western hemisphere to work out a proposal for peace in Spain.

In declining, William Phillips, acting secretary of state, said the United States is committed to the principle of non-interference in the internal affairs of other countries.

Brazil, Peru, Mexico, and Argentina also have declined the Uruguayan invitation.

Argentina Acts on Prisoners.

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Argentine government, it was announced tonight by a foreign affairs department official, has taken action to arrange the exchange of civil prisoners in the Spanish civil war.

SPANISH SAILORS TAKE WAR TO SHIP IN MEXICAN PORT

VERA CRUZ, Mexico, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports today said several sailors aboard the Spanish steamer Magallanes were wounded in a political clash aboard the ship, lying in dock here, last night.

The reports coincided with others, published in Mexico City, to the effect several carloads of munitions, destined for the Spanish government, were to be placed aboard the ship today. The Magallenas has been tied up here for several days under orders from the Madrid government.

FRENCH OPEN WAR GAMES IN EAST; EYE 3 FRONTIERS

PARIS, Aug. 20.—(AP)—France divided her attention between her German, Spanish, and Italian frontiers today as troops started the most extensive war maneuvers the army has undertaken in years.

More than 100,000 men will be deployed in the mock combat which opened when 40,000 troops launched a two day "battle" against "invaders" in the east. The games started in the Montmedy zone for the first time since the Maginot line of fortifications was extended to protect France against attack through Luxembourg.

Claim Decisive Victories on Mountain Front.

[Copyright: 1936: By the Associated Press.]

MADRID, Aug. 20.—Loyalist forces, in a desperate effort to break the narrowing semi-circle around Madrid, battled fiercely tonight to drive a wedge between northern and southern rebel armies.

The government hurled a vast force into two major battles in an effort to open a corridor from Madrid to the Portuguese border through rebel-held territory.

While the thunder of war broke almost within earshot of the capital, several members of the United States embassy drove during the night to Escorial to investigate reports that an unidentified American had been held prisoner there since the civil war began.

Two Decisive Victories Claimed.

The two crucial engagements were fought in the Guadarrama sector, northest of Madrid. Loyalists declared they had strengthened their positions on all fronts in the mountainous battlefront about 40 miles from Madrid.

They claimed two decisive victories over large enemy forces in the vicinity of Navalperal and Peguerinos in a government drive against the walled city of Avila. The insurgents, they said, suffered heavy losses and fled before advancing loyalist columns.

Government forces in the south claimed to have taken the town of Don Benito, east of Merida, and to be preparing to storm Merida itself, an important railroad junction for Estremadura.

The Madrid defenders appeared to have ended their retreat from Estremadura [western Spain], about 100 miles from the vicinity of Badajoz. Navalmoral de la Mata, scene of a fierce battle, was reported in flames, with rebels beating a hasty retreat before victorious government troops.

[Reports, however, from rebel sources near the Portuguese border said the government under Col. Julio Mangada met defeat at Navalmoral.]

The government claimed rebel columns were routed also from Alia, farther south.

Alia was claimed as a great strategic victory, giving government forces command of almost the entire mountain range in Estremadura, ancient Spanish province, which includes several present provinces in the vicinity.

Irun Bombed by Rebels.

IRUN, Spain, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Three 100 pound explosive bombs were dropped in the center of Irun tonight by a tri-motored rebel airplane. The populace was panic-stricken, but no casualties were reported immediately.

One of the bombs ripped through the roof of a building and demolished a café.

In an apparent effort to sever communications to and from the besieged city the same plane later dropped bombs on the Irun-San Sebastian highway.

As the city shook with detonations loyalist forces outside were firing forests in efforts to halt rebel advances from the hills.

[At Rabat, French Morocco, today a Spanish rebel broadcast from Seville said Fort Guadalupe had been captured by insurgents in the Irun-San Sebastian sector.]

Begin Attack on Palma.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BARCELONA, Aug. 20.—Land and air bombardment of Palma, Balearic Isles, was begun today by Catalonian government forces. All American and other foreign vessels had left the harbor in response to a message transmitted to them by Capt. Bayon, commander of the Catalonian expedition. Additional troops were landed, and the government front in Mallorca is now said to extend sixty miles.

Rebel Plane Bombs Troops.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

HENDAYE, France, Aug. 20.—Spanish government forces which landed in Mallorca yesterday were surprised by a rebel airplane. The machine bombed the troop ships and warships of their escort.

The government ships scattered, each taking a zigzag course. Transports which had lain at Cape Denamar for several days are believed to have dispersed, leaving only one ship to embark the survivors of the government column. The hospital ship Ciudad de Tarragonia is en route to Mahon on Minorca, with 300 wounded.

FRENCH BALK MOVE BY HOMELESS SPANISH LINER TO FIND HOME

SAINT NAZAIRE, France, Aug. 20. (AP)—The homeless Spanish liner Cristobal Colon tried to find a home tonight, but French port authorities wouldn't let her. They turned thumbs down on a reported attempt by the leftist crew to put the liner at the disposal of the Madrid socialist government.

Saint Nazaire officials intercepted a message saying "Cristobal Colon calling Madrid" which had been sent by the ship's radio in an effort to reach the Spanish government station.

Port officials immediately warned the crew committee of control which passes on all the captain's orders that French law prevents foreign ships in French ports from using radios. Only 120 passengers were left aboard and they were penniless, and dependent on the crew for their food and welfare.

Idle Total Drops to 206 in Finland; New Low Mark

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 20.—Unemployment in Finland has reached a new low water mark, according to reports today from labor exchanges. The exchanges assert that only 206 workers in the whole country are actually unemployed, including 171 women and 35 men. The decline in unemployment is traced to the recent boom in several industries, including the building trades. Many trades are registering a great shortage of labor. The population of Finland is 3,667,067.

MADRID BATTLES FOE WITH MONEY SENT TO MOORS

Aims at Uprising to Knife Rebel Army in Back.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TANGIER, Aug. 20.—Efforts as dangerous as they are desperate and sensational are being made to knife Gen. Francisco Franco, commander in chief of the Spanish rebels, in the back.

There is only one absolutely sure way of stopping the advance of that invading force which is wading in blood on the road to Madrid, and that is an attack from the rear. The only effective attack at the rear at this stage would be a rising of the Moroccan tribes.

The Madrid government—and other agencies—are working toward this end, spending vast sums of money with the tribes.

Two Objectives.

The campaign—in which the Madrid government is not acting entirely alone—has a double aim: first, to block the recruiting of Moroccans for the columns that are battering the republic, and second, to raise the tribes in revolt against the military clique at Tetuan, Spanish Morocco.

In the first objective there is only failure to register. Five thousand recruits—15,000 is the goal—have been won to the rebels by a down payment of 200 pesetas [about $26] on enlistment and the promise to pay 10 pesetas a day and loot. They are now in training camps at El Fondak on the highway between Tangier, Tetuan and Melilla.

Recruiting in the Riff country is easy this year because of the bad crop.

Pasha of Alkazar Threatened.

Only in the western reaches of the zone has Madrid's astonishing campaign of subversion proved effective. The powerful pasha of Alkazar was thrown in jail by Gen. Franco's officers and threatened with execution unless he raises the prohibition on his people to enlist in the rebel ranks. Five prominent native officials in the western part of the zone already have been shot, it is learned, and six others are breaking stones on the highways with other loyalist prisoners.

The millions of pesetas that have been poured into the zone in the last ten days have come from several sources. And it is interesting to note who would benefit by a rising in the zone.

First, of course, the Madrid government, because it would not only constitute a grave threat to Gen. Franco's rear, but possibly would spread to his Moorish troops now on the mainland.

French Would Benefit.

Then there are the French. Normally France would do its best to scotch the slightest sign of trouble among the tribes lest it spread to French Morocco. But if there were trouble in the Spanish zone now it would necessitate the intervention of the five French battalions from Algeria which now are massed on the frontier. This intervention could be effected on the "invitation" of the Spanish republic.

It is recalled that during the world war the French even occupied Tangier. Occupation by the French would, of course, prevent Gen. Franco from inviting any powers that are friendly to him to assure order, a thing they would be glad to do if they were ready to take the consequences.

A third agency long active in Morocco is the communists. Communist agents from Barcelona have spent huge sums on Moorish nationalists in recent months. Now they would be able to spend the money on a cause which, if it did not go too far, would redound to the benefit of Socialist-governed France.

Madrid and allied agencies are playing to nationalist sentiment. Although the republic promised much in 1931, it has given little. Now promises of the wildest sort are being made.

Franco was on Spain's old Praetorian guard that made its living by fighting Morocco ever since 1909. As dictator of Spain he would allow no leeway to Moroccan nationalists, and moreover they fear that some even less sympathetic power might direct their destinies if it did not actually acquire what is now the Spanish zone.

At the beginning of his rebellion Franco promised them lots, but made the fatal error of trying to collect in advance a tax which Moroccans find onerous, namely, the head tax on live stock. Normally they were months behind in payment, but Franco, needing funds, put on the screws. Moreover, they are sorely troubled by the obvious fact that their caliph's objections against the Moors being sent to fight Spaniards were overridden.

Balked in Creating Moor Militia.

Gen. Franco met serious reverses in trying to create a Moorish militia with which to garrison the zone if and when he manages to take the rest of his troops to the mainland. He appointed a Moor of great prestige, Si Dniss Riffi, not only to recruit and organize an armed militia, but made him responsible for the tribes thus armed. He told him, in fact, he would shoot him if he failed, or make him grand vizier if he succeeded.

Si Dniss Riffi came to Tangier to meditate and is still here.

Franco made the same proposition to two others, Caid Zellal, in the west, and Caid Sliman El Khattabi, in the east, who likewise declined, not willing to accept the responsibility for any adventure the tribes might embark on once they were armed. The caids know how much money is being spent to produce rebellion in the zone.

Fear Trouble in Tangier.

Both Gen. Franco and the republic are handicapped by the fact that one man who knows how to sway the tribes, Gen. Ferdinando Capaz, who conquered Ifni, now is in prison in Madrid, caught when the revolt broke prematurely.

Fear is expressed in loyalist circles here that Franco and his allies will attempt to provoke trouble in Tangier itself to justify intervention by some power. The first power in is the power that will stay. Forewarned is forearmed.

Tangier has become a hotter spot, if that is possible, than on the eve of the world war. The place teems with spies. Intrigues go on that a third rate novelist would be ashamed to invent. The dance gardens at night play Austrian waltzes, but in the harbor gray cruisers lie watching and in the straits now and then passes the flying swastika.

Aver Franco Pro-German.

Friends of Gen. Franco claim that he is more pro-German than Italian. They insist that as a patriot he would give away no Spanish territory to either, but add, "Why would the Italians, or Germans, for that matter, want bases, the taking of which would mean war, if they could at any time use the bases that, with their money, Franco would build?"

Italy is installed in the Spanish zone already to all intents. The German's chief aim anyway is not to secure an ally in Spain but to maneuver her in a position of hostile neutrality to France, as during the world war, thus greatly hindering transport of French troops from Africa.

Spanish Morocco is on the market. The republic five years ago wanted to abandon it, but the French, fearful of international complications, begged it to hold on. A victorious republic now will have very little left and surely won't want to stay, even if it could, which is doubtful. A victorious Franco? He's got it mortgaged one way or another already.

An item last Sunday said that Geneva Jackson was the soloist for the Negro chorus which sang "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" at the Chicagoland Music Festival. The soloist was Geneva Williams. Morris Craig Peterson won second place in the song composition contest, not Miss Mollie Craig Peterson, as was reported. It was also erroneously reported that Ellsworth Donner of Madison, Wis., who placed third in the adult drum major competition, was an entry from the East High school of Madison.

WAR TO DEPRIVE SALAD PLATES OF SPANISH OLIVES

The salad plate is likely to be barren of Spanish green and stuffed olives this winter even if the civil war in Spain should be ended soon. Oscar Wolff of M. Wolff & Sons, importers, yesterday exhibited two cablegrams which told of a complete tieup of shipments and explained that if the present crop is not picked within a month the olive and olive oil dearth probably will last a year and a half.

"Workers have quit the groves to take up arms and the crop is in danger of being wiped out by neglect," Mr. Wolff said.

One cablegram, from the import letter of credit department of a large bank, said the Madrid government has forbidden the export of all foods.

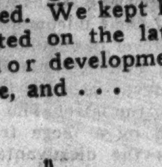
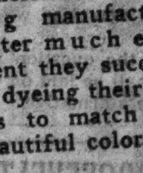
How did we know? Here's the Story of Suede:

We explored all possible fashion angles early this spring. We agreed with Vogue and Harper's fashion scouts that SUEDE would be the big story for fall 1936.

We promptly rushed our leather expert to Europe. He spent weeks selecting the skins to be made into the finest Italian gloves. He saved you 30% on these gloves through exchange alone. Then he flew to Grenoble and Millau for the finest French gloves produced. We kept him posted on the latest color developments here, and . . .



He counter-checked with the correct colors from Parisian designers and sent them back by fast express to our American shoe and bag manufacturers. After much experiment they succeeded in dyeing their leathers to match these beautiful colors.



Vitality Shoe designers made excellent use of this fashion and color information. They designed these new fall shoes along the same smart lines of $25 and even higher originals.

IN TORTURED SPAIN.

A French Sorbonne professor who has just left Spain after fifteen years in the chair of jurisprudence at the University of Barcelona tells of conditions in that city which will somewhat complicate the simple conception most Americans have of the Spanish situation. This conception is fair enough as far as it goes, but it doesn't go very far. It is expressed in the terms applied for convenience by the foreign correspondents to the main forces in conflict, rebels and loyalists. This implies two parties, two united bodies with harmonious principles and purposes, a party loyal to the government and therefore dubbed in foreign dispatches loyalists; a party determined to overthrow the existing government and substitute their own form, dubbed rebels.

The conception is far too simple and offers a very poor basis for speculation upon the future course of events. Probably the rebels represent a greater harmony of views and intentions than the loyalists. Both are united in hatred and opposition to the other. The army officers who started the revolt undoubtedly have a common purpose, to get the government of Spain into their control. They are supported by Moroccans of the colonial army and the "foreign legion" which are not troubled with political doctrins or any responsibilities for the fate of the Spanish people. Apparently they are united in soldierly obedience, the hope of loot and the joy of fighting. The rebels are supported by the classes in Spain whose privileges and property have been abolished or reduced since the fall of the monarchy and whose religion and social, political, and economic ideas the forces of the revolution repudiate. Whatever differences may exist among them are fused for the moment in the effort to overthrow a common enemy or more precisely a group of coöperating enemies. They are not likely to appear until the war is over one way or another. If victory is won they may assert themselves, monarchist against republican, extremist against moderate. The army hierarchy expects to be master, but even there we may foresee the conflict of individual and factional ambitions.

On the other hand the so-called loyalists. They are composed of bitter enemies united for the moment in the conflict with the rebel forces. They represent the defense of the existing government, but it is a government to which their loyalty is very weak and unstable, a product of political expediency, patched up in an impromptu of parliamentary tactics and held together by no enduring common convictions. The present bond is hatred of the rebels, the army, the church and the ruling classes of the old order.

But within this frame the forces of division, it seems, are even in this crisis violently working. The French professor's report is illuminating. In Barcelona, a stronghold of extreme radicalism, the Syndicalists are murdering one another. The Iberian Anarchist federation, its ally the National Confederation of Labor, the Workers' Party for Marxist Unification and the General Workers' party are at one another's throat. Riding to the railway station on his way out, the professor and his wife were startled by the crash of glass. It was a member of the U. G. T. [General Workers' party] shooting at the conductor, who was a member of the F. A. I. [Iberian Anarchist Federation.] The "solidarity" of the working class evidently is badly cracked in Spain.

"Barcelona," says the professor, "and in even greater measure small towns in the province, are one vast jungle of vendettas and personal feuds where no person's life is safe for one minute. Thousands of convicts, liberated from prison, roam the streets and districts, and some of them have been made officials in various communist parties. The hordes now in charge in Catalonia resemble sewer rats come up for air . . ."

As for the "loyalist" army control, disputes raging between the communist factions have been extended to the command of the Saragossa army. Sixteen year old untrained youngsters are being sent to the front in rags to join an army with sixteen caliber cartridges for twelve caliber guns and vice versa."

Even before the army revolt the current was running with apparently increasing force in the direction of communism or anarchy, and the elements of moderation and civilized stability seemed to be losing ground. The prospect was darkening and, despite the distrust and dislike of free peoples for military intervention, it is not unreasonable to view the army officers' revolt as an effort to prevent the chaos described by the French observer in Barcelona.

Whether conditions in any other part of Spain are quite as bad as in Catalonia may be doubted. Differences of racial, economic and social conditions are great in Spain, but we have plenty of information that the restraints of civilized order and even of ordinary humanity have been torn to shreds throughout the country and that what began as a justifiable effort to do away with ancient tyrannies has been turned into the greatest of all tyrannies, anarchy.

Men have never been able to endure that tyranny longer than it was possible to end it, and they have always had to end it by another tyranny, any tyranny strong enough to bring back order.

WHY THERE IS FEAR, MR. FARLEY.

An individual has borrowed money to build himself a house. Although heavily in debt he can still borrow and in spite of the fact that for a long time he has been known to be spending a great deal more than his income. One of his workers set forty-two stones in a week. The setting of each stone cost $3.27. A cabin worth $2,000 cost our citizen $14,000. A shelter house cost over $5,000 and was without a roof or floor.

Our citizen paid $6 a cubic yard for crushed stone which his neighbors could get for 55 cents. Everything he did was on this scale. When he was asked why he did such strange things he said he had figured out that this was the way to the more abundant life. He was growing prosperous. He was providing social security for himself. He expected to be the envy of the community. He would show a lot of people that they had been stuck in the mud. He was never short of funds. There was plenty more where he got it. He was showing the proper spirit the way he used it.

Some people would say that there was a good deal wrong with our citizen's ideas. They wouldn't be astonished if they turned out to be wrong and that something very disagreeable happened. John Stapleton, city engineer of Bloomington, Monroe county, Ind., says that the above is a part picture of what he has discovered of New Deal work there. The figures are taken from the costs sheets.

Mr. Hopkins is doing work of this sort in every part of the country. It is not an isolated piece of craziness in one spot. It's the Rooseveltian idea of what to do with the already insufficient national revenue and the proceeds of the inflated national indebtedness.

Mr. Farley rebukes the purveyors of fear. With what other feelings could any sensible people observe what is going on? There is a growing fear, Mr. Farley. Mr. Roosevelt, not Gov. Landon, is spreading it.

MODERN MIRACLE.

The Motor Coach company announces with pride that twenty-five of its new double-decked buses have been delivered and are in service on the south and west sides. A hundred have been ordered. As more of them are received they will be sent to the north side lines. Forty-five new single-deckers have also been ordered. By winter the company promises to have a total of 196 new buses on the streets.

This is magnificent, colossal, a triumph. It means that during the part of the day when there isn't much bus riding the passengers will travel for the most part in modern buses. It means that in the part of the day when most of the fares are collected scores of the old buses will still be used, buses which offer that combination of noise, stench, and a violent Swedish massage which the company has been selling to its customers in lieu of a transportation service.

Congratulations are in order. Over a period running into years the coach company has been promising its customers that modern equipment lay just beyond the next bump. It has taken the company longer to get twenty-five reasonably modern double-deckers than it took Henry Ford to retool his factory and sell a million cars. Not bad. Not bad.

WHAT NEXT, RAILWAYS?

As might be expected in a year of drouth and campaign, press items continue to pour in from the east, west, and south to convey conflicting opinions of things agricultural and political. On two accounts, however, there is agreement. Temperatures have been unusually high and the only escape from blistering heat is to be found in the air-conditioned trains of the railways. Where a Pullman berth was formerly regarded as a necessary inconvenience in which to roll around among the cinders and seek a fitful slumber with morning bringing the blessings of relief, one now looks forward to the experience as the desert traveler to an oasis.

What next, railways? To be sure, a rumor has been printed that streamlined "Broadways" and "Centuries" are not far away, but no definite announcement of a new or renovated service has been forthcoming for months. There are a number of routes of heavy travel that have not received the attention of that schedule maker with the sharp pencil, as well as several railways that have not entered the arena with modernized trains. The public has been deeply stirred by your efforts and showed enthusiastic support during Railway week. Don't let interest lag. The true showman is continually producing novelty from his sleeve.

Editorial of the Day

IT DOESN'T MAKE SENSE.

[Cairo (Ill.) Evening Citizen.]

Secretary Wallace of the department of agriculture now urges the importation of corn to make good the shortage in feeds.

Of course the shortage in feed, he says, isn't as great as it might be because we haven't so many pigs and cows as we might have.

Even this Alice in Wonderland New Deal hasn't provided many such naive admissions as this.

After plowing under grain our grain shortage isn't as bad as it might be because we killed off so many pigs and cows. On that basis, if we would kill off some more cows and pigs and throw them into fertilizer vats, we wouldn't have to import any corn. This would "rectify" the mistake of plowing under so much corn and wheat and paying farmers not to raise crops.

Why not extend this policy?

Why not buy up a couple of million automobiles to stimulate production, destroy them, and then import cars from England and France to make good the shortage?

Or why not have the government buy up a lot of steel mills, dismantle them, and then buy steel from Germany? The Nazi government would doubtless welcome that plan.

The blundering stupidity of the New Deal in this country during the last four years would be a screamingly funny farce if it didn't threaten to become such a grim tragedy. Here we are with idle acres, idle farmers and idle capital, destroying the products of the soil, and then importing them from abroad while prices to the consumer soar.

It is suggestive of nothing but little Johnny taking the family clock apart to see what makes it go and sitting on the floor with all the works strewn around him.

REMINISCENCES.

Back in the eighties women wore dresses with panniered skirts, the panniers richly embroidered. Sometimes a lady who was an artist painted the flowers on hers, but this was not considered good taste. Some women of uncertain age wore corkscrew curls, a fashion of their girlhood, and this has remained the cartoonists' idea of an old maid ever since. Women had figures then—big hips and big busts—and "flat chested old maid" was a derogatory expression. A standard article of costume for the middle aged woman was the black alpaca dress.

In summer the men wore black alpaca coats. The "Sunday best," and everyday, too, was a suit of diagonal black, with a cutaway coat and a boiled shirt, all crowned by a black derby hat. In lieu of garters we twisted the sock top into a knot at one side and turned it under, but it had a habit of coming loose and falling down over our shoes. We used to save our old socks [considered a vulgar word] for wash rags. The old men still wore underwear of a shade that drives a bull mad, but we youngsters were "out of the red."

DODGING HEAT FATIGUE.

We still have many hot days ahead of us and in some parts of the country the first week in September is the hottest. Therefore we must not relax our vigilance in avoiding the discomfort of warm weather. It will not be possible for every one to get away to a mountain resort or to go on an ocean voyage, and hence we must take advantage of every possible method of dodging heat fatigue.

Whenever we use the ordinary fever thermometer we place it under the tongue, close the lips for two minutes, then remove the instrument. If we are in good health the reading will be approximately 98.6 degrees Fahrenheit. But we must not regard this as a measure of the exact heat of all of our organs. We know, for example, that while the mucous membrane of the mouth is 98.6 degrees yet the liver may vary from 102 to 105 degrees Fahrenheit. Activity [muscular exercise] increases oxidation just as food poured into the liver from the intestines raises the temperature of that organ.

Short periods of rest—ten to fifteen minutes—in the shade will permit one to carry on with safety, as it allows the heat within the muscles to be dissipated and hence aids the body to cool. Wrap a damp towel about the head or around the throat and note its effect, particularly if one can be where the air is moving slightly—not in a forced draft such as in front of an electric fan.

During warm weather the skin capillaries dilate quickly, which accounts for rapid flushing of the face, even on moderate exercise. Thus the hands of some people will swell on hot days, the face in others, and the ankles in still others. While this symptom should not be disregarded in cold weather, yet during torrid spells it is usually a sign that a large amount of blood has accumulated in the surface layers of the skin, increasing the activity of the sweat glands. This is really an attempt on the part of nature to force evaporation.

Many experiments have been made on the effects of foods upon comfort and it has been found that there is but little difference whether they are served hot or cold. It is purely a question of quantity and of kind. If the same amount of food is eaten when the temperature is at 90 degrees Fahrenheit as is taken routinely when it is below freezing, four out of ten persons will become ill. Starchy foods are burned up easily and supply heat units quickly, while fats are utilized less readily.

As a rule, most of us desire less food during the summer. The reason is that the digestive organs slow down a bit. They seem to want a vacation or at least a letup. The one who consumes three full meals each day during hot weather will suffer far more than he who eats moderately—one-half the normal winter average. Why operate the furnace in the house at full tilt when the outside temperature is 90 degrees?

It is well to follow nature. During the growing season trees, shrubs, and plants supply us with fruits and vegetables which—while palatable and tasty—contain but little nutriment. A good part of the late summer diet should be cooked cereals, fruits, vegetables served as salads, with a moderate helping of meat once a day. Because of excess perspiration watery fruits may be taken in greater quantities and orange and lemon juice used freely.

There may be objectors to the daily bath, but certainly none in the warmer season of the year. The kidneys and the other excretory organs of the body are protected and spared whenever the sweat glands are active. This waste material must be washed off the skin or an unhealthy condition may develop. A shower or tub bath—yes—but a sponge bath will do, and every one can indulge. Use warm or tepid water with soap and rinse thoroughly with cool water. Remember that in the summertime the skin is the chief outlet for body wastes and it must be kept clean.

LARGE VEINS.

I. M. O. writes: What causes large veins in a young woman's hands and arms? She has always worked hard—laundry, milking cows, etc. Could this be responsible? She is underweight and slightly nervous.

REPLY.

Housework or work on a farm or in the fields may affect the skin of the hands and arms. Unusually prominent veins indicate that the return circulation is not quite up to par. But then again the symptom may mean nothing. With most of us the veins on the backs of the hands will bulge whenever the arms are lower than the heart.

ARTHRITIS.

L. P. writes: 1. Can an infected tooth give rise to arthritis? 2. If arthritis is caused by pus somewhere in the system, why does a dry, warm climate cure arthritis? 3. What becomes of the diseased tooth?

REPLY.

1. Yes.
2. A dry, warm climate is a valuable aid in the management of arthritis, but it will have little effect unless the focus of infection is removed.
3. It will continue to cause trouble until removed.

CREAM IN COFFEE.

O. M. writes: A friend claims that several doctors told her not to use cream in her coffee. Since cream and coffee are both wholesome, why should they be harmful when mixed?

REPLY.

A moderate amount of coffee with cream will do no harm. It should be said, however, that some persons have trouble digesting cooked fats and they may experience distress after drinking coffee to which a sizable amount of cream has been added. Placing cream in very hot coffee "cooks" the cream.

PROBABLY SHOES.

L. W. writes: I have a boy 8½ years old. About two years ago I noticed that both of his toes overlap on top of his next toe and at times are painful with his shoes on. What caused them to become this way, and is there any chance of straightening them?

REPLY.

Cramped toes are caused commonly by ill fitting shoes. Since your boy is still growing, wider shoes may solve the difficulty. If there is actual deformity of the bones a physician should be consulted.

The Question of Taxing Exports

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 21, 1787.—In convention. [Governour Livingston of New Jersey from the committee of eleven, to whom was referred the propositions respecting the debts of the several states and also the militia, made a report that the United States should have the power to fulfill the engagements entered into by the congress of the United States, and to discharge as well the debts of the several states incurred during the late war and to make laws for organizing, arming, and disciplining the militia, which report was ordered to lie on the table.]

Article VII., section four. Mr. Langdon of New Hampshire: By this section the states are left at liberty to tax exports. New Hampshire therefore, with other nonexporting states, will be subject to be taxed by the states exporting its produce. This could not be admitted. It seems to be feared that the northern states will oppress the trade of the south. Mr. Ellsworth of Connecticut: It is best as it stands. The power of regulating trade between the states will protect them against each other. There are solid reasons against congress taxing exports. There are indeed but a few articles that could be taxed at all, as tobacco, rice, and indigo, and a tax on these would be partial and unjust.

Mr. Williamson: North Carolina has been taxed by Virginia by a duty on 12,000 hundreds of her tobacco exported through Virginia, yet he would never agree to this power. Should it take place it would destroy the last hope of an adoption of the plan. Mr. Gouverneur Morris of Pennsylvania: These local considerations ought not to impede the general interest. There is great weight in the argument that the exporting states will tax the produce of their uncommercial neighbors. The power of regulating the trade between Pennsylvania and New Jersey will never prevent the former from taxing the latter. The advantages possessed by a large trading city outweigh the disadvantages of a moderate duty.

Mr. Wilson: Pennsylvania exports the produce of Maryland, New Jersey, and Delaware, and will, by and when the River Delaware is opened, export for New York. In favoring the general power over exports therefore he opposed the particular interest of his state. Mr. Gerry of Massachusetts: It will enable the general government to oppress the states as much as Ireland is oppressed by Great Britain. Col. Mason of Virginia: He went on to a principle often advanced and in which he concurred, that a majority when interested will oppress the minority.

On the question so far as to "no tax shall be laid on exports," it passed in the affirmative.

URBS IN HORTO.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Like many others who live on the north side I walk to the loop, and I want to express my appreciation of the efforts of the gardener who has kept the little park around the water tower in such wonderful condition all summer and made of it a real beauty spot.

Lake Shore drive and North Michigan avenue is about the only real promenade of which Chicago can boast. The people who have shops along here have a big asset in the appearance of the street itself, which is like a shopping street of Paris. Everything possible should be done to enhance this value.

The grass in the parkways this year is in very bad shape, and this is not due to lack of water, as men water them daily. I am told by a person who knows about these things that the park is using a very inferior grade of grass seed containing a lot of weeds.

In front of 640 North Michigan is a lawn which the building itself cares for. I am informed they bought the seed from A Century of Progress. The difference between this lawn and the one next door in front of the Woman's Athletic club is very noticeable and also shows what the park could do if it wanted to.

At 670 North Michigan there is a most unusual and interesting garden which attracts a lot of attention. Amy Benson.

WAR SERVICES COMPARED.

Stronghurst, Ill., Aug. 18.—I could only think in reading Chairman McCauley's vicious attack on the war record of President Roosevelt at Veterans' day, State fair, Springfield, that in comparing the President's record with that of Mousey Landon he should have informed himself as to just what Landon's services were.

I read that Gov. Landon entered the service and was stationed at a training camp for five months. Then the war ended and he came home.

Of course, the duties of assistant secretary of the navy would not entail the deep responsibilities or heavy work that lying around a training camp for five months would, so Landon is much more worthy of high regard than is President Roosevelt.

Further, in the exercises of the day Hanford MacNider, former national commander, charged that "Roosevelt had billions for every one but the veteran, and nothing but a machine gun fire of vetoes for him."

Poor veteran! He didn't receive preference in every job paid for with these billions Roosevelt spent, did he? He should, certainly, and he did.

Maud Brook.

FOOL CATCHER.

Winnetka, Ill., Aug. 14.—How many voters are going to be fooled by the latest administration announcement of no new taxes next year, right after over a billion was asked for at the last session of congress? This is the best piece of campaign bunk that has come out yet. Perhaps we can just go along as we are now and next year the federal deficit can be melted away by the heat of the summer sun.

Walter O. Wilson.

BOTH SIDES.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—I see that The Tribune has employed another cartoonist to ridicule President Roosevelt.

Next The Tribune will have the artists who draw Moon Mullins, Orphan Annie, and Andy Gump making attacks on our President.

Too bad you have to publish the financial page in your paper. This sheet shows the greatest profits to many firms that they have ever had. But these firms still hold back on employment of more help. They are the real slackers. They force the government to retain relief by working their employés at breakneck speed to meet the demand for goods. When the demands increased, employment should have increased.

The radio gives the people the chance to hear both sides of the political issues and not one side, like the newspapers.

James Carten.

IT WAS PUBLISHED ON THIS PAGE.

Chicago, Aug. 18.—Greatly interested, as probably were many other people, I looked in the paper Monday morning for a summary of the Olympic games, but to my disappointment did not find any. How come, the World's Greatest Newspaper does not furnish its readers with this information? As reported elsewhere, Germany had the highest score and our country was second. Is this the reason? If it is, it certainly shows mighty poor sportsmanship. Give credit where credit is due. Our country formerly was known for its fairness especially in sports. Keep it up. We can still take it.

LIFE ESTATE-PENSION.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A father and mother holding a joint tenancy deed to a piece of improved property deeded this property over to their daughter in 1933 and inserted the following clause: "The grantors herein expressly reserve to themselves and to the survivor of them a life estate in and to the above demised premises." The mother passed away in March of 1934. The deed to the daughter was recorded in December, 1934. The father has now applied for pension under the Illinois old age pension act.

1. Upon the father's death can the state of Illinois place a lien against the property deeded to the daughter in 1933 in order to reimburse the state for pension payments made to the father?

2. If liable, on what amount could the state collect, the $15 the state puts up or the additional $15 put up by the federal government in case they approve the Illinois plan making a total of $30?

W. O. D.

1. No, in the sense that the father's estate will have no interest in the property after his death. If any such claim is made it will be based upon a supposed obligation of the child to support the parent, and this will depend upon the child's ability to contribute and upon other facts that are not before us.

2. Your letter involves a number of questions which are left somewhat open by the wording of the statute and which have not yet been decided by the courts or even by administrative officials.

NEW $1,700,000 ASHLAND AVENUE BRIDGE IS OPENED

In colorful ceremonies witnessed by a crowd of more than 10,000, Mayor Kelly and other officials yesterday dedicated the new Ashland avenue bridge which spans the north branch of the Chicago river between Elston and Clybourn avenues. The bridge, of the bascule type, cost $1,713,000 to construct. It is the final link in the widening and extension of Ashland avenue from 95th street to Devon avenue, and completes a through city thoroughfare twenty miles long. The total cost of the improvement, begun in 1922, was $27,500,000.

The opening of the bridge was preceded by parades. Motorized units formed at 69th street and Ashland avenue at 10:45 yesterday morning and proceeded along Ashland north to Milwaukee avenue where at 11:30 they were joined by historical floats.

Show Trafic Development.

The floats depicted the chronological development of Chicago trafic from the era of horse cars to the present day transportation of streamlined street cars and buses. The pageant moved north to a point just south of the bridge, joining drum and bugle corps and groups representing American legion posts and civic organizations.

Presiding at the celebration was Frank A. Hecht Jr., president of the West Central association, one of the civic groups which promoted construction of the bridge. Mr. Hecht introduced Mayor Kelly; James P. Boyle, president of the city board of local improvements; Col. Horatio B. Hackett, assistant director of the federal Public Works administration, and other invited guests. Col. Hackett came as the representative of Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, head of the PWA, which made an outright grant of $483,500 toward building of the bridge.

Whole City to Benefit.

"All of the city will benefit by this great improvement," Mayor Kelly said. "It required much planning and is a concrete expression of the 'I WILL' spirit of Chicago. It is a credit to the community, a mark of achievement."

The mayor then cut the symbolic barrier of ribbon across the roadway. The parade units moved north to Irving Park boulevard, where they dispersed.

The improvement of Ashland avenue has been wholly in the hands of the board of local improvements. By 1932—ten years after the work was begun—all was completed except for the half mile between Elston and Clybourn avenues. In the latter part of 1933 the West Central association and more than 80 other improvement and civic groups actively campaigned for construction of this link.

Use Gasoline Tax Funds.

In 1934 the city council passed an ordinance authorizing erection of the bridge. Mayor Kelly moved the first scoopful of earth on Oct. 8, 1934. The outright grant of $485,500 was received from the PWA and the city provided the remainder of the cost out of its share of state gasoline tax funds. By using the fuel funds, the city saved several hundred thousand dollars in interest, which it would have had to pay if a loan had been made from the WPA.

It is estimated that the bridge will save the motoring public using the route $248,000 a year on the basis of Ashland avenue's present trafic load of 20,000 vehicles every 24 hours.

TEST NEW FIGHTING PLANE AT 300 M. P. H. WITH 750 H. P. ENGINE

East Hartford, Conn., Aug. 20.—[Special.] — Results of successful flight tests here of an all-metal fighting plane in the 300-miles-an-hour class were made public today by United Aircraft corporation.

The single seater, low wing, all metal monoplane is a combination craft developed by the Chance Vought division from original designs by the Northrop corporation.

The new plane has been test flown by the material division of the air corps at Wright field, powered with a fourteen cylinder twin Wasp engine of 750 horsepower.

Among features of the design are completely retractable landing gear, wing flaps, and cowl flaps for controling the engine cooling. The pilot, located far forward, has virtually unlimited vision.

Normal armament includes two .30 caliber machine guns mounted in the fuselage and, if desired, .50 caliber guns can be substituted. For bombing the plane may be equipped with external racks under the wings.

DECLARES WAR DEPT. POWERLESS TO AID WATERWAY

Capt. S. N. Karrick, acting district engineer for the war department in Chicago, declared yesterday that the department is without authority to increase diversion of water from Lake Michigan into the Illinois waterway. The Mississippi Valley association last week criticized the department for its failure to order an increased diversion to maintain a safe navigable depth in the Illinois waterway.

The association said that, although a United States Supreme court order limited the sanitary district of Chicago to an average diversion of 5,000 cubic feet a second until the end of 1938, the war department has power to authorize a greater diversion. Capt. Karrick asserted, however, that "congress, by legislation, has expressly limited this diversion of water from Lake Michigan for the navigation of the Illinois river water route to the amount decreed by the Supreme court."

DEATH OF BERLIN OLYMPIC OFFICER CALLED SUICIDE

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Suicide of the vice commandant of the Olympic village, and the deaths from natural causes of two other persons connected with the games, were disclosed officialy today.

The reich propaganda ministry said Capt. Wolfdant Fuerstner, who had been superseded by an army lieutenant colonel as commandant, had shot himself through the head fatally.

Also announced were the deaths of Gustav Kuhne, 70 years old, executive in the Olympic games commissary, who died of a stomach hemorrhage, and the Rumanian featherweight boxer, Nicolai Berechet, who died of a carbuncle.

In the true Prussian tradition, Fuerstner before shooting himself had been careful to remove his military apparel and don civilian clothes so he would not besmirch his uniform. Persons close to the Olympics said he had suffered from being superseded shortly before the games opened. The government denied that recent charges in the anti-Semitic Judenkenner to the effect Fuerstner was "not entirely Aryan" had been responsible for his demotion.

LOOK TO VACCINE AS AID IN WAR ON BANG'S DISEASE

Cattlemen Seek Ways to Cut Slaughtering.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—More than 200 cattle breeders who met here until late last night left today determined to unite in demanding that the federal government modify the New Deal's cattle killing activities in connection with the nationwide Bang's disease eradication campaign.

No formal vote was taken at the meeting, but many speakers indicated that they were opposed to the wholesale slaughter of their animals regardless of their value, as is now required where tested cattle are found to be infected with this plague that causes abortion.

Closed Meetings Are Held.

From closed door meetings held by breeders' organizations here yesterday came word that farmers and ranchers here from all parts of the country intended to insist on the use of vaccines as a means of protecting their herds and preventing the "unnecessary" slaughtering of their animals.

In the open meeting they were disappointed to learn that veterinarians are not able to proceed at once to use vaccines as a means of controling the disease. They were told that the vaccination of animals against Bang's disease was still in the experimental stage.

Frank Harding, Chicago secretary of the American Shorthorn Breeders' association, announced after the meeting that officials of the various dairy and beef breeders' organizations would meet soon to draft definite recommendations calling for changes in the government's Bang's disease test and eradication plan. Their proposals will be submitted direct to Washington officials, probably within the next few weeks.

Segregation Proposed.

The recommended changes are expected to include a demand that farmers be given the option of sending diseased animals to slaughter or segregate their most valuable individuals and keep them on their farms.

Federal men and farmers attending the meeting generally agreed that steps should be taken to get more cooperation from states. At winter sessions state legislatures are likely to be asked to appropriate money to share with the federal government in paying the costs of the Bang's disease campaign and to develop state control measures for safe handling of diseased animals.

Breeders are expected to urge the use of the vaccination method of aiding in controling the disease as soon as it is practical to put the vaccines into general use.

Many veterinarians reported favorable results in the use of the test and indicated that they felt vaccination could be eventually used to supplement the test, but not to replace it. The test is at present on a voluntary basis.

Dr. W. C. Cotton, Washington, superintendent of the federal agricultural research center at Beltsville, Md., gave an encouraging report of his experiments with vaccines.

Dr. W. E. Wight, Washington, in charge of the federal government's tuberculosis eradication work and the Bang's disease test campaign, advised the farmers that the vaccine was being tried out in 175 herds in 24 states. He said several years would be required to make the tests.

President Hints Approval of Crop Insurance Program

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt and Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace today indicated their approval of a "crop insurance" program placed before them by Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange.

Taber recently presented the grange's proposals to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, Mr. Roosevelt's opponent for the presidency. He said Gov. Landon also indorsed the idea.

Both national parties refused to include insurance of crops in their platforms pending further study of the grange program, which, Mr. Taber admitted, bore constitutional and technical hindrances which must be removed.

Roosevelt Suggests Parley.

The President suggested that, regardless of the outcome of the election in November, a conference be called to study the crop insurance suggestion.

Mr. Taber said that crop insurance would cost approximately 25 million dollars a year in normal years.

"In a drouth year like this, of course," he added, "crop insurance would cost half a billion dollars or more. There could be no question of setting up this program in a year like this. A period of years would be required to build up a reserve to take care of the bad years."

Farmers would be insured only against financial loss in bad years, Mr. Tabor explained. They would pay only a nominal registration fee at first and for a number of years the cost of the program would be shared by the government and the states. Eventually, under the plan, the farmers would contribute 50 per cent of the costs of the plan and the public the remaining 50 per cent.

Holds Farmers Prefer It.

"Farmers prefer the crop insurance program to the form of charity now being extended by the government in work relief and so forth," Taber declared. "Moreover, it would be much less expensive. It gives the farmer a more businesslike solution of his difficulties."

Harry L. Hopkins, chief of the Works Progress administration, yesterday told the President that work relief in the drouth areas would be costing 7½ million dollars a month soon and that additional appropriation of relief funds would be necessary at the next session of congress.

President Roosevelt today continued working out a schedule of his tour through the arid districts in western states. He drafted telegrams of invitations of governors of the states affected to meet him in conference on the agricultural problem. Among those invited will be Gov. Landon, who already has announced he will accept the invitation.

SLAYER'S CONFESSION TELLS PRAYER BEFORE KILLING JAP DANCER

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—A confession telling how Ray Johnson, 39, prayed while sharpening a knife with which to kill his Japanese dancer sweetheart was accepted today at Johnson's preliminary hearing in the slaying of Midi Takoaka. He was bound over for trial.

Johnson's statement, as given by Detective Lieutenant Leroy Sanderson, related that while he whetted the knife he laid an ax beside him, hoping that the slain girl's brother would kill him after finding the sister's body.

The confession also told of Johnson's jealousy when Midi returned here from New York Aug. 7, where she and her sisters, Mary and Myrtle, had been dancing. She told Johnson she had "changed in her attitude" toward him and preferred William Bachand, with whom she had gone to Yuma, Ariz., in an unsuccessful attempt to be married.

FATHER DIVINE'S 'ANGELS' RIDE TO 'HEAVEN' IN BOAT

Kingston, N. Y., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Father Divine, Harlem colored evangelist, and 1,800 of those he calls his "angels" came to "heaven" on a boat today.

The boat was the chartered steamer Keansberg, and the "heaven" is the 500 acre estate in Ulster county for which Father Divine said he paid spot cash. It is designed, he said, as a "reception heaven" for his faithful.

Police halted temporarily a parade the "angels" formed immediately after landing here and ordered an American flag taken out of the procession. Sewn onto it, police said, were the words "Peace, Father Divine Is God."

The 1,800 followers of Father Divine boarded the Keansberg in New York City this morning and caroled joyously as it sailed up the Hudson. They were still singing lustily the words of "Father, I love you, I thank you, I surrender all to thee," when the boat docked.

As the parade formed ten of Father Divine's "angels" suddenly appeared atop horses to lead it. The evangelist stepped into an old automobile directly behind them. The car carried a dove on the radiator and a huge sign, "Peace," on the body.

CLEANERS' UNION CALLS MEETING TO WEIGH STRIKE

D. A. Albert, president of the Cleaners, Dyers and Pressers union, announced yesterday that a special meeting will be held Sunday night to discuss the calling of a strike by inside workers in the cleaning and dyeing industry. The meeting will be at Plasterers' hall, Van Buren street and Marshfield avenue.

"The present price war by the Chicago cleaners is being waged at the expense of our members," Albert said. "Every time the employers see fit to lower cleaning prices, their next move is to cut wages and force the employés to work longer hours."

The wage contract between the employers and the union, which has more than 1,100 members, expired Aug. 1 and has not been renewed.

Miss Dorothy Sperry, 19 years old, her daughter, said that Mrs. Larkin had been ill.

HUNT MISSING CAR AND SUAVE LAND PROSPECT

The Lake Forest police yesterday asked Chicago officials to aid in a search for L. R. Weaver, 50 years old, of Detroit, described as "dignifiedand polished," who is wanted for taking an automobile belonging to Ralph E. Millman, Chicago architect who lives at 1275 North Green Bay road, Lake Forest.

According to the police, Weaver went to Lake Forest on Tuesday, deposited in a Lake Forest bank a draft for $5,000 on a Detroit bank, and announced that he was going to purchase some Lake Forest property. Mr. Millman had known Weaver slightly 15 years ago, and he loaned the man a small car to drive about the north shore.

Yesterday the Lake Forest bank learned that the draft was not good. Weaver, the car, and a check book he had received when he opened the account were missing.

45 SINGLE DECK BUSES ORDERED FOR CITY LINES

The Chicago Motor Coach company has placed orders for 45 new single deck streamlined buses, John A. Ritchie, president, announced yesterday. The new coaches are to be placed in service on the Ravenswood, Garfield boulevard, and Austin boulevard lines.

Deliveries have been made on 25 of the 100 new double deck buses with which four of the company's lines are being equipped. As additional double deck coaches arrive they will be placed in service on the north side. The first deliveries went to the south and west side lines.

Ritchie said that with the buses just ordered the company will have a total of 196 modern coaches operating throughout the system before the winter season sets in.

New U. S. Law on GIN labels and what it means to you

LABELING: ". . . will require an accurate statement, in the case of distilled spirits (other than cordials, liqueurs, and specialties) produced by blending or rectification, if neutral spirits have been used in the production thereof, informing the consumer of the percentage of neutral spirits so used and of the name of the commodity from which such neutral spirits have been distilled, or in case of neutral spirits or of gin produced by a process of continuous distillation, the name of the commodity from which distilled . . ."

FEDERAL LAW now requires every gin label to tell you the way the gin is made (whether compounded or distilled) and the source of the spirits used. This applies to all gin bottled on or after August 15, 1936.

• • •

On the Fleischmann label you will find this statement: "Distilled from American Grain." This means that Fleischmann's Gin is distilled in one continuous process, directly from American grain.

Fleischmann is convinced that there is no better way a distiller can consistently produce a uniform, well-balanced gin, especially suited to the distinctive American taste. The Fleischmann Distilling Corp., Peekskill, N. Y.

"DISTILLED FROM AMERICAN GRAIN"

Ever since 1870, interrupted only by Prohibition, Fleischmann has been distilling gin directly from grain in one continuous process . . . the time-honored American way. 90 Proof.

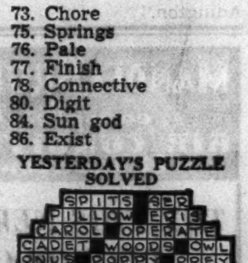
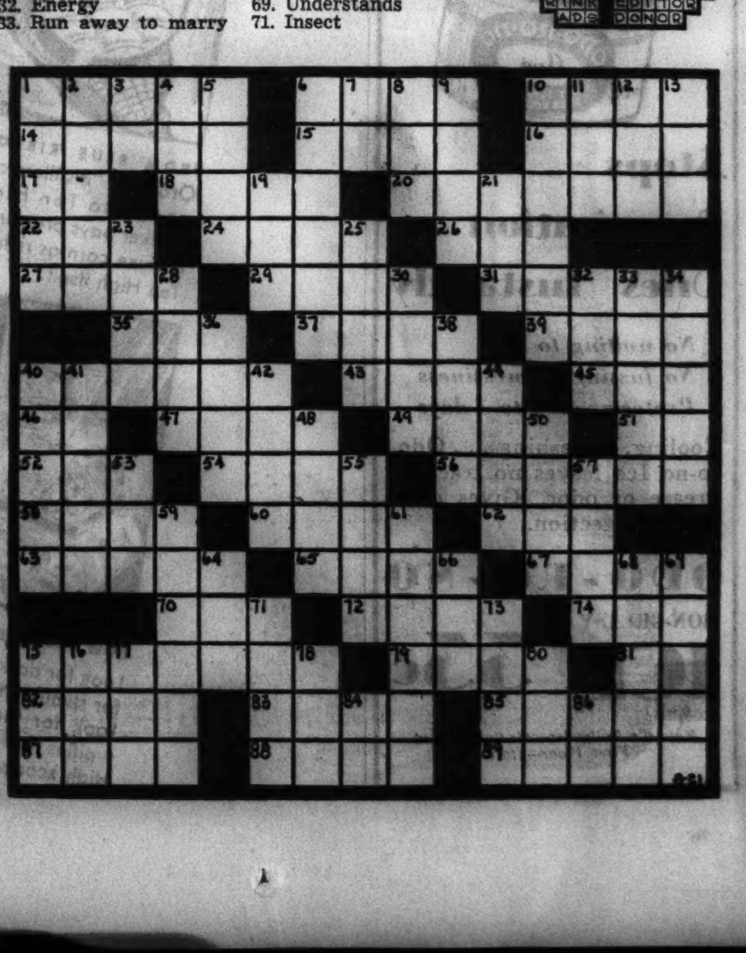
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED





PARK POLICEMEN WARNED TO OBEY LAWS ON TRAFIC

Issue Order as Speeder Tells of Arrest.

Chief Michael Hayes of the park police said yesterday that members of his department will be suspended if they are found guilty of violating trafic laws. His statement came after Park Policeman William Stoeser admitted in the Trafic court that he had made a left turn in the prohibited area at Sheridan road and Devon avenue shortly before he arrested Daniel A. O'Connor, 45 years old, 1329½ Touhy avenue, for speeding near that point on July 3.

O'Connor accused Policeman Stoeser when they appeared before Judge Frank M. Padden yesterday in the speeding case. O'Connor was fined $5. The judge then criticized policemen who violate the law. Chief Hayes, who was in court, agreed with the judge.

No Action Against Stoeser.

"Policemen should set an example," he said. "They should not endanger others, even in the performance of their duty. In future, any policman violating the trafic laws will be suspended." No action was taken against Stoeser, however.

Judge Padden also fined Walter E. Kroy, 21 years old, 1117 North Ashland avenue, $5 for speeding 51 miles an hour in Lake Shore drive between Addison and Grace streets early yesterday. Fred J. Haw Jr., 28 years old, 1450 Garfield boulevard, failed to appear in court on a speeding charge. His $10 bond was ordered forfeited and a capias was issued for his arrest.

Gives Alibi but Is Jailed.

A plea of John Marousek, 46 years old, 3059 South Homan avenue, a tavern owner, who said that he was arrested on a trafic charge because he refused to give free beers to policemen, failed to win leniency for him in the Safety court of Judge Joseph A. Graber. Marousek was arrested on Aug. 6 after his automobile struck a car driven by James Prusa, 2652 South Central Park avenue, near the latter's home. Marousek was sentenced to ten days in the county jail for driving while intoxicated.

Two others were sentenced yesterday by Judge Graber. They are:

Chester Harris, 27 years old, colored, 1132 Townsend street, ten days in the county jail for leaving the scene of an accident.

TAVERN OWNER ROBBED.

Two robbers forced Christ Borberg, 6415 Maryland avenue, into the washroom of his tavern at 1049 East 65th street, shortly after he opened the place yesterday, and escaped after taking $100 from him.

Parched July Throats Send Beer Sales to New High

The hot, dry days of July sent the production of beer in Illinois to a new post-repeal monthly record, it was announced yesterday by E. C. Yellowley, supervisor of the federal alcohol tax unit in the Chicago area. During July 488,787 barrels of beer were brewed. Production for June was 409,630 barrels. Wisconsin breweries turned out 742,062 barrels in July. In the hard liquor classification, the four Illinois distilleries had 47,310,150 gallons on hand Aug. 1.

Another Hurt in Lincoln Highway Crash.

Richard Jasper, 45 years old, 1908 Humboldt boulevard, a janitor, was killed, and his companion, Emmanuel Hirshcorn, 45 years old, 1036 5th avenue, Milwaukee, was injured on the Lincoln highway two miles east of Chicago Heights yesterday when an automobile driven by Jasper collided headon with a truck driven by Joseph Junker, 31 years old, 1127 North 6th street, Milwaukee. Junker was uninjured.

According to county highway police from the Homewood station, Junker was intoxicated and speeding at the time of the accident. His eastbound truck crossed into the opposing lane of trafic while passing a line of cars, and struck Jasper's car, which was going west, with such force that the steering wheel of the automobile was broken and the shaft driven through Jasper's body.

Junker was held on a charge of manslaughter, pending an inquest today. He told police he was driving from Milwaukee to Terre Haute, Ind.

Killed as He Ignores Signal.

Charles Hayes, 27 years old, colored, 1833 Yeaton street, a WPA workman, was fatally injured yesterday when he was struck by a car driven by Charles Ramboldt, 28 years old, 616 Belden avenue, in Washington boulevard near Central Park avenue. Witnesses said that Hayes ran in front of the auto, ignoring a WPA flagman's signal.

Mrs. Alice Cekonanski, 48 years old, 4415 South Hermitage avenue, died yesterday in Holy Cross hospital from injuries received last Sunday when an automobile in which she was riding, driven by her son, Anthony, turned over in a ditch at 97th street and Pulaski road. According to the Oak Lawn police, one of the front tires blew out as the car was being driven east in 97th street.

Claude Owens, 60 years old, 4031 Drexel avenue, died yesterday in the Woodlawn hospital from a skull fracture suffered Wednesday night when he was struck by an automobile at 61st street and Cottage Grove avenue. Roy Thomas, 33 years old, 4400 Drexel avenue, driver of the car, was held.

George Sowers, 66 years old, 743 Oakwood boulevard, a laborer, died in the County hospital yesterday from injuries received on Aug. 7 when he cranked an automobile while it was in gear and was crushed against a brick wall.

William Kottelbrint, 57 years old, 10657 South Michigan avenue, died last night in Roseland Community hospital shortly after he was struck by an automobile in Michigan avenue at 121st street. The driver of the car was Peter Frigo, 19 years old, 29 East 123d street.

Injured While Riding on Radiator.

Ralph Larsen, 15 years old, 2142 Maple avenue, Evanston, was critically injured yesterday while riding astride the radiator of an automobile driven by Robert D. Bronson, 2048 Sherman avenue, Evanston, when it was struck by a car driven by Frank Donnelly, 53 years old, 1715 Emerson avenue. Larsen was thrown 26 feet to the pavement at Railroad avenue and Noyes street. Neither Donnelly nor Bronson, who is a sophomore in Northwestern university, were injured, but the latter was held by Evanston police when he could not explain Larsen's presence on the radiator.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 598 persons had been killed in automobile accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1, according to the coroner's office. Of these, 455 were killed in Chicago. During the same period 11,353 were injured in trafic accidents within the city limits.

WARN MOTORISTS AGAINST DANGER OF FOREST FIRES

The increasing danger in forest and prairie fires because of the drouth yesterday moved officials of the Chicago Motor club to appeal to motorists to exercise caution in handling fire while driving.

"A lighted match or cigaret carelessly tossed from a car may start flames that will cause millions of dollars of damage," said Bert Vanderwarf, manager of the club's touring bureau. "Motorists should be extremely careful while on tour. Smoke only while stopping in a safe place, clear of all inflammable material; never while traveling in the woods. Be sure your match is out. Break it in two before you throw it away. Be sure that pipe ashes and cigar or cigaret stubs are dead before throwing them away. Never throw them into brush, leaves, or needles."

Goes to Jail Rather than Buy License for Dog

East St. Louis, Ill., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—John Bauer, 58, Freeburg beer salesman, is in the county jail at Belleville today because he refuses to pay a dog license for a terrier. Defiant, he declares he will serve out $25 and costs.

Ford Carter Jr. Is Freed in Death of Auto Victim

Ford R. Carter Jr., 30 years old, of Barrington, son of a former president of the Chicago Stock exchange, yesterday was exonerated by a coroner's jury of responsibility for the death of Ludwig Wittmann, 31 years old, a farm hand living near Palatine, who was fatally injured on Aug. 11 when Carter's automobile struck him as he was riding a bicycle in Dundee road west of Wheeling. Carter said he did not see the bicycle because there were no lights on it. The inquest was held in the Wheeling village hall.

GUARANTEED RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Common constipation is usually due to meals low in "bulk." Pills and drugs give only temporary relief. The sensible thing to do is to put "bulk" back into your meals.

Millions of people get this needed "bulk" in a delicious cereal: Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Its "bulk" is much like that in leafy vegetables. Within the body, it absorbs moisture, forms a soft mass, gently cleanses the system.

Some years ago, an investigation was made among thousands of ALL-BRAN users. 98 per cent found it satisfactory. Only 2 per cent had the type of constipation that would not respond to ALL-BRAN.

ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Try it a week. If not satisfactory, your money will be refunded by the Kellogg Company.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily, either as cereal or in cooked dishes. ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

STUDY REVENGE CLEW IN TAVERN OWNER'S SLAYING

The police yesterday were investigating the story of Mrs. Anna Seelig, 6854 Cornell avenue, that her husband, Philip, 42 years old, was slain in an attempted holdup near his tavern at 4259 South State street on Wednesday by friends of robbers he prosecuted and sent to prison two years ago. Mrs. Seelig told the story at the inquest, which was continued pending the outcome of the investigation.

Capt. Michael Lahart of the Wabash avenue police said that on Nov. 8, 1934, Seelig was robbed of $700 in his tavern. Seelig identified Dave Silverman, 24 years old, 3420 West 12th place, and Edward Atzovitz, 24 years old, 1633 Spaulding avenue, and they were sent to Joliet penitentiary for terms of one year to life. The men still are serving the sentences, but their friends might have killed Seelig on Wednesday as an act of revenge, Capt. Lahart said.

PLOT TO SET UP FASCIST RULE IN RUSSIA IS TOLD

Ex-Leaders Bare Plan to Kill Stalin.

These men, he declared, were: Nikolai Bukharin, principal editor of the newspaper Izvestia, main organ of the soviet government; Karl Radek, authoritative government commentator who frequently wrote for Izvestia; Mikhail Tomsky, former head of the trade council; Alexei Rykov, former premier and now commissar for posts and telegraphs, and Gregory Sokolnikoff, former ambassador to the court of St. James's.

Mass murder of those who would have carried out the assassinations of leaders in the bid for power was cited as the aim of the conspirators in the testimony of Isaac Reingold. The plan, it was said, was to kill Stalin first, then make one of the conspirators head of the OGPU [secret police] so all those who had knowledge of the plan could be removed.

Valentin Oldberg disclosed that Stalin had narrowly escaped a third attempt on his life on May 1 of this year while he reviewed troops during the soviet's largest celebration.

Oldberg tesified the German secret police promised him any help he needed to kill Stalin. The plot, he said, was to send a group of students from Gorky to hurl bombs at Stalin while he stood on the Lenin tribune in the massed Red square.

Arrest Foils Murder.

The third attempt inside 18 months to blast Stalin out of the way was foiled, Oldberg said, because he was arrested just before sending the students. He admitted conceiving the plan and taking it up with Director Fedotoff of the Gorky Pedagogical institute, where the students were to be recruited.

Stalin's death, he averred, would have complied with orders from Trotzky.

The government called three and four witnesses to the stand at a time in an effort to break down the denials of the two defendants who, admitting their complicity, deny plotting to kill Stalin.

Wild-eyed 30 year old Anna Savanova, former wife of T. Smirnoff, who was once the virtual "king" of Siberia, was the ace witness. Although she will be tried later, she unhesitatingly confessed her full guilt in the conspiracy and then turned to denounce her former husband.

Gets Orders in Berlin.

She testified her former husband, while abroad in 1932, got in touch with Trotzky's son, L. L. Sedoff, in Berlin. There, she swore, he received instructions to organize a terrorist center which, after his return to Moscow, he carried out.

Terrorists rallied by him, she said, resolved to assassinate Stalin and start the terror.

"Stalin must be killed and shall be killed," she quoted Smirnoff.

Smirnoff heatedly denied he had agreed to Sedoff's plan to kill Stalin.

The prosecution's main efforts were to tie the plot directly to Trotzky. Even Kamenev and Zinoviev concurred he was the archconspirator.

Observers seemed amazed that the prisoners continued to heap on lavish details of their activities. There was no evident pressure on the witnesses in the courtroom. On the contrary, they appeared eager to offer damaging evidence which, almost certainly, will mean their death.

Trotzky Attacks Soviet Police.

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Leon Trotzky, exiled communist leader, in a long declaration denied tonight he had violated an agreement with Norway by participating in political activities in the country.

Referring to the Moscow counter-revolutionary conspiracy trial, Trotzky said: "If a crime has been committed in Russia I have not committed a crime toward Russia, but the crime was committed by the OGPU against me."

The OGPU, he said, "faked new letters" and forced "confessions" from those already sentenced.

"No enlightened man can believe I should plot terroristic acts against soviet leaders or coöperate with the Gestapo [German secret police]," he said in reference to a statement from Moscow that he and the others had coöperated with the German secret police in certain phases of sending five men into Russia in the plot.

"This accusation is a lie, as well as the charge that I, together with Josef Stalin, organized a revolutionary movement in France, Spain, Belgium, and Greece."

BRITISH AIRMEN AID SOLDIERS IN HOLY LAND FIGHT

JERUSALEM, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Airplanes supported British troops today in a pitched battle against a well armed Arab band near Karkur. At least 24 casualties were known to have been inflicted on the Arabs who started the engagement by ambushing a police patrol. None of the British was hurt.

The total of casualties for widespread violence during the day was estimated at six dead—including four Arabs and two Jews—and 32 wounded. Gershon Moshayeff, Hebrew university student, died of wounds received last Monday. He was shot by Arab snipers while on watch at a hillside colony outside Jerusalem.

Three Arab women, taking milk to Jews on Mount Carmel, were shot by Arab terrorists. Two convicts were killed and several others wounded when they attempted to escape in the confusion caused after they were caught in the line of fire between British troops and terrorists near Ramle. A Jewish taxi driver, Hans Grunwald, was killed in the battle. Another Jew also was reported slain.

RACKET DETAIL SEIZES FIVE IN BENEFIT SCHEME

Police Officials Deny They Share in Proceeds.

Five solicitors who sought contributions for the benefit of the Magistrates, Justices, and Constables' Association, Inc., 6 North Clark street, were taken into custody by the police for questioning yesterday.

Sergt. John Murphy of the police confidence game detail, who seized the solicitors with the aid of business people they approached, said that he planned to question William S. Bishop, president of the association, and Charles C. Roe, secretary. Roe once was an assistant state's attorney.

Complaints were made to the police that telephone solicitors for the association represented themselves as police officials and urged business men to pay $5 or $10 for advertisments in the association's projected magazine. Part of the proceeds, the telephone salesmen said, were to go to the police benevolent association.

Police Deny Connection.

Police commanders whose names were thus used declared they had not authorized such use, and officials of the benevolent association disclaimed knowledge that the organization was to share in the collections.

Believing that a staf of high pressure telephone salesmen was lining up prospects for lesser employés to visit later the police began a search of the loop for the place where this high pressure was generated.

Those seized while calling for contributions declared that they were convinced, when they were hired several days ago, that the cause they were promoting was legitimate. They are Miss Toby Green, 24 years old, 506 Parkside avenue; Miss Doris Smith, 20, of 2727 Oak Park avenue. Oak Park; Alfred Hodgkiss, 47, of 3012 Irving Park boulevard; William Winner, 41, of 3434 Broadway, and Leroy Parker, 31, of 162 East Pearson street.

Officials Listed on Letterheads.

These solicitors were given "courtesy" membership cards, which, they were told, might gain special consideration for them if they were ever arrested for minor violations. The association's letterhead bears the names of numerous police magistrates, justices of the peace, and constables in Cook and neighboring counties.

Acquaintances of Roe declared that he had let the magazine advertising campaign by contract to an organization.

Roe first attracted attention in 1926 when leaders of the regular Republican organization in Cook county denied that he was authorized to solicit funds and advertisments for his newspaper, the Republican, in the party's name. Several times since then his offices have been raided because of complaints about the manner in which political funds were solicited.

GREEK KING CONFERS WITH BRITISH RULER ON YACHT AT CORFU

CORFU, Ionian Islands, Greece, Aug. 20.—(AP)—King George of Greece conferred for two hours tonight with Great Britain's vacationing King Edward VIII. aboard the British monarch's yacht Nahlin.

Their meeting came only shortly after the Greek court chamberlain, Alexander Mercappi, had declared rumors linking Edward in romance with "a Greek princess" were utterly false.

Earlier in the day the British ruler went by motorboat to the Island of Vido, where he bathed in the sea.

PLANS NEW FIGHT AGAINST DOCTORS IN HEWITT CASE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Deputy District Attorney August Fourtner staked out a new prosecution battleground tonight against two physicians involved in the sterilization of Ann Cooper Hewitt, heiress.

Still smarting over Superior Judge Raglan Tuttle's dismissal yesterday of mayhem and conspiracy charges against the physicians, Dr. Tilton E. Tillman and Dr. Samuel D. Boyd, Fourtner said he would appeal the decision to the state Appellate court "as soon as possible."

He also asserted he would bring the girl's mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt, to trial here on similar charges "if it's the last thing I ever do."

Fourtner said he would resist any move by Mrs. Hewitt's attorney for dismissal of a California detainer filed against her in New Jersey.

MEET NEW DELAY IN FIGHT TO SAVE 4 MINE VICTIMS

Rescuers Guarded from Mob's Frenzy.

BULLETIN.

Moberly, Mo., Aug. 21 [Friday].—(AP)—Discovery early today that heavy timbers had crashed through the cages at the bottom of the main shaft set up new obstacles in the work to rescue four men in the old Esry mine. Workers estimated five hours would be required to clear away the timbers and rid the tunnel of gases.

Moberly, Mo., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Rescue squads, working since last Tuesday in efforts to reach four men entombed in a mine near here, were nearing the bottom of the main shaft tonight. This will bring them near the spot where the men were trapped when fire destroyed the shaft superstructure, causing a cave-in.

Along with the difficulties of rescue operations Arnold Griffith, chief state mine inspector, and his aids were confronted with mob frenzy today when a group of miners attempted to enter the mine without authority. Their spokesman said the miners were becoming impatient with the failure of attempts to reach the entombed men and had decided to make rescue attempts in their own way.

Put Guards at Entrance.

Guards were placed at the mine openings following the incident to prevent any one from entering the chambers, where deadly gases have balked numerous rescue attempts. Attempts to reach the men through the air vent were abandoned yesterday and the new effort through the main shaft was started.

The only hope of rescuers that the men remained alive tonight hinged on the contention of Griffith that they may have succeeded in sealing themselves from black damp and white damp, mine gases. Those entombed are Demmer Sexton, 37; Edward Stoner Jr., 27; A. W. McCann, 50, and George T. Dameron, 27, colored.

Cavein Victim Is Rescued.

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Fellow miners rescued Edward Harley, 26, from an improvised coal hole late today after he had been imprisoned for four hours by a cavein.

Rescuers, risking their own lives by going into the hole, where further caveins were expected at any moment, dug frantically through coal and rock to free Harley. He was taken to a hospital, where physicians said he was suffering from shock and minor cuts and bruises. A Catholic priest had administered the last rites for the dying before Harley was rescued.

SPANISH CROWN GEMS PLEDGED BY COUNT AS SECURITY ON LOAN

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Some of the Spanish crown jewels were pledged by Count Covadonga, former heir to Spain's throne, for a loan, it was disclosed in Supreme court today by Philip E. Donlin, an attorney.

Donlin said he signed a note for the count and took the jewels as security, but the amount of the loan was not disclosed.

"There hasn't been any default in payments on the note," Donlin said, "but I still have the jewels."

The loan was disclosed by the attorney in opposing an application for a temporary receivership of British Motors, Inc., for which he said the count was a salesman.

Air Line Places 1st of New Flagship Planes in Service

American Airlines, Inc., yesterday placed in regular service the first of twelve Douglas flagship planes designed for daytime use. The remainder of the fleet will be delivered during the next few weeks. The new ship, carrying twenty-one passengers and a crew of three, was brought into service Wednesday night carrying twenty show girls from Los Angeles to New York. Yesterday it was placed on the New York-Chicago run. Sleeper planes, purchased some months ago, will be placed on night runs as soon as the shipment of the twelve planes is completed.

SPLIT PATERNITY OF TWINS IS UP TO CHILD BUREAU

Columbus, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The question of divided paternity of a twin 10 year old girl rested tonight somewhere between the state charities division and the Columbus children's bureau.

Mrs. Luetta Magruder, chief of the charities division who disclosed the case of an unnamed Columbus woman whose husband questioned parentage of one of her twin daughters, said she had turned the case over to the children's bureau.

However, Miss Julia Griggs, executive secretary of the children's bureau, said she had not received the problem.

The twins' mother asked the charities division to aid her in obtaining their custody from her husband, who had placed them in a Wheeling, W. Va., institution. The husband replied that he wished to retain custody of one of the twins, but that the other was not his child and the mother could have it.

Physicians consulted by the charities division declined to attempt scientific determination of the parentage, although they said dual paternity was a "possibility."

$1,000,000 Vancouver Fire Destroys Three Shipyards

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 20.—(AP) A spectacular fire swept through three shipyards, the Vancouver ice hocky arena and auditorium early today, causing loss estimated by Fire Chief Archibald Diamond at more than $1,000,000. Two firemen were injured.

SUBURBAN POLICE AID RODEO TICKET SALES; NOW HUNT PROMOTERS

The police of several western suburbs, who helped sell between 10,000 and 15,000 tickets to the "First Annual Fall Rodeo" at $1 a ticket, would like to talk to the promoters of the affair. Unfortunately the promoters are gone, bag and baggage, along with the rodeo, which played to slim crowds last Saturday, Sunday, and Monday in an arena at Lincoln and Devon avenues, Tessville.

After Monday's show the rodeo folded up its tents like the Arabs, and several thousand ticket holders were disappointed when they appeared at the arena on succeeding nights. The show was scheduled to close tomorrow night, according to posters, which advertised that Aug. 15 would be "Illinois Police Association day."

Chief of Police Fred Licht of Forest Park, who is president of the association, admitted yesterday that he had written letters to suburban police chiefs advising them they could coöperate if they saw fit. The police departments were to have received 25 per cent of sales for benefit fund.

PORTES GIL QUITS AS PRESIDENT OF PARTY IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Emilio Portes Gil, under sharp fire for months, quit tonight as president of the powerful Revolutionary [government] party.

Sending his "irrevocable" resignation to President Lazaro Cardenas and the party's executive committee, he said the senate's refusal yesterday to seat five party candidates declared victorious in recent elections had decided him in the action.

A former provisional president of Mexico, former attorney general and secretary of foreign relations, Portes Gil had held the party presidency since June 13, 1935. The post is considered the second most important political position in the country. President Cardenas put Portes Gil into office last year in the political upheaval that grew out of Cardenas' break with former president Plutarco Elias Calles, longtime "strong man" of Mexico and now an exile in the United States.

During recent months, the party in general and Portes Gil in particular, had been bitterly criticized for decisions in state and local primary and election contests.

WAFFLES MAY BE MADE MANY DIFFERENT WAYS

Cheese, Nuts, Fruits May Be Used in Batter.

BY MARY MEADE.

And what is so friendly as a waffle? A waffle adapts itself with the utmost social grace to any occasion. A waffle likes to be served plain no less than it likes to be dressed up with ham or bacon or fruit or cheese or whipped cream or graham crackers. A waffle doesn't mind shifting from entrée to dessert and assuming a chocolate color.

A waffle supper, lunch, or breakfast is often the easiest way out of the "What can we have without much fuss" perplexity. Waffles take so little time to prepare and may be adapted right at the table to the preferences of your guests.

For instance, if the tastes of your guests are varied enough, or if you want to experiment a little yourself, you may at the same meal and from the same batter, make ham or bacon waffles, pecan waffles, cheese waffles, and fruit waffles!

* * *

For ham or bacon waffles, sprinkle two or three tablespoonfuls of the chopped meat over the top of each waffle as you make it. To make any of the other types of variations, it is better to fold the variant into the batter rather than to sprinkle it on top of the waffle. Therefore you may want to separate your batter into different pitchers or containers, folding grated cheese or nuts, finely chopped fruit, or berries into the mixture to be dressed up.

Waffles may be made from prepared biscuit mixes, or combined by using either all-purpose or cake flour. Those made with the cake flour have a rather cakelike texture, of course. Fruit waffles, chocolate waffles, and others intended for dessert probably should be made with cake flour.

* * *

Buttermilk or sour milk waffles are crisp and delicious when baked in a very hot iron and served plain with plenty of butter and hot maple sirup, and they also adapt themselves well to alterations.

BUTTERMILK WAFFLES.

2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
3 tablespoons sugar
2 eggs, separated
2 cups buttermilk or sour milk
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Sift the flour before measuring, and then sift it several times with the other dry ingredients. Beat egg yolks and whites separately. Combine yolks with buttermilk, and add the mixture to the dry ingredients. Beat until smooth. Add melted butter and fold in beaten egg whites last.

* * *

The crispness of the baked waffle depends to a great extent upon the heat of the waffle iron. The iron should be very hot for all but rich waffles using chocolate, molasses, or waffles with more than the average number of eggs.

To dress up plain waffles serve quarter sections of grilled tomatoes with them, placing a section of tomato on each section of waffle. And, of course, they may be served as "shortcake" with fruit and whipped cream, although the richer, more dessertlike waffles are usually preferred for this.

HINTS ON TESTING CANNED FOOD FOR LEAKS IN SEALING

These hints on testing canned foods for leaks and improper sealing may be of interest, especially if you are new at the game of food preservation.

Never invert jars while hot to test for leaks. This is likely to break the seal. Invert to test after jars are thoroughly cooled, unless you are using a type of cap or lid which calls for some other method of testing for improper sealing.

One popular cap on the market calls for only a tapping of the lid as a test. If the jars are properly sealed the lids give a clear, ringing note and are slightly concave. If not properly sealed, the sound will be dull and low in key.

In any case where jars do not pass the test for proper sealing, the contents of the jar must be recanned. If the cap or lid is at fault, and the product is a fruit, simply replace the cap or lid with a new one and process in a water bath until the product reaches the boiling point. If product is a non-acid food, it should be reprocessed approximately one-fourth to one-third the regular processing period.

However, if the jar is defective, the product would require repacking. It is doubtful whether this would be profitable, since it would require a period of reprocessing approximately the same length as a normal period for that particular food. Naturally few foods will stand up under such treatment. Therefore it would be wisest to use the product immediately or to discard.

FOREQUARTER CUTS OF LAMB BEST MEAT BUY OVER WEEK-END

Forequarter cuts of lamb—shoulder roasts, shoulder chops, and lamb breast—are recommended to Chicago housewives as the most economical meat buy over the coming weekend, according to the committee on marketing information of the meat council of Chicago.

These cuts of lamb can be fried or prepared as roasts. Lamb breast is especially delicious in stews.

Way to Save Moisture of Open Sandwiches

To keep open face sandwiches moist, place them in rows on the bottom of pans which are two or three inches deep, and stretch a damp towel over the top of the pan.

LEMON SHERBET IS SMOOTH WITH MARSHMALLOWS

This smooth lemon sherbet is right at home in the center of a cantaloupe half. The color and flavor are both suitable to the melon, and the combination makes a delightful dessert for a late summer menu. The marshmallows used in this recipe keep the ice smooth and fluffy.

LEMON SHERBET.

24 marshmallows
¾ cup hot water
¼ cup cold water
½ cup lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon grated lemon
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon sugar

Place marshmallows and hot water in a saucepan and heat over low burner, folding over and over, until marshmallows are about half melted. Remove from the burner and continue folding until marshmallows are melted. Then add cold water, lemon juice, and grated lemon rind. Blend thoroughly, then chill in the refrigerator until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until they hold a peak. Then add sugar, slowly, while beating constantly. Combine with the marshmallows and pour in freezing tray of mechanical refrigerator. Freeze as quickly as possible, stirring twice during the freezing process.

NO GOOD FOOLIN' AROUND, MARTHY! nothin' makes salads taste so good as real mayonnaise

"Yes, Marthy, I sure learned my lesson! Those ordinary dressings just don't have that rich, creamy goodness and taste-temptin' flavor you get from Hellmann's!"

And the reason is mighty easy to understand. Hellmann's is made differently. It combines only choice salad oil, freshly-broken eggs, special vinegar and imported spices. No starchy fillers. It's all mayonnaise. And it's double-whipped for its famous creamy smoothness.

If you want to see how much better real mayonnaise makes salads taste . . . why not get a jar of Hellmann's—today. It costs but a trifle per salad.

LOWER PRICES FOR VEGETABLES FOLLOW RAINS

Truck Gardens Showing New Growth.

Recent rains have started new growth in truck gardens throughout the Chicago area and have resulted in lower prices on many kinds of fresh vegetables. Trucks, wagons, and family autos loaded with crisp, tender vegetables from nearby farms were lined up on both sides of the street at the Randolph market early yesterday morning.

While greengrocers' counters are well stocked with bargains, week-end food shoppers in city and suburban stores will find nearly a dozen staple items selling at higher prices than a week ago.

Retail butchers took advantage of last week's drop in wholesale lamb prices to mark down their price tags on several kinds of fresh lamb cuts. Many shops will feature pot roasts of beef on their bargain counters today and tomorrow.

New High for Beef Steers.

Present prices of live stock and wholesale meats indicate that retail cuts of lamb may continue to go lower, while prices of most other fresh meats may be increased. The better grades of beef steers reached a new high price for the year at Union stockyards this week, according to federal live stock reporters. Wholesale cuts of beef sold steady to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher than last week.

Farmers were paid the highest prices for live hogs that they have received since September of last year, although the market went down toward the close of the week, finishing 25 to 50 cents a hundredweight lower than a week ago. Wholesale cuts of pork loins advanced $1 to $1.50 a hundred.

Live lambs sold about 25 cents a hundred pounds lower than last week and wholesale lamb cuts dropped as much as $2 a hundred.

Cooking Apples Cheaper.

Cooking apples are cheaper than last week in some stores. Several new varieties have appeared on the market during the last few days. Green beans are lower in stores generally and wholesale prices are continuing downward with heavy shipments coming from many distant points. Supplies from local gardens are scarce.

Head lettuce and fresh tomatoes are included on the bargain lists of stores throughout the city and suburbs. Fresh peas are lower than a week ago, and many stores are selling cabbage, bunch carrots, and celery at special sale prices. Banana prices are fluctuating. They are lower in some stores than last week and higher in others. Cantaloupes are cheaper, both on the retail and wholesale markets, and heavy supplies are coming from Illinois, Indiana, and Michigan.

Butter Slightly Lower.

Most stores are selling butter 1 to 2 cents a pound less than last week. A few have sugar on sale at 2 cents a ten pound sack under last week's prices.

Flour still is going up. Many stores have added 2 to 4 cents a 24½ pound sack since last week on the higher priced brands. Bread prices are starting upward. Pound loaves that have been selling for a nickel since the processing tax was removed from wheat last January now cost six cents in most stores.

Low grades of coffee are about 1 cent a pound higher than a week ago. Eggs are 1 cent a dozen higher than last week-end, although prices now are tending downward.

NOW'S TIME TO CAN VEGETABLES FOR WINTER SOUP

Processing Method Is Described.

It has been a busy summer for the homemaker who believes in the morale of the ant vs. grasshopper story, for little by little she has been adding to her stock of jellies, jams, canned fruits and vegetables, as a precaution against the predicted high price of foods in general during the coming winter.

Mixed vegetables for the winter soup bowl should be canned now, too, while the garden or market still offers a fine stock of vegetables.

How to Prepare Them.

To prepare mixed vegetables for canning wash and trim the various vegetables separately, then cut into uniform pieces. Put the vegetables all together into a small quantity of actively boiling salted water, using one level tablespoon of salt to each quart of water, and other seasonings to taste, if desired. Boil uncovered for about three minutes.

Remove the vegetables from the water with a strainer. Pack loosely into hot containers while the vegetables are still hot. Fill jars or cans with boiling salted water used in the parboiling.

If the mixture contains tomatoes, no water is necessary. Simply bring the crushed tomatoes to a boil, then add the other vegetables and boil for three minutes.

Partly seal the jars. If the jar has a wire clamp, click the top clamp into place but leave the lower clamp up while processing. If the jars have a screw top, first screw it in place and then unscrew half a turn so that it is not tight.

Now as to the method of processing. Again comes the warning to all of you about the use of a pressure cooker for canning all nonacid vegetables, for even though tomatoes are used in these vegetable mixtures, there is not sufficient acid present to take care of the other nonacid vegetables.

The Pressure Requirements.

Place the hot containers in the pressure cooker so that the glass jars do not touch each other, and process at the pressure and for the time required by the vegetable which, when canned alone, requires the longest processing period. Have high heat under the pressure cooker until the desired pressure is reached, then leave over a low burner, keeping the pressure at the right number of pounds. Begin to time the processing period when the desired pressure is reached. After processing allow the pressure to drop to zero before opening the petcock, then slowly allow the steam to escape.

Remove the jars from the cooker and complete the seals [except when self-sealing lids are used]. Cool jars as quickly as possible, and store in a cool, clean, well ventilated place.

RUSHED FOR TIME ON TONIGHT'S DINNER? HERE'S SUGGESTION

SIMPLE SALMON SALAD.

Start with a pound tin of salmon. Flake the fish and place in a cold, damp mold. Dissolve one package of lemon or lime flavored gelatin in 1 cup of boiling water. Add 1 cup of cold water and 1 tablespoon of lemon juice and pour the gelatin over the salmon.

75 WAR PLANES THRILL CROWDS AT MANEUVERS

Sixth Corps Games End; Outfits Start Home.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Custer, Mich., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—A demonstration of Uncle Sam's air and land mechanical forces here today ended the sixth corps maneuvers and the first experience in war time field exercises for 24,000 troops from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan since the world war.

More than 75 planes of the general headquarters air force left spectators gasping as they went through battle formations above the reviewing stand on Harbord hill, the highest point in the Custer military reservation. An exhibition attack by mechanized cavalry forces preceded the air demonstration.

Through the courtesy of Lieut. Col. Ralph Royce, commander of the first pursuit group, a TRIBUNE reporter was granted permission to accompany the air force on its attack demonstration.

Plane Follows Attack.

Under army regulations civilians are prohibited from flying formations such as the one this morning, but one of the new two-seater pursuit planes was withdrawn from the flight and followed the attack with Col. Royce as the pilot.

Bombers, attack planes, and pursuit groups took off from Selfridge field this morning shortly after 9 o'clock. The planes left in the order of their speed, with the slower attack planes preceding the bombers and the pursuit planes.

All but six of the 50 pursuit planes in the formation were single seaters. The newer two seaters still are classed as "experimental" by the army. It was in one of these ships that Lieut. W. W. Harding and his machine gunner flew to their deaths Tuesday morning, presumably as the result of a faulty supercharger which set the plane afire.

Bombers Lead Flight.

The first group of planes was due above the Harbord hill reviewing stand at 10:40 a. m., after a 150 mile flight from Selfridge. Almost to the second the bombers, leading the demonstration flight, passed over the stand. Following them in order came the attack planes and the pursuit group.

Then came demonstrations of attacks by the pursuit group on the bombing and attack planes. After the pursuit ships had maneuvered about the bombers, they climbed to 10,000 feet to wait for the attack ships. The attack planes appeared in three long lines, each line standing diagonally to the left.

Outfits Start Home.

Immediately after the demonstrations the mechanized outfits left for home, the cavalry starting for Fort Knox, Ky., and the planes returning to Selfridge Field, with the exception of Col. Royce's ship, which stopped at Battle Creek.

Troops made their final preparations for departure this afternoon. Most of them will be on the move toward home by tomorrow night, with the last contingents scheduled to be on their way by Saturday afternoon.

TWO TEACHERS FIRED OVER WAR GAME CHARGES

East Lansing, Mich., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Michigan State college dismissed Assistant Professor L. B. Waldo and Instructor L. B. Mayne of its English department today, announcing the action was based on the former's conviction on charges of disorderly conduct in Allegan county.

The official announcement from John A. Hannah, secretary of the state board of agriculture, which governs the college, said Mayne was "closely associated" with Waldo in the incident and that their services "have been permanently discontinued."

State Police Captain L. A. Lyon said the case grew out of improper language used by Waldo to young men participating in the second army's war maneuvers in Allegan county. Prosecutor Elborne Luna at Allegan said Waldo pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The coronation ceremonies of King Edward VIII. of England next spring are to be broadcast over the Mutual Broadcasting system in association with the British Broadcasting corporation. Arrangements have just been completed through John Steele, MBS European representative, for presenting many other trans-Atlantic programs of distinction via BBC with W-G-N as the local outlet. Plans also are being made by BBC with the Canadian radio commission to facilitate relay of British programs picked up by Canadian short wave stations to the Mutual network.

Mutual has just landed two more new programs to follow each other under the same sponsorship beginning next month. Both are serial dramatic stories—"Wife vs. Secretary," based on the movie by the same name which starred Clark Gable, Jean Harlow, and Myrna Loy, and "Way Down East," a somewhat more subdued story.

Wendell Hall, Milton Berle, and Billy Jones, and Ernie Hare were signed yesterday as headliners of the Community Sing to be sponsored every Sunday evening over ninety-four CBS stations in the interests of a razor blade concern starting Sept. 6. Hall will lead the mass singing.

Barbara Luddy, young west coast radio actress, has been selected to play opposite Don Ameche in the First Nighter series from Hollywood this season. The show will open Sept. 4. Miss Luddy played secondary leads last season when Betty Lou Gerson carried the feminine lead. Miss Gerson, who married Joe Ainley, radio executive, during the summer, will work in Chicago radio productions this year.

Horace Heidt is in New York looking over a prospective dance spot for his orchestra when he leaves the Drake and W-G-N this fall. . . . Bing Crosby sails today for a vacation in Hawaii. Bob Burns will take over the Crosby radio show during his absence. Burns, incidentally, has just signed a movie contract calling for three pictures a year for three years at Paramount. For the nine pictures he is to receive $675,000.

Orson Wells, March of Time actor, is to succeed Jack Smart in the rôle of "The Great McCoy" in Mutual's Sunday evening "Wonder Show." The Falstafian Jack is leaving for the coast to make pictures. . . . Pete Nelson has left NBC to join Mutual's western sales force. . . . Ben Bernie bought a filly at Saratoga the other day for $3,000. She is named Mother Goose.

COURT APPROVES REPORT DIVIDING MISER'S ESTATE

The report of Attorney Irwin N. Walker, finding that 18 first cousins of James Thomas Kelly, flophouse miser, are the heirs to his $140,000 estate, was approved yesterday by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. Walker, acting as a special commissioner of the court, held hearings for nearly 100 claimants to the estate.

An objection to the report was filed on behalf of Mrs. Edna Kelly of St. Louis, who asserted she was married to Kelly in 1922. She contended a son born to her in 1923 was the sole heir to the estate. Walker had previously ruled against her claim and was upheld yesterday by Judge O'Connel. Attorneys for Mrs. Kelly announced an appeal would be taken to the Circuit court.

If the 18 cousins are finally recognized as heirs it is expected that each will receive about $2,000. The government holds a lien of $81,531 for unpaid income taxes against the estate, and inheritance taxes, costs, and fees have taken large slices. Kelly, an ex-convict, died in apparent poverty on Feb. 26, 1935.

ARTHUR H. APFEL ESTATE IS GIVEN $350,000 VALUE

An inventory estimating the estate of Arthur H. Apfel, retired official of the Birtman Electric company, at $350,000 was filed yesterday with Mitchell C. Robin, clerk of the Probate court. An award of $20,000 was allowed the widow, Mrs. Emma Apfel, 341 Wellington avenue, pending settlement of the estate of which she is sole beneficiary under the will. Mr. Apfel died on Sept. 3, 1935, at the age of 74. At that time the estate was valued at $150,000, but rises in the market prices of securities included among the assets have raised the value $200,000.

The will of Jacob L. Oestman, former secretary-treasurer of James S. Kirk & Co., soap manufacturers, disposing of a $50,000 estate, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mr. Oestman died Aug. 15 at Burlington, Wis., at the age of 64. Under the terms of the will one-third of the estate is bequeathed to the widow, Gertrude, 2934 Logan boulevard, and the balance is divided between two sons and a daughter.

Miss Ashcraft to Be Bride at Large Wedding

Twenty-four Attendants to Be in Party.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE marriage of Miss Virginia Ashcraft to Gerald Hewitt Smith on Thursday, Sept. 3, will be one of the largest of years, for the bride and bridegroom each is to have twelve attendants. A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Ashcraft Jr., in Asbury avenue, Evanston, following the wedding at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at St. Mark's church. The home also will be filled with young people shortly before the wedding date, and some of the popular bride's friends will be hostesses to the overflow.

Three bridesmaids, school friends of Miss Ashcraft's at Farmington, are coming from out of town, and all of the bridegroom's attendants save Edwin M. Ashcraft III., brother of the bride, will come from other cities. The best man, Ralph Whittaker Jr. of Williamsburg, Pa., has visited here frequently, and he and the groomsmen, all classmates of Mr. Smith at Princeton university, have many friends along the north shore.

Mrs. Raymond Otis Mitchell, the former Anne Ashcraft, will attend her sister as matron of honor. The Chicago bridesmaids will be Mrs. Lincoln Small Harris [Jean Hyman], Mrs. William B. Cudahy [Honore White], Mrs. Paul L. Fentress [Roslyn Paine], Mrs. Orville Elias Babcock Jr. [Betty Alexander], Mrs. Douglas K. Huntress [Betty Ashcraft], a cousin of the bride; Miss Barbara Eldridge, Miss Betty Brawley, and Miss Kean Hughes. The out of town bridesmaids will be Miss Gertrude Gaylord of Pasadena, Cal.; Miss Gertrude Jones of South Orange, N. J., and Miss Gay Adams of New York.

Fentresses to Come from Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fentress, at whose wedding last winter Miss Ashcraft and Mr. Smith were attendants, will come from Philadelphia and will stay either with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Fentress, or with hers, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garritt Smith. Arthur Z. Gray of Garrison-on-the-Hudson, who was an usher at the Fentress-Paine wedding, will come west to serve Mr. Smith as an usher, and Sumner Rulon-Miller Jr., whose sudden marriage prevented his taking part in the Fentress-Paine wedding, will come with his bride from Sharon Springs, N. Y., to usher for Mr. Smith.

Also ushering will be John Griffiths II. of Garden City, N. Y.; Douglas Jones of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Walter H. Smith of Pelham, N. Y.; Arthur Lawler and Homer Spofford of New York City, John Winslow of Punxsutawney, Pa., and Gilbert Lea of Paoli, Pa. The bridegroom is in Evanston now, and all of the ushers will be here by the Saturday before the wedding.

On that Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Cudahy will give a dinner for Miss Ashcraft and Mr. Smith at their Lake Forest home before a dance Mr. Ashcraft III. and Mrs. Mitchell will give at the Saddle and Cycle club.

The bridal dinner has been advanced to the Monday night before the wedding because young Mr. Smith wanted to give his bachelor dinner on the first, when he will be able to take his guests to the All-Star football game. The bridal dinner will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft III. in Evanston. The following evening, while the young men are dining together, Miss Brawley will give the spinster dinner at her home in town.

Mrs. Harris will give a luncheon at the Saddle and Cycle on Friday, Aug. 28, and on the following Tuesday Miss Eldridge will give a similar party at the Onwentsia. Mr. and Mrs. Ashcraft are anxious to give the young people a breathing spell before the wedding, so there will be no parties on the 2d. Instead, Miss Ashcraft and the bridegroom and their attendants will spend the day at the Dunham Woods club in Wayne.

Brooks-Belden Nuptials Oct. 10.

The date for the marriage of Miss Jane Brooks to Joseph C Belden Jr. has been set for Oct. 10. The ceremony will take place in Lake Forest, either at the Church of the Holy Spirit or at the home of the bride's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Mason Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Phelps and Miss Brooks, her younger sister, Miss Betty Brooks, and the younger children of the family, Marion and Mason Phelps, will arrive at home on Sept. 7 after a cruise to the North Cape, and final arrangements for the wedding will be made then. Mr. Belden and Miss Brooks will become year 'round residents of Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Belden Sr., who are at their Lake Forest home until fall, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Parker Bryant [Betty Dixon] now. The Bryants will remain for a week or ten days before they return to their home in Lake Worth, Fla.

Also visiting in Lake Forest is Mrs. Henry B. Stimson of New York, whose husband was here but now is in Minneapolis for a few days. Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney, Mrs. Stimson's mother, is giving a dinner for them at home tomorrow evening and a luncheon on Sunday at the Shoreacres. There are many small parties for Mrs. Stimson, just as there are for Mr. and Mrs. Bryant.

Mrs. Nina Higginson Rogers is expected in Lake Forest today to be

FIRST prize for nonsense stories goes to the one about the three cockroaches, Mocha, Doca, and Oca, who found it necessary to get across the river. A water beetle, observing their vain efforts, volunteered to get them across. First he took Mocha over on his back. Then he swam back and got Doca, and took her safely across. When he came back to start on his fifth trip across he was so tired he just had to waltz around because he couldn't carioca.

SHORT short story. A Greek restaurant at a southwest intersection of the city was recently remodeled and modernized, with new equipment and a bar added. The day after it opened, representatives of a labor union visited the establishment and attempted to organize the help. Upon their failure to do so, picketers appeared bearing signs that read: "This Restaurant Is Unfair to Organized Labor."

The following day a placard appeared in the window of the restaurant that read: "Employés in This Establishment Are Satisfied with Their Wages and Their Hours and Conditions of Work." The third day this card was replaced with a new card. It read: "This Restaurant Employs Only Union Help."

A SNAPSHOT fell out of the morning mail yesterday. It was a view taken opposite the Dafoe hospital at Callendar, Ontario, and showed a souvenir and refreshment stand. The sign read:

"Madam Legros and Madam Lebel Midwives of the Quintuplets bid You Welcome."

TEMPER tester No. 12. Switchboard trafic was heavy, so a faculty member at Mundelein college stood patiently in a student booth dropping nickels into the slot to pay for an urgent telegram to California. Nickel after nickel went in—twenty of them. When only two remained to be inserted, an avalanche of five cent pieces shot out of the return slot.

"I am sorry, madam," said the operator pleasantly, "but I lost count. May I have them again, please?"

Add Another Van Gogh to Exhibit Here

"On Threshold of Eternity" to Be Shown.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Coincident with the arrival of the celebrated collection of the works of Vincent Van Gogh at the Art institute yesterday came word that the great Dutch modernist's superb "On the Threshold of Eternity," not hitherto shown in the United States, would arrive from Holland in time for the preview on Aug. 25.

Eager Van Gogh followers, who were admitted to the institute basement yesterday to watch the unpacking of the treasured works, saw a crayon sketch of an old man, hoary head bent low over his chest. This was the drawing, made in 1880, from which Van Gogh constructed "On the Threshold of Eternity" nine years later while he was an inmate of a sanitarium at Saint-Rémy.

The completed painting, elaborating greatly upon the sketch, shows the hoary headed man slumped in despair on a wooden chair, his fists rammed into his eye sockets. The work is brilliant with the scintillant yellow, Van Gogh's self-termed "butter yellow," which no painter, either before or after Van Gogh, has been able to produce, with the faded blue clothes of the man and the plain gray white walls enforcing the mood of desolation.

Every phase of Van Gogh's work will be shown in the exhibition, Aug. 26 to Sept. 23, from his first dark murky peasant studies in Holland and Belgium through the brilliant, yet tumultous, work of his later life at Arles and Saint-Rémy.

Typical of the Van Gogh eccentricities of this later period is "Road with Cypresses," a radiant painting of a pair of cypresses rising mightily beside a road—leaves, road, and countryside rhythmic with movement and color—but climaxed by a geometrically perfect sun on one side of the trees and an equally perfect crescent moon on the other side.

"My," remarked an employé of the institute as he unpacked it. "He must have been in a state of mind when he made that . . . a real state of mind."

"O, but that was Van Gogh," protested Daniel Catton Rich, curator of paintings. "Once a friend interrupted him as he was painting two suns in one picture. 'But Vincent,' he said, 'don't you know there is only one sun in nature?' And Van Gogh replied, 'Yes, but I lie to tell a greater truth.'"

Van Gogh the painter, the draftsman, and the writer all will be shown in the institute's exhibition. Some 38 paintings will be hung, 42 drawings, and—alongside each work—a copy of the letter in which Van Gogh described it for his brother Theo will be hung. All will be arranged chronologically.

John Charles Thomas to Be Park Soloist

BY EDWARD BARRY.

John Charles Thomas, famous baritone, will appear in Grant park next Wednesday evening as soloist with the Chicago Civic Opera orchestra, it was announced at the band shell last night. Dino Bigalli is to direct. This will mark the third time this season that a guest artist of national reputation has been secured for these lake front concerts. Dave Rubinoff and Rudy Vallee drew the two largest audiences of the summer when James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, obtained their services for the series.

Last evening the Chicago Symphony orchestra played the second concert in its cycle of five. Izler Solomon, young conductor of the Lansing Symphony orchestra, who has been studying under Eric DeLamarter in the Civic Orchestra school, made his first appearance as director of the city's senior group.

Mr. Solomon proved that he possesses a fiery but disciplined musical nature. Its foundation is a sound rhythmic sense and an instinctive understanding of the methods by which it can revivify music without distorting its line. Whether the young conductor has an innate fund of poetry and the power to utilize it for musical purposes cannot be determined on the basis of last night's program, which ran almost entirely to brilliant works.

The Stage

The new theatrical season in New York started last night with the opening of the D'Oyly Carte Opera company from London in a repertory of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas at the Martin Beck theater. "The Mikado" is the offering for the first week. The company contains Martyn Green, Sydney Granville, Derek Oldham, Leslie Rands, Marjorie Eyre, and Elizabeth Nickell-Lean, who figured prominently in the American tour of two years ago, and also Evelyn Gardiner, Sylvia Cecil, and Brenda Bennett as new principals. A Chicago engagement is expected.

Lace Remains Old Favorite of Fashion World

Used in Lovely Clothes for Evening Wear.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The lure of lace for lovely dinner clothes and party costumes is perennial, and the newest collections feature yards of exquisite filmy black stuff, either fashioning complete gowns or being used for accent. Even gloves and hats are flattered with bits of black lace hanging over the brims of the hats and used as diamond shaped insets in black velvet gloves to wear with the hat.

One breath-takingly beautiful dinner ensemble is made with a slinky, clinging black satin slip skirt, the satin as soft as chiffon and with gleaming high lights that make you look inches slimmer. Over this satin slip, which reaches the floor, comes the long sleeved black lace tunic blouse. Sleeves are gently puffed at the shoulders and fit tightly from the elbow to the wrist. The tiniest buttons that can be covered are used down the center, a tiny upturned collar, no higher than an inch, also can be buttoned snug or worn open. The tunic peplum is cut circular and, because it is so full, swirls romantically deep around the kneeline. It's one of the best looking new fall dinner outfits we've found.

The skirt of another black velvet gown has wide bands of black lace alternating with bands of the black velvet. The skirt is gathered peasant fashion at the natural waistline, has a high necked bodice top and short puffed sleeves. Under the full skirt is a thin dull black crêpe underskirt, accenting the beauty of the thin black lace.

Short peplum blouses of black lace are worn over dull crêpe skirt slips. Most of them have long, tightly fitted sleeves and high necklines, and they also can be worn over black velvet or even silver or gold metallic slips or skirts later on in the fall and winter season.

Fashion photograph. . . . Prim and precise, the newest of two piece wool dresses are featured in the current college fashion showings. This model is of dark red wool, with an expertly designed streamline. Covered buttons keep it snug and smooth to the collarline. The skirt is straight and slim, with a center inverted plait. The tiny red hat is trimmed with a pompon, also in red.

Grimmy persuades Mal to attend a New Year's eve party, where he meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners. A month later Mal marries Zelda. The marriage ends disastrously. In a rage at his failure to make a living on the stage, Zelda flings a mirror at Mal and unknowingly destroys the hearing of his other ear. Fourteen years later Mal, under Grimmy's tutelage, has become a great success in pictures, hiding his affliction from his public. Zelda has refused him a divorce. Pamella Wyeth has a home in Pasadena. David Barkley, son of an old friend boards with her. At the première of Mal's latest film David meets Ellen Greet and invites her to a New Year's eve party at the hotel where Mallard lives, and asks Pamella along as chaperon. Mal is mourning the sudden death of Grimmy. David, as a joke on Ellen, has a boy page her with a message that Roger Mallard wants to meet her. Mal, skilful at lip reading, is sitting at the next table. Attracted by Pamella, Mal introduces himself and asks to join their party. David and Ellen desert Pamella. Mal takes her home. There Mal drops on her couch unconscious. Pamella thinks he has had too much to drink. She is unable to rouse him. In the morning David calls. He's been arrested because Mallard has disappeared, apparently kidnaped. Pamella calls Dr. Ware. He says Mal has collapsed from shock and worry; that he mustn't be moved from her house.

INSTALMENT XXIII.

A GODSEND.

Old Florentine lace covered the tray. A glass of golden orange juice mingled its glints with those of thin old silver. Golden brown coffee in a silver pot, two piping brown-gold strips of bacon, thin golden toast, golden honey in a crystal jar, a gold and crimson rose . . . Mal picked up the rose, carefully fingering its petals. What man on the brink of despair could wish for a more perfect talisman!

"Yes, suh. Miss Pam sho' do know how to doll things up."

"She fixed it?"

"Yes, suh. My old woman—Mary—can cook right smart. But Miss Pam's the one that puts on the touches."

"I—I hope I'm not bothering her."

"Not a bit, suh. Miss Pam's a great one for doing things for folks, and she's pined for it lately."

"What do you mean, Ruben?"

"Well, suh, seems like when Mr. William died most all Miss Pam's money is gone. Miss Pam cain't keep us any more and felt awful. Me and Mary would o' stayed on here and worked for nothin'. But Miss Pam say she cain't even feed us. Nobody ain't wantin' cooks and housemen any more, so me and Mary was down to our last two bits when Miss Pam Guess it was the talisman. He did take a fancy to it.

come, lookin' like a rainbow in the clouds, to say she needs us back directly to help her take care o' you all. . . . Seems like it was an answer to prayer. . . . And young Mr. David's been actin' better since you all's been here and since he got out o' jail——"

"So he landed in jail, did he?" Mal grinned.

"Yes, suh. And scaired to death for fear Miss Pam will tell his pa. Seems like he's sorta 'shamed of hisself 'cause o' you. He's meek as can be! Yes, suh, why you's a godsend to us."

"A what?"

"A godsend."

Mal laughed.

"Well, you is now. . . . I ain't seen Miss Pam so happy since Mr. William died."

"Why is she so happy, Ruben?"

"Caise the house is a-buzzin's again. Caise me and Mary are back to look after her, and she's got you here for her to look after——"

"And whom am I to look after?"

"Well, Mr. Mal, I guess you's jest lookin' after the whole works."

"Ruben—do you think—after a while—when I can shave and get presentable that Miss Pam would mind coming up to see me for a few minutes? I'm very anxious to talk to her."

Ruben broke forth into a rumble of chuckling laughter.

"Why are you laughing?"

"Caise, Mr. Mal, they ain't never been a time when I come down with yo' tray that Miss Pam don't say, 'Ruben, has he asked for me yet?'"

Ruben repeated Pamella's question, enjoying in his turn the sudden blaze of light in Mr. Mal's eyes. He added that he guessed Miss Pam wouldn't mind so very much seeing him for at least a few minutes.

* * * * *

Pam was finishing her breakfast with David in the sunny breakfast room. Everything about it was quite white, paneled walls, hangings, table, and dishes. Great bowls of purple-blue petunias caught the sunlight on their petals in the windows, and beyond the windows stalked the long rows of Irish yews down the garden.

Evidently David had suffered a complete reformation to be breakfasting with Pam at 9 o'clock. They both stopped a gay and animated conversation as Ruben entered, and looked up.

He smiled at Pam broadly.

"Mr. Mal'd like mighty much to see you, Miss Pam, if you could spare the time to step up."

"Why—certainly. But is he able yet, Ruben?"

Ruben's smile broke into a grin.

"You cain't keep that man down when he's expectin' a lady. He's gittin' up."

"O, but he shouldn't!" Pam exclaimed with alarm.

"That's what his Jap done kep' hollerin', but he jest went right on into the bathroom and turned on his bath . . . I ain't never seen nobody buck up so strong and so quick jest on a cup of coffee," remarked Ruben from out of his wide observation.

"He surely must be better."

"He's done cured, Miss Pam. Guess it was the talisman. He sutinly did take a fancy to it."

Pam's long dark lashes dropped and shadowed her eyes. A little quiver flickered for an instant in the corner of her mouth.

"I'll go—if you think he wants me," she said very low.

Ruben laughed a few pleased rumbles.

"He couldn't git me out of there fast enough so's he could make hisself sensible to see you. That's what he kep' asayin', Miss Pam, and that it wouldn't take him long to dress.

The door of the pantry opened and a large colored woman, whose intelligent face lighted by as rare a smile as ever graced a human being, thrust her turbaned head in.

"Ruben, bring that tray on out here, and quit you' talkin'."

As the door closed, Pam sat immovable as if she heard something too important to be interrupted by the slightest sound. There was a radiance in her face.

"If that's a compliment, then I thank you."

"Take it that way if you want to. You've certainly changed.

"I say, Pam. Can we touch upon the subject of Ellen, a little?"

"With pleasure."

"I got myself in bad with her the other evening. And I'd like to fix it up."

"Well, why don't you?"

"It would be a real treat to a girl like her, working and living in the sort of places she does, to see a place like this."

"Have her up, by all means, later on. I liked her immensely."

"There's my good old pal! How about some Sunday for tea? Then if Mallard could join us, Ellen's day would be perfect. She's goofier than ever about him. And I'd like her to see that a real lover can be magnanimous."

"Have her up for tea, David," Pam said cordially. "But we mustn't be trying to drag Mr. Mallard into social affairs that might not interest him. He's here to rest. And I want him to feel perfectly free to do just as he pleases."

Women Don't Like Spineless Jellyfish Men

Adviser Tells Husband to Be More Firm.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Although I have been married five years and have wonderful son, I am unhappy about my wife. Since we married, she has been meeting an old friend. This happens when she works part time, which she sometimes does. I have caught them together. The trouble is that I love both her and the baby, and cannot give either one up. She tells me that she doesn't love me any more, but is still willing to remain on for the baby's sake. I offered to let her go if she would leave the baby.

She claims not to be in love with the man, but just wants to go out with whomever she pleases. But I notice it is always this particular man. I told her to go ahead and go out as much as she likes, and when she is finished the baby and I will take her back. I told her I would wait all my life for her. I even told her I would make away with myself if it would make her any happier.

"DIG."

Well, Dig, if ever a man was inviting the distaste of a woman, you are hereby acknowledged as exhibit A. How could a woman care for a grovelling man like you? What do you offer the woman to admire in you? An almost snivelling husband who'll stand for anything! No man ever won a woman by acting like a spineless jellyfish. Your talk of suicide is weak and stupid, dull, and without a breath of heroics. You lay yourself wide open for more and more contempt from the woman by condoning her offenses.

No, Dig. You've got the wrong idea about women. Your kind of woman, anyway. What she is yearning for is a MAN, one who'll tell her where to stop.

Joan Blondell Tells Debt to Sister Gloria

Each Helps Other with Love and Career Plans.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Sisters and pals, even when the width of the country separates them, Joan Blondell and Gloria Blondell are each other's biggest admirers.

Joan was telling about herself and Gloria between shots and rehersals on the set of "Three Men on a Horse" at Warner's. She talked between firing back remarks at a talkative masculine foursome which included Frank McHugh, Allen Jenkins, Teddy Hart and Sam Lovene.

Joan and Gloria, who is five years younger, grew up together. With their family they were on the road together most of their girlhood years. Finally when Gloria turned 19 two or three years ago Joan became her sister's "career director."

"She was offered a picture contract and I wouldn't let her sign," Joan said. "I wanted her to go on the stage and learn her business first. I wanted her to be a finished actress before she went into pictures."

Gloria took Joan's advice. She has been on the stage ever since playing stock and acting as understudy. She was understudy to Shirley Booth when Miss Booth played Mabel in the Broadway run of "Three Men on a Horse." When Miss Booth fell sick for two weeks Gloria Blondell took her place. Right now Joan is playing Mabel in the film of the same story.

Gloria has been the big sister's counselor on matters of the heart ever since Joan's marriage with Cameraman George Barnes went on the rocks. It ended in the divorce court almost a year ago.

This was when Gloria helped her tearful sister; aided her in seeing things clearly and in restoring her sister's optimistic slant on life.

"She made me over," says Joan. "She took hold of me and made a changed person out of me. I should know better than she what life is all about. But I don't."

Since then Gloria has kept on giving Joan advice on how to live and what to do about important things like dates.

"She writes me. She telegraphs me. She telephones me," Joan says. "And I take her advice."

Undoubtedly Joan has had considerable counsel from Sister Gloria about Dick Powell. But Joan isn't telling what sister's advice has been. However, one can conclude this much in talking to her about it: That if Joan marries Dick next month when her divorce from Barnes becomes final, it will be because Gloria has told Joan that becoming Mrs. Dick Powell is the proper thing to do.

The sisters don't see each other in person often. During the summer Gloria has been in Virginia playing the Gladys George rôle in "Personal Appearance." But she'll be out here in a couple of weeks, possibly to attend her sister at the wedding which Hollywood seems to think is "just around the corner."

When she arrives, says Joan, "I'll get a lot of advice from her about how to be happy and I'll give her a lot of advice on how to be an actress." Joan says she tries to write her sister every day and the sister does the same. Gloria, however, tries not to worry her big sister. There was a time, two weeks ago, when she went to a New York hospital for an operation for appendicitis and wrote Joan nothing about it until two weeks later when she was well out of danger.

Bert Lytell has become a major studio director, being assigned to "Love and Laughter" at Paramount. This is a new story by Austin Strong, who wrote the famous "Seventh Heaven," and it begins next week with Irene Hervey and Charles Starrett as leads.

Bill Powell and his stand-in, "Doc" Dearborn, pulled a 200 pound man from danger where he had fallen between the platforms of two railroad coaches just as their train was pulling out of Glendale to take the star and stand-in on a fishing expedition into the high Sierras.

Jean Harlow is still in bed under medical treatment and probably will stay there another week recovering from sunburn poisoning contracted at Catalina Island.

The radio programs of W-G-N yesterday resulted in a $5 contribution for the Tribune Free Ice fund.

The gift was made by Emma M. Sheppard of Elgin, merely, she wrote, "as an evidence of my appreciation of W-G-N's radio programs." Her contribution, together with other donations of the day, swelled the Free Ice fund coffers by $12.40. Contributions are:

Emma M. Sheppard	$ 5.00
Bubbles Oberfelder, 7	.50
Juliette C. Cromwell, 7	2.50
Proceeds of pop-ade stand run by Bill and John Shurtleff and Denny and Larry Freedlund	1.40

Anonymous	2.00
Total	$ 12.40
Previously acknowledged	3,445.33
Grand total	$3,457.73

O. E. Wike yesterday contributed $10 to the Camp Algonquin fund, through which TRIBUNE readers send needy mothers and children on summer outings of two weeks at beautiful Camp Algonquin. An anonymous donor sent $30, the two gifts bringing the fund total to $1,881.64.

If you can help either fund, send your contribution to the Tribune Cashier, Tribune Tower. It will be acknowledged gratefully.

The In-Between Age Child May Be a Problem

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

There is a wealth of information on the little baby, the young child, and the adolescent. The only age that seems to have been neglected is what I call, for want of a better name, the inbetweens—the children of 7, 8, 9, and 10. And yet that is an important age, and one that brings its own special and perplexing problems.

It is the age at which the outside world begins to exert an unceasing influence. Physical freedom and independence have been achieved, and the child's personality and character are reacted on more and more by the influence of the "gang," school, friendships, movies, sports, and books. Often at this age, talents or interests are discovered, and begin to express themselves in crafts and hobbies, or the development of some artistic ability such as music, modeling, or writing.

If often also is the time when interest in school work lessens as the need for vigorous muscular activity increases. Heedlessness, dreaminess, and forgetfulness are other phases through which some children go. Boys particularly often will become clumsy and unmannerly, uncoöperative, and argumentative! Girls will not show all these facets, but rebellion against authority or supervision isn't unusual.

Of course all children at these ages do not go through the changes mentioned. The temperament of the child often determines this, as well as the home treatment.

Surprisingly, however, parents often are entirely unprepared for new developments in personality, and deeply perturbed by them. Their more docile, more independent 5 and 6 year old boy and girl quickly have changed to a different type of person, and they naturally are bewildered.

Subsequent articles will give some constructive suggestions.

Knowing what to expect helps you with your inbetweens—the children from 6 to 12. Mrs. Bevans' booklet, "Living with Our Inbetweens," will be sent out on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Six Penguin Species Added to Displays at Field Museum

An exhibit of six species of penguins will be added today to the collection of emperor penguins from Little America which were recently placed on exhibition at the Field museum. There are only twelve known species of penguins, and the Field museum collection will now include seven. Three of the birds in the new display were collected by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and they were presented to the museum by the Chicago Zoölogical society.

The nesting habits of the penguins constitute the most amazing feature of their lives, according to Rudyerd Boulton, assistant curator of birds. They lay their eggs and hatch their young on pack ice at temperatures from 40 to 60 degrees below zero.

May Basket.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"May Basket" is made up of gay diamond and triangular shaped prints and appliqued to a white ground. The inspiration for the "May Basket" came from England and first was made in this country by a member of one of those famous first families of Virginia. The scrap bag may be called upon to furnish a variety of prints, or certain prints may be used so that each block may be alike. The applique blocks are set together diagonally, with plain blocks in an alternate arrangement. The edge of the quilt may be finished with half blocks or left with the edges uneven and bound in the color to match the basket.

Even Athletic Girls Lack the Physical Endurance of Men

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

A correspondent inquires as to why, among the modern athletic minded young women, we haven't more feminine athletic prowess on exhibit. Yes, she says, she is quite aware of the accomplishments of the Helen Wills Moodys and the Eleanor Holm Jarretts and the Babe Didricksons, Virne Mitchells, and so on. But they are mere drops in the bucket. Big drops, true. But as representing a nation of women who pursue games with avidity their numbers are extremely limited. Why?

An explanation volunteered in a scientific periodical is that the average woman's quota of strength prevents her from being much of an athlete. The differences in the relative strength of the two sexes are greater than any difference in mere stature, we learn. For instance, 54 per cent of a man's weight is strength. Although a woman's muscles may be able to move as rapidly as a man's, it's added, she does not use them as rapidly. It has been found, too, that women show a marked delay in their decision time. [Ed. irrelevant note: Perhaps that's why we are so notoriously late for dates, yes?] STILL:

Certain measurements indicate that women gradually have been increasing in muscular strength in recent years. So maybe, correspondent, you and I will live to see a feminine Babe Ruth yet, or a Joey Louis, or Maxie Schmeling. Just give us time. We were curbed athletically for eons, you know. Time was, and not so many years ago, either, that if a member of the feminine sex even suggested winning a channel swimming pennant she'd have been rushed off to the doctor for examination. Chasing golden apples in beauty contests was the feminine metier, and that was about enough to be heard from her. The Helen Willses, Didricksons, mountain climbing Georgia Englehardts, and sharpshooter Marjorie Fosters probably are the pioneers in a terrific feminine athletic movement.

But scientific study does grant this to woman: That she can stand loss of food and deprivation better than can a man and that she has greater resistance to disease.

Sally's Guests Enjoy Play by Child Actors

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Finally all was well in the little Swiss home in the Alps—Heidi had been reunited with her beloved Alm Uncle and her little friend Klara was cured of her illness and active again, so the curtains closed and the play "Heidi" was over. The attentive audience of 100 boys and girls all sighed happily and applauded heartily. For almost two hours my small guests were rapt over the adventures of the pretty Swiss girl, and they apparently loved every moment of it.

The play was presented by the talented young Jack and Jill players, under the direction of Marie Agnes Foley. The youngsters handled their rôles beautifully, and costumes were interesting. Poor little Heidi has quite a bad time for much of the play, but the happy ending was gay enough to please every one.

My guests all loved the little theater, with chairs and benches made just the right size for boys and girls, and a real stage, with curtains and footlights and everything.

We finished off the party with individual boxes of candy for every child, and I'm sure that each boy and girl who had the opportunity of seeing this play will long remember a pleasant afternoon.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

CHAPTER 1, INSTALMENT V.

More About Strategy.

The master player does not, as is commonly believed, break rules right and left, indulging in fantastic flights of fancy. On the contrary, a greater part of his strategy consists in following the proper strategical methods which are thought out long in advance. Right here I would like to squelch once and for all the recurrent claim that I do not play my own rules and system. I emphatically do follow the system because I believe it represents the best technique and strategy from the standpoint of experts thus far developed. When a better system is built I shall follow it or borrow from it.*

Strategic principles and methods should be slightly modified to fit the peculiarities of individual hands, and also to satisfy the urgent psychological considerations, which are also part of strategy. But no rules are broken unless they be simple helping rules for the beginner. In my opinion, the greatness of Napoleon's military strategy did not lie so much in the brilliant coups executed at the battlefields, as in the marvelously coördinated and thought out routine of his strategical methods which made the execution of his coups possible. He was great because his strategic system was superior to that of opposing generals.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 diam.	Pass
3 no trump	Pass	Pass	Pass

South should have bid one heart over one diamond rather than jump to three no trump.

West opened the five of spades, dummy played the ten, East covered with the queen, and the hand was over! East had nothing to gain, everything to lose by putting up his queen. Dummy had no entry outside the spade suit. Whether or not declarer had the spade king, East should have played low to the first lead. If West had the king, the queen play would neither lose nor win, since it would establish a second-round finesse. But if declarer had the king, the queen play would set up three spade tricks, whereas a duck would give declarer only two.

It is true that even had East ducked, declarer could have made his contract by a throw-in play, but there was no sense in making the hand a lay-down for him.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Is the overcall of an opponent's preëmptive three bid with three no trump a forcing bid, the same as four no trump over a preëmptive four bid?

Answer: No. Usually a three no trump overcall of a preëmptive three bid shows a long solid minor suit with a sure stopper in the opponent's suit and sure or probable stoppers in the other suits.

*Good ideas are the property of all. I have always welcomed any author who thought kindly enough of my ideas to borrow them, even though at times no credit was given or they were disguised under a new label. I always thought "a rose by any other name would smell as sweet." Right here I wish to acknowledge my indebtedness to other authors such as Messrs. Sims, Lenz, Jacoby, and many others from whose gardens I have plucked many luscious fruits in building the new Culbertson system. It is my job and duty to take the best from any system and to present it to my bridge loving friends.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Your interest in beautifying yourself via the cosmetic route is about to be put on the basis of an applied science.

Women instinctively know the psychological value of cosmetics. Now, slowly but surely, they are learning their correct use. In many schools, in the physical education or personal hygiene divisions, teachers are beginning to do their untrained but willing best to give students sounder understanding of what to use in the way of beauty aids, and how.

Cosmetology, or whatever you choose to call it, has not as yet a place on the school curriculum. But it will have. Witness the fact that this year Florence Wall, consulting cosmetic chemist and author of three standard textbooks on beauty culture, has been engaged by New York university to give a course on cosmetic hygiene during the fall term. It seems inevitable that other universities will follow suit.

"The correct use of cosmetics," according to Miss Wall, "is the final artistic touch of scientific care of the human body. We who are interested in the professional standing of cosmetology are now going through the regular routine through which all have had to fight their way in securing recognition for one profession after another. Of the many now respected professions several have had their educational foundations and gained their professional standing within the memory of many of us.

"Cosmetics must inevitably come next. The use of cosmetics can no longer be regarded as a passing fad; it has come to stay as an important factor in the personal good grooming which is now so essential in everyday business, professional, and social life. No industry could have jumped from approximately nowhere in 1906 to the enviably high place now held by cosmetics if it were based on vanity alone."

Miss Wall's course will be open to teachers, advertising copy writers, personnel directors, and vocational counselors.

A second important indication of the intelligent approval of cosmetology is the step taken last year by Stephens college in Columbia, Mo. A beauty consultant with technical and artistic training has been engaged to teach the junior college students how to make the most of their looks.

This change in the point of view about the importance of cosmetics is of more than a little interest, not only to those engaged in the "beauty industry" but to Mrs. Consumer—and her daughter who will be the Mrs. Consumer of tomorrow.

9TH PRISONER CONFESSES IN COURT FRAUDS

Investigators Implicate Another Suspect.

Sherman T. Kimbell, a tax title research expert with offices at 107 North Clark street, confessed last night that he aided in swindles by which several thousand dollars have been taken from escrow funds in the offices of the clerks of the Circuit, Superior, and Probate courts.

This was announced by Eugene J. O'Connor, investigator for the state's attorney, who had previously gained confessions from eight other persons implicated in the fraud.

Ex-Postmaster in South.

Kimbell, who is 65 years old, lives at 1361 Walnut street, Western Springs. He said that he was formerly a postmaster in a small town in Tennessee, and that he was convicted in 1934 of passing stolen bonds, but was pardoned by the governor of Tennessee in the same year. He came to Chicago soon after he was pardoned, he said.

O'Connor said that he found evidence connecting Kimbell with at least five of the frauds whereby the gang of swindlers obtained by means of fraudulent court orders money that was held in trust by the various court clerks while legal ownership of the funds was being established.

A typewriter taken from Kimbell's office, O'Connor said, apparently was the one used to make out several of the forged court orders.

Implicate Retired Undertaker.

Having taken Kimbell's confession, the investigators turned their attention to Fred Roberts, 62 years old, 6120 Stony Island avenue, a retired undertaker, the tenth person in custody. O'Connor said he had proof that Roberts participated in at least two swindles in the office of John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court, in which the amounts of $2,100 and $1,000 were taken.

Seven of those who confessed previously are men and one is a woman. The investigators said that they are seeking two other men suspected of complicity in the gang's operations.

Toledo, O., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—The ten day strike of 300 union employés of the Ohio Fuel Gas company and the Northwestern Natural Gas company ended today when the Gas Workers' union unanimously voted to accept an agreement reached by a union committee and company officials yesterday. The men will return to work tomorrow. Terms of the agreement were not made public.

INSISTS JAPAN ALONE SHOULD HAVE VOICE IN DEVELOPING N. CHINA

PEIPING, China, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Japan alone should have a voice in the economic development of North China, Shigeru Kawagoe, Japanese ambassador to China said today.

Not even China's recognized government at Nanking should participate in improvements of the north, said Kawagoe, on a tour seeking coöperation of Northern Chinese in Japan's program to "reconstruct North China." Economic development should be achieved, the Japanese ambassador stated, "locally with only Japanese aid."

"Japan has adapted occidental science and technique to Asiatic needs," he said.

GUN GANG ROBS THREE AND LOOTS SAFE IN OFFICE

Four gunmen robbed W. D. Burns, 120 Clyde avenue, Evanston, part owner of the Burns-Le Vee company, wholesale furniture house at 340 West Ohio street, and two employés of $580 in cash, $500 in checks, and two wrist watches when they invaded the company offices at noon yesterday. The robbers forced Burns, Paul Parazin, 5004 School street, a bookkeeper, and Edward R. Fink, 1734 North Oak Park avenue, to stand against a wall. They took $80 and the watches from the men and $1,000 in cash and checks from the office safe.

COACHES DRIVE ALL-STARS THROUGH FIRST NIGHT DRILL

2 HARD SESSIONS FOLLOW TEAM'S LOOP LUNCHEON

Shakespeare Back at Work.

Openings in Band

THERE still are places available in the college band that will entertain between halves of the All-Star football game. Members of college bands who are spending the summer in the Chicago district are invited to join. The group will be in the charge of Glen Cliffe Bainum, director of the Northwestern university band. Applicants are asked to report to Mr. Bainum at Fisk hall between 2 and 4 or between 7 and 10 p. m. today or tomorrow for uniform fittings. Please bring your instruments.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Three teams of All-American football players swept through a two hour drill last night at Dyche stadium with a smoothness and accuracy of the attack that threatens to push aside the Detroit Lions at Soldiers' field the night of Sept. 1. It was the second hard workout of the day, the first having been held in the afternoon after the squad had returned from the Inter-fraternity club luncheon in the loop.

Last night's drill was the first under the arc lights. With the exception of a few friends and relatives of the squad members, no one was permitted to watch as Coaches Bernie Bierman, Elmer Layden, and Lynn Waldorf directed the execution of plays. Coach Bo McMillin, who visited Vincennes, Ind., where he had contracted to direct a coaching school prior to his selection to the All-Star staf, missed yesterday's drills. He will be back today.

All Display Pep.

The players were full of pep in their workout under the lights. They were talking it up and they were backing up their words with action. When a team races thirty yards on each play you may be sure that there's plenty of zip. Thirty yards of running, at least to the linemen when it's signal drill, can become drudgery unless they have the desire to go places.

The boys had the drive. One obvious reason, of course, was that the squad now has been broken into combinations and the fight is on for No. 1 ranking. Eleven players have been chosen by the fans of the nation to start the battle against the Lions, but the coaches have indicated that the eleven All-Americans will stay in the game only as long as they produce results against the National league football champions.

Shakespeare Back at Work.

Each of these boys worked as if the game with the Lions were tomorrow night instead of Sept. 1. And remember that this drill was the second of the day!

These assignments do not necessarily mean that substitutions for the starting eleven will be made immediately after the start of the game. But it does mean that the coaches are seeking the men who can best be welded into a speedy, driving unit.

Bill Shakespeare, Notre Dame's great half back, who won a starting position in the national poll, was back at work last night for the first time since his ankle was injured last

Randolph Will Rejoin Lions for Star Game

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Aug. 20.—Peace and quiet was restored around the Cranbrook school here today as the Detroit Lions, professional champions of the world, lolled in the shade and played golf after seven days of intensive work for their game against the College All-Stars at Chicago on Sept. 1.

The Lions work on a six day week. Throughout the regular season they are permitted one day off to forget football. What a man does with his free time is of no concern to Coach Potsy Clark. Although Clark views the All-Star game as the most momentous occasion in the club's history, he sees no reason why there should be a change in this custom. Consequently not a football was kicked or a signal called today and the 38 members of the squad roamed the campus and visited Detroit, 20 miles away, free from any official responsibility.

Coach Clark went to Detroit where he outlined plans for another week

Talking It Over

BO MC MILLIN, whose services as coach of the College All-Stars are helping tremendously in preparing the squad for its game with the Detroit Lions, was the only member of the staf who failed to show up at the Interfraternity club luncheon yesterday. . . . He gave as his reason a previous engagement in Vincennes, Ind. . . . This department suspects that Mr. McMillin became frightened when he heard that five hundred would attend the luncheon. . . . Figures are not available, but we are told neither Mr. McMillin nor his Indiana players ever have appeared before such a vast multitude. . . . Ground for the second legalized race track in southern California will be broken tomorrow at Del Mar on the fringe of Rancho Santa Fe, about 30 miles from San Diego. . . . Most of the money invested in the plant belongs to Bing Crosby, Pat O'Brien, George Raft, and other sportsmen of the movie colony. . . . Montreal bookmakers take 5 cent bets. . . . Gov. David Sholtz of Florida, who was born in Brooklyn, once had a trial with the Dodgers. . . . Sammy Mandell, former lightweight champion, who has been promoting bouts at Northwest stadium, Chicago, has shifted his activities to Rockford, his home town. . . . Royal Brougham of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer followed University of Washington's crew through its victories in this country and then to the Olympic games. . . . On the day Washington won the eight oared championship the Post-Intelligencer suspended publication because of a strike and Brougham couldn't get a word printed. . . . Lorenzo Pack, heavyweight boxer, will be 21 Monday and he plans immediately to break his contract with Jack Kearns, for which Kearns paid more than $4,000. . . .

The spotted horse Ranger that Reb Russell, former Northwestern full back who turned cowboy actor, left with his friend, Police Chief Adams, in Burbank, Cal., during the summer, got too lively in the corral of a film company on location in Arizona. . . . Ranger aimed his heels at the corral posts and incurred an injury to the bone in one leg. . . . He is now back convalescing in Hollywood. . . . Reb is traveling with a circus through the middle west. . . . Football coaches and officials will hold their annual rules interpretation meeting Sept. 1, the day of the All-Star game. . . . Pitcher Harry Kelley, who has won sixteen games for the Athletics this season, his first in the majors, is 32 years old. . . . Wally Berger's pet joke is to put eels in the Pullman berths of his Boston teammates. . . .

When Clark Shaughnessy, football leader at the University of Chicago, was coaching at Loyola of New Orleans, he brought his team to Indianapolis in late November for a game with Butler. . . . It was freezing temperature. . . . Observing his players huddled around radiators in the dressing room, Shaughnessy said: "Come on, boys, let's get out on the field and warm up." . . . The captain spoke up: "Nuts to that. This radiator is good enough for me." . . . The father of Umpire Babe Pinelli of the National league was killed in the San Francisco earthquake, April 18, 1906. . . . This department would like to inquire what Dr. Francis Townsend, sponsor of the old age pension plan, proposes to do about Jess Haines, Flint Rehm, Bob Smith, Tommy Thomas, and Red Lucas of the major leagues. . .

Schmeling, Braddock Bout Definitly Off

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Regardless of what action may be taken by the state athletic commission tomorrow, there will be no fight for the heavyweight crown between Champion James J. Braddock and Max Schmeling in September, according to Joe Gould, manager of the champion.

Gould made this statement today after Braddock had been examined by four specialists who found his physical condition such as to prevent him from either training or fighting at such an early date.

Braddock underwent an examination of his teeth, took a blood test, and was thoroughly looked over by the examining physicians. He was told that he might have to have some of his teeth extracted and that treatment would prevent him from taking boxing seriously for some time.

Want Louis and Schmeling.

Braddock is scheduled to appear before the boxing commission tomorrow afternoon, when they will consider the report of the physicians and determine whether they should grant a postponement of the fight. It appears quite likely that they will. Schmeling has said he will be guided by whatever suggestions they may make for a championship battle.

Pending the meeting of the boxing commissioners negotiations were being made today for a return fight between Joe Louis and Schmeling for a September date. Schmeling conferred with Mike Jacobs, promoter for the Twentieth Century Sporting club, but would make no decision until he heard from the commission.

Schmeling Suggests Miami.

Schmeling held to the idea that he was entitled to the first shot at the championship and would do nothing until he was assured that he could not hope for a fight with Braddock this year. He was still encouraging the plan for a fight with Braddock in Miami, Fla., sometime during the coming winter, probably in February, but Joe Gould definitly disposed of that by announcing that he was opposed to a fight in Florida for the title.

ELEANOR HOLM STILL THINKS SHE IS AN AMATEUR

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Eleanor Holm Jarrett still likes champagne, still thinks she's an amateur, and still thinks her opinion of Avery Brundage, president of the Amateur Athletic union, should not be printed, she said today, arriving home aboard the S. S. Bremen.

Dismissed from the American Olympic team for drinking, Mrs. Jarrett insisted she was "heartbroken," but looked as if she would survive. She thinks she was "the goat of the whole thing," but has no intention of bringing legal action against Brundage.

Wearing two large orchids and a white dress trimmed in what she said was fuchsia, Mrs. Jarrett had her own version of why and how she was dismissed from the team.

Had Five or Six Glasses.

"I was not on an all night party with Charlie MacArthur. I was with a party of newspaper men and I admit I was drinking. I had five or six glasses of champagne."

Here a reporter asked, "Were you plastered?"

"No, I never drink more than five or six," she replied.

"Charlie MacArthur [husband of the actress, Helen Hayes] merely came over to the table and I met him. That was the last I saw of him."

Mrs. Jarrett said she was not warned by the Olympic committee after this party.

Not Given Warning.

"I understand that the members of five or six of the teams were called in and were warned about breaking training. I wasn't at the meeting and I was not given any warning. I knew nothing of my dismissal until after it was announced in Hamburg after the ship docked.

Mrs. Jarrett charged that most of the team was out of the Olympic committee's control on the ship going over. She thought that "about half of them were drinking," but she would mention no names, and asserted she was dismissed merely as an example to the rest of the team.

In explanation of her suspension from the A. A. U., Mrs. Jarrett recalled that she wired Rita Mastenbroek of Holland, the favorite to win Mrs. Jarrett's Olympic title, offering to meet her when and if she won. Soon after this wire was sent, Mrs. Jarrett said she was told she was banned from European amateur competition.

Seeks Reinstatement as Amateur.

Her immediate plans are to seek reinstatement as an amateur before the metropolitan registration committee of the A. A. U. and to appear with her husband, Art Jarrett, the orchesta leader, on a vaudeville tour, starting in Detroit, Aug. 28. She will stay in New York until it is time to leave for Detroit.

If she is not reinstated as an amateur she does not know what she will do, she said. "The tough thing about that is that I've thrown away so much money in order to keep my amateur standing."

Eleanor said she had to pay her own way home, "though I didn't mind that."

"The committee offered to send me home right after I was dismissed. I wouldn't go home then, so I had to pay my own way."

Receives Sheafs of Cables.

Mrs. Jarrett said that she received around 500 or 600 cables while in Berlin. "They all expressed sympathy, and it costs 16 cents a word for cables from America."

"If the back stroke had been won in good time it wouldn't have been so bad, but as it was, the winner was timed in 1:18.9, and I did 1:14 and a fraction just before leaving home."

Sox Move Into Detroit Today on Swing East

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

For the next couple of weeks the White Sox will be making calls at foreign ports in the American league and the prospect of being away from home doesn't disturb them in the least. They'll do their first bit of sightseeing this afternoon at Detroit in the first of a four game series and thereafter must make a hurried swing through the east before steering back to Comiskey park.

What the Sox did on their last tour long the Atlantic seaboard is what they want to do a second time. It was during that jaunt that they suddenly made the rest of the league yell, "There's a ringer in the house." They took two out of three at Boston, the same at New York where the Yankees invariably are tough, three straight at Washington, and four in a row at Philadelphia.

Concentrates on Rip's Bat.

With his pitching staf once more intact, except in the Monty Stratton case, Manager Dykes now is concentrating his mental magic on Rip Radcliff's bat. Rip was hitting like a fiend when the team was winning consistently. When he began to slump a couple of weeks ago the victories became infrequent. But in the last few games at Comiskey park he began to show signs of getting back to his normal, rhythmic swing and a few base hits resulted. He's probably on the upgrade.

One other fellow who can help make the eastern tour a howling success is Jack Hayes. He also was hitting when the big splurge was under way. Recently he has been less effective. However, Zeke Bonura's bat is popping base hits with marked regularity. Nobody seems to have discovered, thus far, a way in which to slow down Luke Appling. So if these two fellows keep going and some of the others should remain below normal the Sox will still have an attack of consequence.

Stratton May Go Back.

Before the Sox return home for a series starting with Cleveland Sept. 5 it is probable that Stratton will have returned to the ranks of the regular starters. He's warmed up daily for the last couple of weeks and can pitch now, but might have trouble going more than a few innings. Dykes will give him a finishing job at the first opportunity and if he looks strong a starting assignment will follow. He's been out for about three months following an appendectomy.

PAULINO UZCUDUN REPORTED KILLED BY FIRING SQUAD

LONDON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Reuter [British] News agency today reported from Madrid that the Ponta Vedea radio station announced Paulino Uzcudun, the Spanish prize fighter, had been killed with a number of others by a government firing squad.

Previous reports of the death of Uzcudun had gone unconfirmed. There was no confirmation of today's report from any source.

VAUGHAN'S HIT IN 11TH DEFEATS LON WARNEKE

Champs Helpless in Last 9 Ininngs.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 20.—Even in these days of dire distress, your Cubs will not accept charity.

Manager Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates graciously donated seven runs to the defending champions in the first two innings here this afternoon. But they promptly gave back those seven runs to put the game on an even basis and in the eleventh inning put on their daily swoon to provide the Pirates with an 8 to 7 victory.

It was the Cubs' third straight defeat here and their eighth in eleven games on this trip. The defeat dropped them to four and a half games behind the St. Louis Cardinals and three games behind the New York Giants.

Starts Rookie Pitcher.

Manager Traynor tried to help the Cub cause by starting Pitcher Russ Bauers, a youthful right hander who hurled in Chicago semi-pro circles last year. Bauers was frightened and wild, and before he was removed in the second inning the Cubs had scored five runs on four walks, a hit batsman, and two hits. Mace Brown, who relieved Bauers, was horribly ineffective, and before their half of the second was finished, the Cubs were leading, 7 to 0.

That lead should have been ample for a team that still has pennant pretensions, but it didn't suffice the Cubs. In the last half of the second Tex Carleton lost his temper and his control when he became irritated at Umpire George Barr, and had to be removed in favor of Larry French.

Hurls Ball Over Stands.

Before he left Carleton set a new professional record for the baseball throw when he heaved the ball over the roof of the 80 foot grandstand to indicate how badly he felt at blowing his third straight attempt to score his twelfth victory.

French, who pitched nine innings only the day before yesterday, faltered quickly, and had to be taken out in the fifth for Lon Warneke. Lonnie pitched a double to the weak hitting Tommy Padden, thereby tying the score. Lonnie pitched brilliantly from the sixth to the eleventh, when the Pirates pushed over the winning run in the following manner:

Lloyd Waner, hitless his first five times up, poked a single through the box which Billy Herman might have fielded. Woody Jensen poked a double which landed about two inches fair back of third. Paul Waner was purposely passed, and Arky Vaughan lashed a single to right center for his fourth hit, winning the game.

Birkofer Deserves Victory.

That hit earned a victory for Fat Ralph Birkofer, who richly deserved it. Over the nine inning stretch from the third to the eleventh Birkofer allowed only two hits and one walk. He didn't allow a single Cub to reach second base.

Thirteen more days until the 21 game winning streak!

The youthful Bauers quickly proved he was scared to death by his first appearance in a big league park. As a result the Cubs scored two runs in the first inning on three walks and a single. Twelve of Bauers' first fifteen pitches were balls. He walked Allen and English. Herman sacrificed and Demaree walked. Hack forced Allen at the plate, but Galan singled to drive in two runs.

Rookie Finally Yanked.

TRACKER, ROYAL OF BLOOD, WINS FAST RUN RACE

Forgets Plater Habits in the Blackstone.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Tracker, a notorious selling plater with royal blood in his veins, suddenly stepped up into the handicap division at Washington Park yesterday, and after running the greatest race of his life he was returned the winner of the Blackstone by the good comfortable margin of two lengths.

Tracker is a son of Sun Briar-Parade Trail. He was bred on Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Virginia farm. On occasions he had made things very disagreeable for top grade selling platers, but to win a handicap even though it was one of the class C variety was something new for him.

The son of Sun Briar went into the Blackstone carrying the silks of Mrs. M. Shepherd of California. Previously he had raced here this summer in Uncle Sam Holman's silks with considerable success among $2,000 and $2,500 selling platers. He won four of those sort of races at Hawthorne and Arlington Park.

Mrs. Shepherd could not understand why he was running in such cheap company so she claimed him from Holman. Her trainer, W. W. Crees, pointed him for the Blackstone.

No Pink Tea Affair.

The race was no pink tea party in any sense of the word. After Candescent flew into the lead soon after the start the battle developed into a see-saw affair which found five horses running closely grouped as they rounded the last turn and headed into the stretch.

Candescent was leading, Fanfern was running second, Surveyor was third, Colonel Ed was fourth and on the extreme outside, Tracker was stepping along in fifth place. Only inches separated them.

Then it was that Tracker came over sharply. He appeared to have slightly impeded the four other leaders that were running with him. Jocky McCown rushed him forward in a straight line and pulled out into a lead of two lengths. He went on to win by that margin. Colonel Ed was second and his stable companion Fanfern was third.

Tracker ran his six furlongs in the fast time of 1:11. In the betting with the entry of Fanfern and Colonel Ed ruling as a red hot choice, Tracker paid $12.40 to win, $4.80 to place, $4.00 to show. The entry after finishing second and third paid $3.00 to place and $3.60 to show.

Fast Kentucky Miss.

Until the battle was nearly over the Carolyn purse at 5 furlongs for 2 year olds was a most exciting affair. Lucky Ducky, Perlette, Princess Stone, and Sweet Desire all were waging a merry battle for the lead. Finally as the field rounded the last bend Perlette, a 2 year old daughter of Percentage-Escarpolette which races for J. W. Parrish, the Kentucky banker, stuck her nose in front.

From that stage of the skirmish until the finish the race was little more than a runaway for this fast stepping miss. She pulled on away into a lead of two lengths. She lengthened her margin to three lengths then Jocky Joe Renick took her under restraint. Still she galloped on to win by that margin from Sweet Desire and Princess Stone. The favorite, Lucky Ducky, finished fourth.

Perlette went along so swiftly on her journey that she reeled off the five furlongs in :59 1-5, which tied the track record established more than a year ago by the fast running Black Highbrow.

Perlette paid off at $9.60 for a two dollar investment to her backers. Perlette served notice by this smashing performance that she is going to be one of the topnotchers of her division during the remainder of the season.

Circuit Race Program Cut Short by Rain

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Rain today cut the Grand Circuit harness racing program at the Illinois State fair to two events, leaving a six race schedule for tomorrow's final program.

The two events this afternoon were the 2:18 class pace and the 2:18 class trot, with final heats run off in semi-darkness. The winner of the former event was Earl West, brown gelding, owned by Henry E. Warwick, New Hanburg, N. Y., and driven by Vic Fleming. His time in winning the last two heats was 2:04½ and 2:05.

In the 2:18 class trot Dr. H. M. Parshall, Urbana, O., drove Purling Brooke, his own bay mare, to victory over the great stallion, Raider, who failed to overcome the handicap of a heavy track. Purling Brooke's time for the first 2 heats was 2:07 and 2:08. Raider, driven by Harry McKay, won the final heat in 2:08½.

DARK SEEKER, under mild reserve for half a mile, gained gradually when urged, overhauled DANCE PRINCESS in the stretch, then drew clear in the final stages. DANCE PRINCESS had fine speed from the start, continued well to the final eighth, where she weakened and gave way to the winner near the end. HARVEY G. O., slow to settle into stride, was on the inside throughout, closed resolutely in the stretch and just got up for third place.

SHORT SKIRT displayed more speed than usual, set the pace under steadying restraint, continued gamely under pressure, and held sway to the end. CEALLAIGH, a strong factor throughout, forced the pace after the opening half mile, offered a mild bid, but the winner repulsed it handily. MARY CARDINAL, on the outside throughout and forced to lose much ground while gaining, responded gamely to strong riding, but was not good enough.

TRACKER, a strong contender from the start, and benefitting when he sharply impeded the leaders as he went to the front, drew out in the stretch and won with something left. COLONEL ED, in close quarters most of the way and forced to ease when impeded, recovered quickly and closed strong. FANFERN, also in tight quarters on the turn, came to the inside for the drive and finished fastest.

STOP SCOUT, taken in hand for three-quarters, took command when urged, continued gamely under occasional pressure, and easily held SUN X. safe in the drive. COACHES DRIVE STARS THROUGH 2 HARD DRILLS

Lawrence Great Blocker.

Lawrence, who has been very impressive in the scrimmages and is one of the best blockers on the team, is a dark haired, husky lad with plenty of speed. With Riley Smith and Beise also helping on the blocking, there is high hope that Berwanger will break up the game with the Lions.

Lawrence received his chance to step up a notch when George Roscoe of Minnesota was injured. A flying cleat cracked Roscoe on the cheek bone Wednesday. Examination revealed a fracture and yesterday afternoon Dr. Marcus Hobart operated at the Evanston hospital to reduce the fracture and insure that a blow on the same spot later would not injure the nerves.

Roscoe will not be able to play against Detroit. He is the first major casualty of the training period. However, after a layoff of six weeks, so it was reported yesterday, he will be ready to join the Chicago Bears, who have signed him for the professional season.

Levoir Directs Group.

Babe Levoir of Minnesota was the quarter back for a group of backs which had Chuck Cheshire and Dick Heekin alternating at left half, Joe Maniaci at right half, and Hugh Duvall at full back. Wally Fromhart, Notre Dame quarter back last fall, was paired with Mike Layden at right half, Don Elser at full back, and with Bill Renner and Tuffy Leemans, alternating at the left half post where the passing and opening field running of these boys best can be utilized.

Glenn Seidel, Minnesota's other great quarter back, who was forced from action last fall in midseason by injuries, directed a back field group which had Dick Crayne and Tillie Manton at full back, Les Lindberg and Wally Cruice at right half and John Oravec and Shakespeare at full back.

Stydahar Displays Determination.

Later Stan Pincura, another forward passing ace, went into call signals on this squad supervised by Elmer Layden, and Bobby Wilson, the pint sized racer from Southern Methodist took a ball carrying job at left half.

Big Joe Stydahar typifies the spirit of the players. Joe has three stitches in his chin, a cut ear and a leg muscle injury, but he's after a tackle job and nothing will keep him from proving he's worthy of that job. There are others with minor ailments, but the only other player who cannot work out is Darrell Lester, Texas Christian center, who pulled rib muscles blocking one of the big bags during a drill last week.

Plays Perfected Rapidly.

The plays that the All-Stars now have been given are being rapidly perfected. There is a dash to the attack which increases the deception and, if the Lions wish to know, the All-Stars can toss the ball exceedingly well, both on forward passes and on lateral passes.

The schedule for today again calls for afternoon and evening practice. Both will be secret, it was announced last night, and guards will patrol the enclosed field.

Cunningham Lowers 800 Meter Mark in Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Glenn Cunningham, second to Jack Lovelock in the Olympic 1,500 meter run today bettered the listed world record for 800 meters when he was clocked in 1:49.7 in an international track meet. The record of 1:49.8 is held jointly by Tom Hampson of England and Ben Eastman of the United States.

All Star Players Recall Biggest Football Thrills

Bill Renner, Michigan—Defeating Ohio State in 1933.

Larry Lutz, California — Playing sixty minutes in his team's 14 to 13 victory over St. Mary's in 1933.

Lou Zarza, Michigan State—Scoring winning touchdown against Temple last fall.

Eddie Erdelatz, St. Mary's end, is quite a crooner and while in college he, with two other members of the Gaels football team, Meister and Kordick, formed a trio that gained considerable renown on the west coast.

Jimmie Lawrence, 190 pound Texas Christian half back, averaged 4.25 yards per carry last fall. He also caught 21 passes out of 35 thrown to him, for a total yardage of 201 yards.

Wally Fromhart, Notre Dame quarter back, will be assistant freshman coach at Notre Dame next fall while he continues his studies at the university.

Jay Berwanger and Vern Oechs were in such a hurry to return to Evanston after yesterday's luncheon in the loop that they were arrested for speeding by Chicago Parks police. Berwanger posted a cash bond and will appear in court this morning.

"Knock, Knock," the current song craze, is the rage among the players. Sheldon Beise is the most prolific punster on the squad. His favorite is one on Lou Zarza, Michigan State end. It follows:

"Knock, knock."
"Who's there?"
"Zarza."
"Zarza who?"
"Zarza cabin in the cotton."

Pat Page, former University of Chicago coach and former head coach at Indiana, was among the spectators at the afternoon practice session.

of strenuous drill and assured Owner G. A. Richards that Clare Randolph, veteran center, would be available to face the All-Stars on Sept. 1. Randolph suffered a bruised hand in yesterday's scrimmage. It was thought at first that Randolph had fractured his hand.

Loss of Randolph would leave the Lions without an experienced center, throwing the burden on two rookie ends who are being tried at the position. One of these is Delbert Ritchhart of the University of Colorado, who has had college and prep school experience as a guard.

Ritchhart is 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 195 pounds. The Lions signed him on the recommendation of his coach, Bill Saunders, who gained fame in 1919 by running out from the Navy bench and tackling a Great Lakes half back streaking down the field to a touchdown. He will continue to work at center and in all probability will see action against the All-Stars as relief for Randolph.

Wants Team at Best.

The Lions have progressed favorably in their first week's drill, but there was a dubious tone to Coach Clark's résumé of the early work. The team which whipped the New York Giants for the world's championship and the right to meet the All-Stars on a storm swept field last December, has reached its normal state of development for this stage of its training, but Clark believes it should be a little farther advanced in view of the importance of the Chicago contest.

It was indicated that the All-Stars will be confronted with nothing but veterans on the night of Sept. 1. New men are having difficulty learning the intricate offense which has made the Lions one of the best ground gaining units in football for several years.

The chief reason for reliance on tried and proved players, however, is Coach Clark's belief that the Lions' only hope of victory lies in outwitting the great collection of collegians and capitalizing on what mistakes they may make.

Clark, discussing the Minnesota system which the All-Stars will use, pointed out that it is almost identical with that used by the Lions. This will give the fans an opportunity to draw a better comparison between the two teams. Timing is the principal requisite in the Lions' offense, just as it is in the Minnesota system. Most of the Lions' subsequent drills will be devoted to this important item. Meantime, the Lions eagerly question all visitors from Chicago, wondering whether its true what they say about the All-Stars.

BOW AND ARROW IS AT TOPS FOR SHERIDAN STAKE

The Sheridan handicap, which replaced the American Derby on this year's Washington Park program, will be run before the largest crowd of the season on Saturday, it was indicated yesterday.

President Walter Gregory reported that the advance sale of box and reserved seat tickets indicated a crowd of upward of 20,000.

Chicagoans are beginning to believe a Bradley victory will come out of the Sheridan. Reports from the barn of Col. Bradley, over which Trainer Bill Hurley is the reigning chief, are to the effect that Bow and Arrow is coming up to the race in fine condition. Trainer Hurley wasn't certain whether he would rely entirely on the Bradley color bearer or start Baby Talk as a running mate.

The Northway stable, which usually springs at least one big surprise during a Chicago season, hasn't turned the trick yet this year, but some of the long shot players are beginning to believe that Trainer E. L. Fitzgerald may do it in the Sheridan with the California colt Valiant Fox.

Trainer Bert Michell was fined $100 by the Washington Park stewards yesterday for running Mrs. Emil Denemark's Blind Pig on Wednesday with blinkers without getting permission for the change in equipment from the stewards.

JUNER AND GILLES HOLD 1-LAP LEAD IN BICYCLE RACE

Oscar Juner and Frenchy Gilles held a one lap lead last night in the national amateur six day bicycle race at Humboldt park. Charley Yaccino and Ray Ligman of the C. Y. O. were beaten out of the runnerup position by Cliff Bullivant and August Chizzolin of Newark, N. J. However, six teams were tied for second place in mileage and there were only four laps between the leaders and last place.

Most brilliant riding of the day was done by Andrew Quinn of Plainfield, N. J., and his partner of one day, Martin Deras, San Jose, Cal. In eleventh place at the day's start they jammed their way through the field to gain three laps, winding up in fifth place and in the six team deadlock for second in mileage.

GRANT SPRAINS ANKLE, BUT WINS AT CASINO NETS

Newport, R. I., Aug. 20.—(AP)—After being carried off the court with a wrenched ankle, Bryan Grant overruled two physicians today and returned to complete a 6-1, 6-3, 6-2 triumph over Johnny Van Ryn, the Philadelphia veteran, and qualify for the Newport casino's semi-finals.

Grant twisted his right ankle while retrieving a steaming drive in the third set. He crumpled to the court and physicians were called out of the stand to treat his injury.

Grant refused to quit and after his ankle was tightly bandaged, he rested for 15 minutes and then returned to continue from where he left off against Van Ryn.

Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, defeated Bob Harman of Berkeley, Cal., 9-7, 6-3, 6-2. All four players in the upper half quarter-finals matches were Californians and Joe Hunt, national clay court champion Bobby Riggs, both of Los Angeles were the survivors. Hunt gained a 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6 victory over Eugene Smith of Berkeley and Riggs defeated Wayne Sabin, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0.

CARDINALS RALLY IN NINTH TO WHIP CINCINNATI, 4-2

Dizzy Dean Hurls 21st Victory.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, led by Dizzy Dean and Pepper Martin, pulled a game and a half in front in the National league race today by coming from behind to whip the Reds, 4 to 2.

Dean chalked up his twenty-first victory by holding the Reds to seven hits and drove in one of the three runs the Cards shoved across in a winning ninth inning rally. Martin paced the attack with three hits.

Martin, first up in the ninth, singled and Medwick doubled to bring him home. Mize was passed and Leo Durocher singled to send Medwick across. Mize also counted when Dean hit safely with two out.

Tigers Defeat Browns, 8 to 4, on Late Rally

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers defeating the St. Louis Browns, 8 to 4, for a split of their four game series today, pulled up within five percentage points of the idle Cleveland Indians in second place.

Rogers Hornsby's crew, making their usual late season drive, seemed bent on denying the Tigers a chance to gain on the Indians when they took an early 4 to 0 lead.

Tommy Bridges tightened, however, and yielded only three hits in the remaining six innings, while the Tigers were belting Earl Caldwell, Elon Hogsett, and Russ Van Atta for a total of 17, including at least one hit for every member of the team.

OSCAR DE PRIEST TO START COLORED ALL-STAR GAME

Oscar De Priest, prominent south side sportsman and former United States congressman, yesterday consented to throw the first ball at the fourth annual colored All-Star baseball game to be played Sunday afternoon between the east and the west at Comiskey park. Mr. De Priest will start his windup promptly at 3 o'clock. His aim will be directed at John Henry Lewis, world's light heavyweight boxing champion, who will retrieve the ball and pass it along to the west's starting pitcher.

This auxiliary battery then will part company for the afternoon because the former congressman will start rooting for the west and the 175 pound champion will lend his vocal support to the east.

Pirates Spot Cubs 7 Runs, then Win, 8-7

Brown's rescue act was a flop, however, and the Cubs had scored five runs before the side was retired. Herman welcomed Brown with a single, scoring Allen and English. Demaree was safe when Vaughan fumbled his hard grounder. Hack walked to fill the bases. Galan's liner to center scored Herman, and Hartnett singled to tally Demaree.

Carleton staged his ludicrous exhibition of losing his temper in the last half of the second. Before French could put out the fire, the Pirates had started the long drive from behind by scoring three runs. Suhr walked and Brubaker singled without stirring any excitement. But Young worked the count to three and two, and when Umpire Barr called the next pitch a ball, filling the bases, Carleton went into a tantrum.

Cavarretta Is Chased.

Finally Carleton went back to pitch, only to be set off again when Barr called a couple of low pitches to Padden balls. The Cub bench was dcing a lot of yelling at Barr, and he halted the game and ordered Phil Cavarretta to head for the clubhouse. Then the excited Carleton walked Padden to force in a run. Red Lucas batted for Brown and tapped the ball down the third base line. Brubaker beat English's throw to the plate and Carleton screamed and yelled at Umpire Barr over the decision.

French marched in from the bull pen, and Carleton, before retiring, threw his cap to the ground, and heaved the ball clear over the roof of the second deck press box, 80 feet high and 130 feet from the plate. Young scored the third run of the inning when Lloyd Waner hit into a double play.

Jurges saved a run in the third with a brilliant one hand pickup of Gus Suhr's potential single back of second with two out. Vaughan was on second at the time as a result of a double.

Pirates Peck Away.

The Pirates started pecking at French in the fourth. Young beat out a hit to deep short and Padden singled him to third, whence he scored on Birkofer's liner to right.

The Pirates tied it up in the fifth which saw the departure of French. With one down, Vaughan and Suhr singled and Brubaker doubled. Warneke replaced French and fanned Young, but Padden lashed a double to right, scoring the tying runs.

P. Waner walked and Vaughan singled off Warneke in the sixth, but Galan raced back for Suhr's long liner to end the inning. In the seventh, Brubaker led off with a single, only to be forced at second on Young's attempted sacrifice. Padden's infield out sent Young to second, but Birkofer fanned.

Birkofer Holds Champs.

Birkofer, who had taken up the pitching in the third, throttled the Cubs completely. French singled to open the third; English walked with one out in the sixth, and Galan singled with one out in the seventh, but none of them got past first.

Vaughan's second error, a fumble of Jurges' easy grounder, got Birkofer in trouble in the eighth, but P. Waner got him out of trouble with a spectacular catch. Allen shot a liner to right, about fifteen feet inside the foul line. It seemed a sure double but Waner sped over on the dead run, stuck out his glove and speared the ball backhanded for as pretty a catch as ever you saw. Jurges was easily doubled off first, since he was at third when the catch was made.

SASSE WILL USE SALT BATHS TO HARDEN PLAYERS

State College, Miss., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Maj. Ralph Sasse, coach of the Mississippi State Maroons, prescribed old-fashioned salt baths today to toughen up his football players.

Plain salt water will be used in tub and sponge baths for the players after their day's work on the field. Maj. Sasse said brine foot baths were tried out last year with "remarkable" results.

"We figure," he said, "that if it is good for the feet it should be good for the whole body. Boxers use salt to toughen their hands and face. Why shouldn't it be used effectively on football players?"

Teams Master 1876 Baseball for Celebration

Barehanded ball players in old time uniforms with neckties and thickly padded pants played seven innings of fast baseball at Wrigley field yesterday in preparation for Saturday's celebration of the National league's 60th anniversary by the Chicago Cubs, who hold franchise No. 1 in baseball's first major league.

The plays worked smoothly and the players, the picked men of Chicago's amateur leagues, showed that they had mastered the knack of catching line drives and fast throws with their bare hands. Bill Burich, representing Deacon White, Spalding's catcher on the old Chicago lineup, was the star of the game.

Sheehan to Umpire Game.

Jack Sheehan, baseball director of the Chicago Park District, who selected the teams, coached them, and will act as umpire on Saturday, stated after yesterday's practice that both teams are at top condition and have thoroughly mastered the 1876 style of baseball.

Meanwhile, at the downtown office of the Cubs in the Wrigley building, acceptances were pouring in from far and wide, indicating that at the game Saturday and at the luncheon preceding the game, Chicago's celebration of the 60 years of major league baseball will be graced by a distinguished gathering of old time heroes, officials and newspaper writers.

Precedes Regular Game.

Mordecai Brown and Jimmy Archer, a great battery of the pre-war Cubs commanded by Frank Chance, head the list of old-time stars who will be present; K. M. Landis, baseball commissioner, and the presidents of the two major leagues, Ford C. Frick of the National league, and Will Harridge of the American, will attend.

At the ball park, shortly after 1 p. m., there will be a parade featuring old-time equipages and fans of 1876 vintage, notably Buffalo Bill and the Sultan of Turkey. The sultan made a tour of the United States in 1876 and attended a ball game as part of his Chicago visit.

After the parade, Mordecai [Three-finger] Brown, Jimmy Archer, Clarence Beaumont, Art Nehf and other old-time heroes will be introduced to the fans at home plate. Teams selected by Sheehan then will be sent into action for three innings of 1876 baseball.

Precedes Regular Games.

The anniversary festivities will precede the regularly scheduled league game between the Cubs and the Cincinnati Reds. No gloves are worn, nor any other protective equipment other than the heavily padded pants and stiff bosomed shirts. The padding was all on the front of the uniforms because in 1876 all the sliding to bases was done head first.

Michigan State to Play San Francisco in 1937

Lee and Schott to Pitch Today in Cub-Red Opener

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 20.—The Cubs left this evening for home, where they open a four game series with Cincinnati tomorrow. And will they be glad to see Wrigley field. They arrive at the Union station at 7:40 Chicago time.

Bill Lee, who lost a tough decision here on Tuesday, will come back with two days' rest to pitch for the Cubs in the opener with Cincinnati. Lonnie Warneke was scheduleed to pitch before he relieved here today. Gene Schott will pitch for the Reds.

Even the gals are apathetic toward the listless Pittsburgh athletes. Hardly a thousand turned out for ladies' day today.

Umpire John [Beans] Reardon is moaning at being assigned to the Pittsburgh-St. Louis series. He's just convalescing from the effects of a sunstroke he suffered at St. Louis two weeks ago.

Fewer than 10,000 cash customers turned out for the double-header and two single games here. Attendance yesterday and today was a little over 1,200.

Priest Victor in Park Ridge Plae Dae Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Park Ridge Country club held its seventeenth annual Plae Dae tournament yesterday with more than 160 of the ablest members and their guests taking part, but when the day was over, it was the Rev. John [Jack] Zelezinski, one of the visitors, who showed them all how to play 36 holes of right smart golf.

Father Zelezinski, who has distinguished himself in a number of Knights of Columbus tournaments, began the day with a morning round of 71, one over par at Park Ridge. Until the 16th, he was headed for a 69, but three putted that and found a trap at the 17th. In the afternoon he experienced a trifle more difficulty, notably with the rough, but still finished with a 76 to lead the field with a total of 147.

He finished five shots in front of a member of his own foursome, Rial Rolfe of Sunset Ridge, one of the steadiest par punchers in the Chicago district, who had a finishing total of 77—75—152. With their partners, Bob Brazier and E. H. Kerber, Father Zelezinski and Rolfe also won the low net foursome prize at 36 holes with an aggregate of 594. The prize list:

FREED CONVICT SEES BRADDOCK; IS PUT TO WORK

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Johnnie McGrath, 34, the boyhood pal whom James J. Braddock got paroled from the Iowa state reformatory, arrived here today to take the $35 a week job the heavyweight champion had promised him.

"Hello, Jim," he said to the champ, at the latter's headquarters in the Mayflower hotel. "Thank God, you did this for me."

"Don't mention it, Johnnie," said the champion. "I was glad to do it."

McGrath said later that Braddock had changed a lot.

"Sure, he recognized me right off but I hardly recognized him," he grinned. "He's certainly filled out since I saw him last."

McGrath, who weighs 135 pounds and has two front teeth missing, was serving one to ten years in the reformatory. When he mentioned to other prisoners that he knew the champion he got the razzberry. Just to prove he knew him, he wrote to Braddock for an autographed photograph.

Braddock became interested in the case and persuaded Gov. Clyde L. Herring to parole him in his custody. They had not seen each other for nine years until today.

Braddock will try to get McGrath pardoned. His job will be to sell a parlor game, which is being pushed by Harvey Gould, brother of Joe Gould, Braddock's manager.

BABE HERMAN IN CITY TO PRESENT CLAIM TO LANDIS

Floyd Babe Herman, disgruntled outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, missing since he deserted the club last Tuesday because of his failure to receive a $500 monthly bonus, was located in Chicago yesterday, relieving apprehension over his whereabouts.

Herman came here to lay his contract troubles before K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, to see what could be done about collecting his bonus. He said he had consulted Landis but the commissioner said he had not seen Herman.

"They promised me $250 every two weeks as a bonus from the Reds if I hustled," Herman explained. "I certainly played hustling ball, as everybody knows, but for the last three weeks I missed getting my bonus. I up and quits. I don't have to play baseball for a living, but I want what's coming to me. I think Landis will straighten it out all right."

Herman probably will appear before Landis today when the Reds open their series with the Cubs. Herman figures that Larry MacPhail, general manager of the club, will accompany the team and will be available to Landis for questioning.

MacPhail was quoted as saying that Herman was the most overrated player in the major leagues and that if he went to his home in Glendale, Cal., and remained there the Reds would save about $100 a day.

Junior Star Enters State Tennis Meet

Out of town entries received yesterday were from Dr. Eugene McCauliffe of Detroit, formerly listed in the first ten national singles; Frank O'Connell of South Bend, Ind., and four Kenyon college players, Don McNeill, Morey Lewis, Gordon Reeder, and George Pryor.

Chicago stars include Thane Halsted and Art Kaiser of the home club.

In the women's division Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind., high school athletic instructor, probably will head the seeding, with Margaret Stiel of the home club likely to draw the No. 2 position.

In this division also are Wilma Perry of Bloomington, Ill., champion of the Little Nineteen; Bernice Surrillo, Chicago parks titleholder, and Elizabeth Kesting of St. Paul, northwest clay courts and Michigan Riviera champ.

Sixteen year old Kitty Lawrence, who has been showing much ability on north shore courts this season, is a late girl division entrant, as are Robert Jake and Sherwood Gorenstein of Milwaukee, who ran one-two in that city.

Play will start at 2 o'clock tomorrow with Chester Johnson, former president of the Western association, the official referee. The semi-finals will be played Aug. 29 and the finals the following afternoon.

GREENBERG LOSES IN PUBLIC PARKS TENNIS TOURNEY

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The "schoolboy brigade" faded from the national public parks tennis tournament today as the singles list was reduced to the four semi-finalists. M. C. Hopper, 18 year old Tulsan, lost to MacNeill Smith of East St. Louis, 0-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Carl Fischer of Detroit proved more durable than Chicago's champion, 15 year old Seymour Greenberg and Fischer triumphed 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-3.

As a semi-final opponent tomorrow, Fischer will have M. J. McLaney of New Orleans, who beat Bill Hughes of Memphis. Smith will meet the west coast's champion, Louis Wetherell of Los Angeles, who marked up a straight set triumph over Frank Keaney of St. Louis.

Helen Germaine of New York beat Merceina Weiss of St. Louis, 6-1, 6-2, and tiny Edna Smith of Cleveland had an easy time downing Constance O'Donovan of Detroit, 6-0, 6-1. Marjorie Lauderbach of Los Angeles ran into trouble before winning over Ethel Haas of Buffalo, N. Y., 7-5, 6-4. Elizabeth Deike, defending singles champion from Pasadena, Cal., blazed through to a 6-4, 6-3 victory over Anna Koll of New Orleans.

MAREK TO FIGHT BOYLE TONIGHT AT WHITE CITY

The Card

Max Marek vs. Eddie Boyle [10], heavyweights.
George Dungey vs. Mickey O'Shea [5], welterweights.
Al Nettlow vs. Wilmer Van [5], lightweights.
Gene Higgins vs. Johnny Terry [4], welterweights.
Chet Le Vere vs. Frankie White [4], light heavyweights.
Ambrose Geohagen vs. Chuck McCarthy [4], light heavyweights.

Max Marek, who knocked out George Valles in three rounds here eleven days ago, tonight will try for his second triumph in his new campaign for recognition as a heavyweight contender in a ten round battle with Eddie Boyle of Cleveland at White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. Boyle extended Leo Lomski on two occasions, although losing the decision both times, and held Cowboy Frankie Edgren to a draw in his three best Chicago achievements.

The Cleveland youngster, who generally scales 176 pounds, is expected to be outweighed by about ten pounds. His superior speed likely will cause Marek some trouble. Nevertheless, the 1933 Chicago Golden Gloves champion is supremely confident of scoring his second straight knockout. Al Nettlow, another Golden Gloves alumnus, boxing professionally as a lightweight, clashes with Wilmer Van, Green Bay, Wis., and George Dungey, former Bloomington, Ill., sectional Golden Gloves king, battles Mickey O'Shea in two matches at five rounds. Three contests at four sessions round out the program arranged by Matchmaker Kid Howard Carr.

Pedro Montanez, one of the greatest lightweight boxers in the country, has accepted a ten round scrap with Davey Day at Mills stadium Sept. 9. It will be the first appearance here of the Puerto Rican battler, who will arrive Sept. 2. Since his arrival from his homeland he has defeated such opposition as Frankie Klick, Leonard Del Genio, Aldo Spoldi, Bobby Pacho, Joey Costa, Al Roth, Johnny Morro, and Steve Halaiko to earn New York recognition as a possible welterweight title opponent for Barney Ross.

The bout will head the second major show during the Chicago outdoor season, but it will be the first big program conducted by Irving Schoenwald, who has been promoting weekly shows at Marigold Gardens for the last two years with great success.

Verne Patterson will box William Thomas in a five round amateur windup tonight at Northwest stadium, 4848 Irving Park boulevard. Jackie Reed will hook up with Sherman Edwards in the five round semi-final. Another card tonight will be offered at Grays Lake and will involve boxers representing the Catholic Youth organization. Barney Ross intends to referee at least one of the eight matches booked on the program, sponsored by St. Gilbert's church. Eddie Muldoon and William Goldsmith meet in the main attraction. . . . Paul Shikat has been signed to meet Pat Kelly and Bert Rubi is paired with Red Vagnonne in the wrestling show at White City Monday. F. M.

Minneapolis, Manchester Win in Legion Baseball

Middletown, O., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Teams from Minneapolis, Minn., and Manchester, N. H., emerged tonight as victors in first day play of the American Legion's junior baseball sectional tournament. Tomorrow will find teams from Ecorse [Detroit] and Buffalo in play at 1:30 o'clock, and Middletown vs. Chicago at 4:30 p. m.

New York, Aug. 20.—Persistent strength in United States government long term loans again stood out as the important feature of bond trading today. New high marks since their issuance were recorded in ten of the treasury issues which rose 1-32 to 8-32 point.

Further reflecting the scarcity of offerings of the federal issues is the relatively small volume of sales necessary to carry these loans to new peaks. Sales in the group totaled $487,000.

Trading Interest Light.

Although high grade investments in other sections of the market maintained a firm undertone, little interest was shown in the general run of corporate loans. Speculative activity was resumed in selected bonds of sugar companies which carried Eastern Cuba sugar 7½s up 1⅛ to 1⅜ points and Franciscan Sugar 7½s up 1⅛ points.

International Cement 4s also responded to a brisk demand with a gain of 1⅜ points, while only fractional changes ruled elsewhere among the industrial loans. Secondary railroad issues held within a narrow trading range.

Italian Bonds Advance.

A moderate rally in dollar bonds of Italian origin marked otherwise quiet trading in foreign loans, although prices generally pointed toward slightly higher levels. Italian issues rose fractions to 2 points, while many of the Latin American loans responded to a fair demand with small gains.

Sales of all bonds amounted to $7,505,000, as compared with $8,070,000 on the preceding day.

Hercules Powder.

Investors' Guide: Please let me have information and your recommendations with regard to Hercules Powder company common stock.—
A. M. H.

Answer: Hercules Powder company is the world's largest manufacturer of nitrocellulose, chemical cotton, and steam distilled naval stores which include rosins, turpentine, and oils. It is the second largest American maker of explosives, used largely in the mining and construction fields. Paper making chemicals constitute another major division of the business.

Explosives still rank as the company's leading product, though the relative importance of this division has declined as other departments have expanded and new lines have been added.

More than half of the company's raw nitrocellulose is used by lacker manufacturers, whose principal markets are the automobile and furniture industries. The rayon industry is the largest user of the cellulose division's principal product, chemical cotton.

Except for a sharp dip after the 1929 peak, earnings have been consistently good. Recovery has been notable in the last three and one-half years. In the first six months of 1936, net income was $1,772,000 or $2.51 per common share, compared with $1,544,000 or $2.01 per share in the first half of 1935. Sales were $16,444,000, compared with $14,586,000. The record of the preceding five years:

1935	$39,670,000	$3,176,000	$4.23
1934	25,795,000	3,038,000	3.94
1933	21,969,000	2,363,000	2.79
1932	17,661,000	890,000	0.24
1931	20,450,000	1,431,000	1.04

Financial position is exceptionally strong, current assets being $40,321,000, against current liabilities of only $1,424,000 on March 31, 1936. There is no funded debt.

Dividends have been paid regularly since 1913 on both preferred and common stock, the smallest payment on the common being $2 in 1932. Recognizing improvement in earnings, the company increased the annual rate on the common from $3 to $5 by a quarterly payment of $1.25 on June 25, 1936.

Outstanding capitalization consists of 87,488 preferred and 583,639 common shares, including 9,384 nonvoting shares held by members of the du Pont family. The preferred dividend rate was reduced from $7 to $6 annually last December in consideration of making the issue noncallable until 1941. The preferred is high grade. The common deserves a good rating.

ZENITH RADIO, GEN. AMERICAN BOOST PROFITS

ChicagoConcernsDo Better This Year.

Increased earnings were reported yesterday by two well known Chicago companies, the General American Transportation corporation and the Zenith Radio corporation. The latter concern's profit for the first three months of its fiscal year, the period ended July 31, was the largest for any quarter in its history.

General American Transportation had a net profit of $722,564 for the quarter ended June 30, compared with $702,564 for the corresponding 1935 period. Because there were 961,000 shares outstanding during the 1936 period, while there were 848,003 outstanding in the 1935 period, the per share earning for the 1936 quarter was lower, being equal to 75 cents a share, compared with 86 cents.

Six Month's Profit Larger.

The company, which both operates a large fleet of tank, cold storage and other railroad cars, and also manufactures cars, had a consolidated net profit of $1,030,589 for the six months ended June 30, compared with $945,265 in the first half of 1935. On a basis of the 905,778 average shares outstanding during the six month period, per share earnings were equivalent to $1.13, compared with $1.15 on an average of 818,203 shares during the period a year ago.

Hugh Robertson, vice president and treasurer of Zenith Radio, said the profit for the first quarter of its fiscal year was $706,940 before federal income and profits taxes. For the like period of last year the company reported a profit before income taxes of $62,422. Because no allowance is made for federal taxes it is not possible to estimate per share earnings.

Volume Exceeds Expectations.

"Shipments so far this month and orders on hand indicate a much greater volume for August than was originally anticipated," Robertson declared. "Orders already on hand for September shipment exceed scheduled production for the month.

"While the volume of business done during the quarter was unusually large, the company continued to maintain its usual liquid condition and closed the quarter with no bank loans or bonded indebtedness. All current obligations were discounted."

Earnings of the Crosley Radio corporation for the six months ended June 30 totaled $1,272,356, equal to $2.33 a share, compared with $495,482, equal to 91 cents a share, for the 1935 period. July sales were reported to be well above last year's levels.

Oil Company Earns More.

The Quaker State Oil Refining corporation and subsidiaries reported net income for the first half of 1936 of $552,059 after depreciation and taxes, equal to 61 cents a share on the 902,305 shares then outstanding. In the corresponding 1935 period net income was $361,486.

The Virginia-Carolina Chemical corporation of Richmond, Va., reported a large reduction in profits for the fiscal year ended June 30 as compared with the previous year. Net income for the year, after deducting $592,255 for depreciation and depletion, was $93,754 as compared with $1,277,578 in the previous year.

A. L. Ivey, president, said in his letter to the stockholders, that the "one and complete explanation" of the large drop in profits, was due to competition, particularly in the states in which the major portion of the business is done.

Fertilizer Prices Lower.

Ivey stated that the company had to market its fertilizers at prices which were much lower than had prevailed for many years and which carried no profit.

Gross earnings of the company amounted to $1,626,335, compared with $2,551,201. Operating loss for the year totaled $368,982, against a profit in the previous year of $639,813. Current assets totaled $9,091,743, compared with $13,773,311 a year ago. Current liabilities amounted to $907,871, against $360,740 a year ago.

The Associated Telephone and Telegraph company reported that for the six months ended June 30 net income was $16,495 after charges. No comparison is available.

The American Agricultural Chemical company reported that its net profit for the fiscal year ended June 30 was $1,005,813, equal to $4.17 a share, compared with $1,427,603, equal to $6.37 a share, in the preceding fiscal year.

CIGARET OUTPUT FOR JULY SETS RECORD; UP 12.6%

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—The record July output of cigarets represented a 12.6 per cent increase over the same 1935 month and caused the first seven months' production to exceed the comparable period of last year by 11.3 per cent. Last month's cigaret production was reported today as over 14,800,000,000.

The July figure brought the seven months' production so far this year to 87,384,000,000, which tops the total of any full year prior to 1927, when feminine smoking began to come into general vogue. In 1927 nearly 93,000,000,000 cigarets were manufactured.

Total 1936 cigaret production is expected by the trade to approximate 149,000,000,000. Last year's output established a new high of nearly 135,000,000,000. Production for the single month of July was larger than that of any one year prior to 1914.

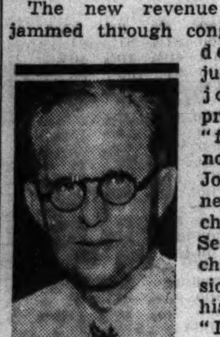
Former Chief of SEC Assails Administration's Revenue Act

The new revenue act of 1936, jammed through congress by President Roosevelt just before adjournment, is premised upon a "fallacious economic principle," Joseph P. Kennedy, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange commission, asserts in his new book, "I'm for Roosevelt," published today.



J. P. KENNEDY.

Kennedy's book in general is highly complimentary to the Roosevelt administration, being an attempt to show that industrialists, financiers, and individuals of wealth are misguided in their opposition to the New Deal because it has benefited their pocketbooks through mounting stock prices and larger sales. He expresses warm personal regard for President Roosevelt and recalls that when he resigned from the chairmanship of the SEC the President wrote him a letter asking Kennedy to continue to regard himself as a "member of the administration."

Act Is Much Criticized.

"Among the accomplishments of the present administration which has brought forth much criticism," Kennedy says, "mention should be made of the revenue act of 1936.

"I believe that justifiable criticism can be urged not only for the manner in which the original tax bill was presented, premising a new and unexpected theory of taxation; not only for the lack of supporting data for the provisions sought to be made into law; but also for some aspects of the statute as finally enacted by congress.

"I believe that the novelty of the approach in a matter of such a grave concern to American business requires that there be the most careful and expert study in order that so far as possible, the provisions of the law be rested upon a scientific basis.

Necessary Data Lacking.

"The time schedule of the present law, while in congress, rendered such an inquiry impossible, and the evidence at the congressional hearings revealed very clearly that there was lacking such necessary fundamental supporting data.

"Finally, I believe the statute, even as presently enacted with a multitude of concessions to special circumstances deserving exemptive treatment, is premised upon a fallacious economic principle. As I view it, the underlying postulate of this statute is that net income is the equivalent of disbursable income, and that it is fair to tax disbursable income and to compel its disbursement by a heavy tax on the income not so disbursed. Space does not permit by detailing the numerous instances where prudent management would require that a sharp distinction be drawn between net income and that properly the subject of dividend declaration.

How Law May Injure.

"The adverse efforts of the new act are, of course, a matter of prognosis. But it appears to me that the revenue act may result unfavorably to two types of corporations.

"First consider the company which has been hard hit by the depression and has been slow in recovery, and is now struggling to its feet. The compulsory change in the distribution policy of such a corporation which the introduction of the surtax on undivided profits is bound to bring about is likely to leave the company is an impaired condition from the viewpoint of financial stability.

"Secondly, the company which is well off financially is now given a premium not to save. Its dividend policy will be of a hit or miss variety, depending on the fortunes of the year, and should another depression overtake us it may find many such companies unprepared for a severe financial storm."

View on Depression.

Kennedy expresses fears of the return of bad times, but says he believes only the defeat of the Roosevelt New Dealers would bring that about.

"There is danger of recurrence of the depression," he says. "In the period from 1926 to 1929, with a much less difficult international trade situation, with a much smaller accumulation of unemployed, and with much smaller bank reserves, we were digging the worst economic pit the country ever was troubled with."

Kennedy's book was published by Reynal & Hitchcock, Inc., New York.

Referring to current criticism of the New Deal by business and investor interests, Kennedy says:

"Many public men who have discussed this problem seem to conclude that we are witnessing the strangest hatred of history, because the most articulate and venomous among the opposition are those very persons whose fortunes have been repaired through presidential activities since March, 1933. The usual historical or logical consequence would be approbation for a leader from such as these. There is a grim paradox in the cold record of a startling economic recovery among those who now advocate the complete overthrow of the President's policies."

HAYES BODY CO. PLANS TO BUILD AUTO TRAILERS

New York, Aug. 20.—[Special.]—The Hayes Body company of Grand Rapids, Mich., manufacturer of automobile bodies, has entered the automobile trailer field. This is the second automotive concern to embark on the manufacturing of trailers within the last month. The Pierce-Arrow Motor corporation entered the trailer field several weeks ago.

Automobile executives believe that ultimately the large motor concerns will manufacture trailers on a mass production basis. Elimination of wood from automobile bodies have rendered inactive the woodworking subsidiaries of the large automobile companies, it was pointed out, and these units could be devoted to the manufacture of trailers.

The Covered Wagon company, an independent company, is ranked today as the largest manufacturer of trailers used for traveling. In June it produced 1,234 trailers, or more than its entire output for 1935. It is estimated there are from 250 to 1,000 trailer manufacturing companies in this country. Most of the larger manufacturers employ less than 150 men.

Grower Ships Hogs in Ice Cooled Car; Gets Top Price

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 20.—(AP)—W. R. Barr's iced pork-on-the-hoof topped the Kansas City hog market today at $11.25 a hundred. Barr, who shipped 68 head from Bartlesville, Okla., placed 1,800 pounds of ice in the stock car to keep the hogs cool. They arived in excellent condition.

UNITED AIR LINES FLIES 100% OF SCHEDULES IN JULY; CLAIMS RECORD

United Air Lines last night claimed an international flying record through completion of 100 per cent of the 1,571,552 miles of scheduled flying in July.

Company officials said this was the first time in the history of air transportation that any line has completed 100 per cent of more than 1,550,000 miles of scheduled flying in a single month.

The mileage was flown on United's New York-Chicago-California midcontinent airway and its Seattle-San Diego route. Averaging May, June and July, the line in the three months' period completed 99.9 per cent of the 4,474,829 miles of scheduled flying.

HEAVY BUILDING AWARDS RUN FAR ABOVE YEAR AGO

New York, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Engineering construction awards for the week ended Tuesday sharply exceeded those of the corresponding period last year and also surpassed the average weekly record so far this year. Engineering News-Record reported today.

The total was $50,072,000, consisting of $5,521,000 private work, $16,720,000 of federal, and $27,831,000 of state and municipal.

Figures for a year ago showed a total of $29,438,000, with private awards at $2,956,000, federal $15,184,000, and state and municipal, $11,298,000.

STEEL COMPANY PAYS EXTRA; OTHERS REDUCE DIVIDEND ARREARAGES

Three steel and steel products companies yesterday took favorable action on dividend. Transue & Williams Steel Forging corporation declared an extra dividend of 5 cents in addition to the usual dividend of 15 cents on the common stock, both payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 15. The company resumed dividends after a lapse of six years last July 1 with a payment of 15 cents.

Crucible Steel Company of America voted a dividend of $1 a share on account of arrears on the preferred stock, leaving an accumulation of $27 a share. The dividend will be distributed Sept. 30 to stock of record Sept. 16.

Gulf States Steel company ordered a payment of $3.50 on accumulations on the preferred stock, leaving accumulations of $24.50 a share. The dividend is payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 15.

A dividend of 50 cents was authorized by directors of Empire Power corporation on the cumulative participating preferred stock, payable Oct. 1 to stock of record Sept. 15. This will leave accumulations of $6.57½ a share. On April 1 and July 1 dividends of 40 cents were paid.

Standard Oil Company of Kentucky declared a dividend of 35 cents on the common stock, payable Sept. 15 to stock of record Aug. 31. Previously the company had been paying quarterly dividends of 25 cents a share. The company reported that earnings for the first seven months of this year were equal to approximately 88 cents a share after charges, but before federal income taxes, compared with approximately 46 cents a share in the corresponding period of last year.

COURT REFUSES DELAY IN PACIFIC MUTUAL HEARING

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Before a courtroom packed with lawyers, policyholders, and stockholders today, Superior Judge Henry M. Willis denied a motion for continuance of the hearing on whether a plan to reorganize the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company should be approved. Judge Willis said the proceedings "probably affect half a million persons scattered over the whole country."

Irving M. Walker, attorney for Harold S. Cook and other members of a stockholders' committee headed by Allan C. Balch, financier, made the motion for continuance. Walker presented an affidavit from Cook asking that not less than 60 days delay be granted with a view of possible sale of the Pacific Mutual assets to another company.

Walker said he realized the stockholders came last in the preferential order of creditors, but believed "the real interests of all parties will be served if the continuance is granted." Judge Willis denied the motion without prejudice, saying it might be renewed later.

AUTO INDUSTRY EMPLOYMENT IS NEAR PEAK LEVEL

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—The motor industry held to its high level of employment through July, in spite of the fact that several plants closed to prepare for the new models, the Automobile Manufacturers' association reported today.

During July 345,000 persons were at work, compared with an average of 363,000 for the entire nine months since the 1936 models were introduced. Thus far, the average employment total is above the 1929 level. The high average of employment was held despite factory sales remaining 15 per cent behind the 1929 level.

Contrasting with this slight variation in employment, sales fluctuated during the nine month period from a low of 217,000 units in February to 460,000 in April. Early introduction of 1936 models, which made it possible to build up adequate stocks before the spring spurt in demand, was partly responsible for the consistent employment. Similarly parts and subassemblies were well stocked in advance.

Abbott Dividend Meeting Is Postponed Until Aug. 27

The meeting of directors of Abbott Laboratories to take action on a dividend rate for the new capital stock, which was scheduled for yesterday, has been postponed to Aug. 27.

CORN ENDS LONG CLIMB AS RAINS HELP LATE CROP

Argentine Imports Are Also Factor.

The corn market paused yesterday in the upward course which has been under way since early in June. Reports of highly beneficial showers in parts of Iowa, Illinois, and Indiana, and messages from the Atlantic seaboard indicating possibly 25,000,000 bushels of Argentine grain had been bought to come to the United States so far this season increased the desire of speculators to secure profits on previous purchases.

At no time were corn prices as high as Wednesday's finish, and with persistent scattered commission selling futures declined 1⅜ to 2¼ cents, with the close at the bottom. September corn sold at $1.14¼ to $1.14½ when trading ceased, the low point of the day.

Argentine Corn Grades Well.

Yesterday's close on September corn was 5 to 5¼ cents below the extreme top on Wednesday, when the price was the highest since 1925. Cash corn in the sample market showed a decline of 2 to 4 cents.

Samples of new crop Argentine corn were received by Chicago interests yesterday from New York, representing a cargo of the grain due to arrive there within a few days. The quality was reported excellent and the grain sufficiently dry to grade No. 2 under the department of agriculture's rules governing the inspection of domestic corn. Moisture content was 14.6 per cent.

Argentine corn is expected to start to move northward via barge from New Orleans within the next 10 days or two weeks. During the 1934-'35 crop year considerable foreign corn was brought up the Mississippi river from New Orleans and distributed in carlots over a wide area.

Other Grains Are Lower.

Other grains were adversely affected by the action of corn. Wheat closed with losses ranging up to 1¼ cents, while oats and rye lost major fractions.

Choice malting barley advanced 2 cents yesterday to $1.43 per bushel, a new high since 1920. Feed grades sold as low as 89 cents per bushel. No. 2 yellow soy beans sold at $1.42 per bushel, equaling the best price of the season on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Closing prices on the September delivery of grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Wednesday.	Week. Ago.	Month Ago.
Wheat	$1.13¾	$1.14½	$1.12	$1.05¼
Corn	1.14⅝	1.16⅝	1.08¾	.89⅝
Oats	.44	.44¾	.43¼	.37¼
Rye	.84½	.84⅞	.81	.71⅝

Speculative interest in the grain markets yesterday was much smaller than on Wednesday.

Wheat Lower in Other Markets.

Increased hedging pressure against the movement of the new wheat crop depressed Winnipeg nearly 2 cents, while Kansas City and Minneapolis lost a cent or more. Liverpool was off a small fraction, with lower Canadian offerings tending to offset reports of unsettled weather in Europe.

Purchases of Canadian wheat by American mills recently are reported to have been so liberal that they have largely offset the lack of European buying at Winnipeg. Since July 1 imports into the United States for consumption have averaged around 1,000,000 bushels per week.

Continued dry weather over the winter wheat belt is increasing trade apprehension regarding the start of the new crop. Plowing is reported to be making slow progress in all sections.

A sale of several thousand tons of Philippine copra meal has been made at San Francisco for shipment to central western drouth affected states. The sale is said to have been the first of record to that section. Heavy purchases of Oriental soy bean meal for shipment to the Pacific coast were made last week.

U. S. TO START BUYING OF SEED GRAIN NEXT WEEK

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Plans for the purchase of $10,000,000 of seed grain to assure a supply for farmers in the drouth area, were announced today by the agriculture department. Jesse W. Tapp, chairman of the department's drouth committee, said purchases would start next week by the Farmers' National Grain corporation.

He said funds had been advanced by the Farm Credit administration and that the purchase of from seven to nine million bushels of small grain would be supervised and underwritten by the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation.

Spring wheat, durum wheat, oats, barley, and flax adapted for use in drouth areas will be acquired and held until next spring for sale to farmers in drouth areas.

DIVIDEND NO. 31. A dividend of Ninety Cents ($0.90) per share on the capital stock of John Morrell & Co., Inc. will be paid on November 3, 1936, to stockholders of record October 12, 1936, as shown on the books of the Company. This declaration comprises payment at the previous rate of 60 cents a quarter for the one and one-half quarter between the last payment June 15, and November 3, and is made to make the Company's dividend payment dates conform more closely to its fiscal periods.

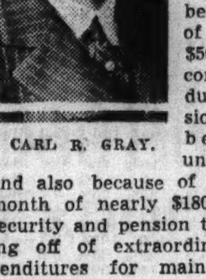
Union Pacific Has Best July in Six Years

The Union Pacific system yesterday reported the largest July operating income since 1930 and more than triple that of a year ago. Operating income was $2,196,338, compared with $698,788 in the corresponding month a year ago.



CARL R. GRAY.

The gain is more remarkable because a credit of more than $500,000 was recorded a year ago due to the pension law of 1934 being declared unconstitutional and also because of a charge last month of nearly $180,000 for social security and pension taxes. A tapering off of extraordinary large expenditures for maintenance offset those factors.

Operating income for the first seven months of this year totaled $7,161,255, an increase of 45 per cent, or $2,241,887, over the corresponding period a year ago.

Low Fares Boost Revenue.

July operating revenues were 32½ per cent greater than in July, 1935. July passenger revenues increased 48 per cent over those of July, 1935.

"We have found out there is an almost inexhaustible market in the field of the coach passenger," Carl Gray, president, said in commenting on the success of western railroads have had with reduced passenger fares. The reduction went into effect at the end of 1933.

"Before the low rates were put in, many of the passenger departments had given this class of travel up as lost to the buses. They were suffering from a defeatist psychology. But the situation is entirely changed now. The passenger departments have their teeth in something today and they are not going to let loose."

Texas-Pacific Shows Gain.

The Texas and Pacific railway reported for the seven months ended July 31 net income of $670,167 after taxes and charges. This is equal to $2.83 a share on 237,030 shares of 5 per cent preferred stock, all of which is owned by Missouri Pacific railroad. This compares with a net income of $255,794, or $1.08 a share on the preferred stock, in the first seven months of 1935.

Passenger revenues of the New York Central railroad increased about 20 per cent in July, compared with July, 1935, according to unofficial estimates. This contrasted with an increase of 11.2 per cent reported for June, when reduced rates took effect in the east. The Baltimore and Ohio and New York, New Haven and Hartford have reported gains of 22 and 15 per cent, respectively, in passenger revenues last month.

New York, Aug. 20.—The Corn Products Refining company announced today further increases in prices of bulk and packaged products in response to the continued uptrend in the price of corn. Bulk goods have been raised 20 cents per hundred pounds and packaged goods 10 cents.

FEDERAL ENGRAVING BUREAU HAS BUSIEST 12 MONTHS SINCE 1929

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—Activity at the bureau of engraving and printing for the fiscal year ended June 30 was the greatest of any year since 1929, the treasury announced today. Deliveries of all classes of work totaled 401,216,667 sheets compared with 308,917,247 sheets in 1933, 315,905,581 sheets in 1934, and 366,380,624 sheets in 1935.

The bureau produced 14,009,511,598 postage stamps of all kinds and 11,112,492,250 revenue stamps. The total in each instance exceeded the total for any previous year in the present administration.

The report showed that a total of 930,376,800 pieces of currency with a value of $3,979,728,000 and 15,023,937 sheets of bonds, notes, and certificates of indebtedness with a value of $30,782,167,860 were engraved during the year.

"Although the issuance of bonus bonds entailed much additional work concentrated in a short period, the yearly figures on currency and bonds produced do not represent new records, either in number of pieces or in value," the treasury said. "During the fiscal year 1936 the United States mints produced 471,040,986 coins valued at $34,539,163.34. The corresponding figures for the fiscal year 1935 were 608,414,207 coins, valued at $39,131,127.65. A marked reduction in the demands for silver dollars and for 1 cent pieces represents the principal reasons for the decrease. During 1935 the mint production of these coins was abnormally heavy.

DAIRY PRODUCTS PRICES BOOSTED TO NEW PEAKS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The agriculture department reported today poor pastures and short harvests had sent prices of manufactured dairy products to the highest levels for the "recovery period." The report said that the drouth had curtailed total milk production on Aug. 1 about 6 per cent as compared with the same date last year. The bureau predicted production probably would continue below the level of last year during the remainder of the pasture season and the coming winter.

While production has been reduced demand for dairy products has increased, with expansion of employment and pay rolls.

ARGENTINE CORN FLOWS TO U. S. IN BIG VOLUME

Import of 50 Million Bushels Predicted.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—Shortage of the American corn crop this year will necessitate increased importation of the grain from Argentina, the bureau of economics of the department of agriculture predicted today. No estimate of the amount of importation was made, but some officials indicated they expected at least 50,000,000 bushels of Argentine corn to enter the American market. Imports from Argentina for the year ended June 30, 1936, totaled 27,000,000 bushels.

The bureau gave as the reason for expectation of increased imports the heavy drouth and avoided mention of the reduction in the crop caused by the "planned scarcity" schemes of the New Deal administration. At the same time the administration is holding down crops through acreage control programs it is encouraging imports under liberal provisions of its reciprocal trade treaties.

Other Countries Benefited.

The crops which had not been planted, the crops plowed under, and the piglets which were killed are now being replaced by Argentina, Canada, South Africa, and Poland. A few days ago Secretary of Agriculture Wallace announced that wheat importations, particularly of red spring wheat and durum, will increase as a result of the drouth. He, too, avoided ascribing the increase to the administration's curtailment programs.

The bureau of economics said the chief interest in Argentine corn will be along the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards where the grain may be purchased cheaper than American corn. Corn prices in Argentina rose several cents in July as a result of the drouth in America, but corn for September shipment was being offered in San Francisco at 93 cents—far below the American price. The price included the United States import duty of 25 cents a bushel and transportation costs of 8 to 10 cents a bushel.

Argentina's crop this year is expected to be the third largest in the history of the country, the bureau reported. A record area of 18,854,000 acres was planted, but drouth, heat, and strong winds held down the yield.

Large Supply Available.

Nevertheless, production is expected to reach 381,750,000 bushels. The record crop of 1934 amounted to 451,943,000 bushels. However, total available supplies for the current marketing year [April, 1936 to March, 1937] are about 420,000,000 bushels, as compared with total 1935-'36 supplies of 452,000,000 bushels.

After allowing for domestic seed and food requirements and the 73,886,000 bushels already exported to all countries from April to July, the exportable surplus as of July 30 has been placed officially by the government at 264,000,000. Private estimates are still higher, the bureau said.

Most of the Argentine corn to come to this country, it was said, will go to the Pacific coast, although some of it may be shipped inland. It will be required by farmers, who before the New Deal exported rather than imported, to supplement feed supplies and reduce the necessity of marketing their live stock before the usual time.

Western Pacific Asks More Time for Substitute Plan

Washington, D. C., Aug. 20.—[Special.]—A request for a thirty day continuation of the proceedings in the Western Pacific railroad reorganization was made to the interstate commerce commission today by T. M. Schumacher, chairman of the executive committee of the railroad. Schumacher asked for the extension to work on a substitute plan if the pending reorganization plan is not approved by the commission.

STOCKS EASIER; SPANISH REVOLT CAUSES CAUTION

Steel and Railway Issues Are Chief Losers.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 20.—Stocks backed and filled in a narrow range today with the tendency being toward lower prices. Losses predominated in the final table with declines ranging from fractions to a point.

Trading was comparatively quiet with a good deal of the day's business of approximately 961,000 shares being attributed to professional operations. After a modest upswing in the forenoon stocks turned down.

For lack of any other convincing reason, students of the market put the blame for the reactionary performance of the list on the seriousness of the news pertaining to the Spanish situation.

Traders in Cautious Mood.

Traders were reported to be in an extremely cautious mood and unwilling to take on new commitments until the situation cleared. In some quarters, however, the setback was looked on as a further process of adjustment. As far as observers could see, nothing happened on the domestic front to cause a change in underlying sentiment.

Steel and rail shares, the leaders in yesterday's bullish session, suffered the most damage today. Carrier issues gave an especially disappointing performance in view of the fact that July earnings statements already in show excellent gains in income.

Atchison finished with a loss of 2½ points. Southern Pacific netted a loss in excess of a point, as also did Chesapeake corporation. Union Pacific, on the other hand, rose more than a point in response to its good earnings statement.

Steel Shares Are Soft.

Steel shares failed to reflect the rise in operations of the industry and second quarter earnings, as well as reports that the first tonnages for new model cars are into the market. U. S. Steel lost a little more than half of the advantage it gained in the previous session. Inland Steel receded 4 points on a single transaction, Crucible declined a point and Bethlehem gave up a large fraction.

Motor issues put on a show of strength and resisted the selling better than most other groups. Chrysler came back from its low of the day to show a small fractional markup and General Motors duplicated the performance.

Metal stocks gave way easily. Kennecott dropped $1.25 on the falling through of the plans to raise the price of copper and Anaconda tumbled a point.

Things brightened a little in the aviation division. Douglas developed a good deal of buoyancy to better by more than 2 points its previous closing price. Boeing picked up a fraction.

Eastman Kodak, American Agricultural Chemical, Crown Cork and Seal, U. S. Pipe and Foundry, and Anaconda Wire were individual strong spots.

POTATO PRICES ADVANCE ON FEDERAL PREDICTION

A prediction by the department of agriculture that the price of potatoes may average the highest since 1925-'26 boosted potato futures on the Mercantile exchange yesterday 1 to 5 cents per bushel. January closed at $2.55 per 100 pounds, or $1.53 per bushel.

During the 1925-'26 season the wholesale price of potatoes in car lots at Chicago ranged from a low of $2.15 per bushel in September, 1925, and in April, 1926, a high of $5.25 was recorded. The government's Aug. 1 report estimated the potato crop at 294,537,000 bushels. In 1925 it was 296,466,000 bushels.

Trade in butter and egg futures was lighter than of late with November butter closing ⅛ cent higher at 34⅜ cents per pound. October eggs advanced ¼ cent to 25¾ cents per dozen. There was some buying of butter on rumors the anti-dumping clause in the tariff act might be invoked to check imports from some foreign countries. Sales of butter futures were 65 cars; eggs, 64 cars, and potatoes, 10 cars. Prices follow:

SILVER FUTURES.

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Silver futures closed weak, 54 to 90 points lower. No sales. Closing bids: September, 43.50c per oz; December, 43.50c; March, 43.50c.

CROP REPORTS PUSH UP COTTON 3 TO 9 CENTS

Scattered liquidation by holders of cotton contracts and hedging pressure from the south caused an early decline in futures yesterday, but the loss was more than recovered later when reports were received indicating intense heat and dry weather had practically ruined the Oklahoma crop, and severe damage had occurred in parts of Texas, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

Closing trades in Chicago were at net gains of 3 to 9 points and in other markets of 6 to 11 points. Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher with New Orleans, 11.95 cents; Houston and Galveston, 12 cents, and New York at 12.15 cents per pound. Prices follow:

RICHFIELD OIL'S REORGANIZATION PLAN SUBMITTED

Calls for New Issues Totaling 20 Millions.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—(AP)—Plans for reorganization of Richfield Oil company and the Pan-American Petroleum company were filed here today in federal court. Prepared and approved by the reorganization committee and Kuhn, Loeb & Co., the plan provides for formation of a new, enlarged company in which present holders of $60,000,000 of bonds and claims will participate with Consolidated Oil, Cities Service company, Rio Grande Oil, and others.

In addition to the properties of Richfield and Pan-American the plan provides for inclusion of properties of the Rio Grande and the injection of nearly $20,000,000 new capital in the reorganized concern.

Working Capital $26,500,000.

More than $15,000,000 of the proposed new capital has been underwritten by investment bankers, oil concerns, and others. The new money will provide the company with an initial working capital of $26,500,000. Present bondholders and unsecured creditors are offered the first opportunity of subscribing to the new securities by which additional capital is to be raised.

Two offerings are to be made under the reorganization plan—one consisting of 4 per cent convertible debentures amounting to $10,000,000, and another of 1,000,000 shares of additional new common stock at $10 per share.

The new proposed company will have the following initial minimum capitalizaiton: $10,000,000 fifteen year 4 per cent convertible debentures, convertible into new common stock at $15 a share during the first three years; a minimum of $3,560,000 shares of new common stock; warants for purchase of $1,250,000 shares new common stock at $15 in the first three years.

Warants to Aid Redemption.

Cash received from the exercise of warants will be applied to redemption of purchase of debentures as long as they are outstanding.

In accordance with the national bankruptcy act, the new plan will not become operative unless accepted by holders of two-thirds of each class of bonds of claims.

During negotiations resulting in the new plan properties of Richfield and Pan-American were offered for sale at a minimum price of $29,656,510 fixed by the court. No bids in this amount were received. Standard Oil of California at one time bid for the properties, but withdrew its offer in August, 1935.

U. S. RAILROADS HAVE MOST FAST TRAINS IN WORLD

As a result of increases in train speeds during the last five years, United States railroads now have more passenger trains running on schedules of sixty miles an hour or faster than have the carriers of any other nation, J. J. Pelley, president of the Association of American Railroads, said yesterday. In addition, they have the fastest trains in the world for distances of 800 miles or more.

Pelley said freight trains in this country also have been speeded up to a point where they are being operated at virtually passenger train speeds. Some freight trains operate from one terminal to another at an average speed as high as approximately 43 miles per hour, including time occupied at intermediate terminals and in switching en route.

Emphasizing the improvement in passenger train speeds during the depression years, Pelley asserted more than 400 trains, covering in excess of 19,000 miles daily, at the beginning of this year were operated on scheduled runs timed at sixty miles an hour or better, compared with thirty regular runs totaling 1,100 miles at such speeds in 1930.

BANKS INCREASE RESERVES; IDLE CASH STILL HIGH

U. S. Order Does Little to Prevent Inflation.

BY HOWARD WOOD.

Banks throughout the nation belonging to the federal reserve system last week dug into their idle funds and produced the 1 billion 473 million dollars of additional reserves required by the reserve board order, effective last Saturday, without the slightest hitch. This was disclosed last night in the board's regular weekly figures showing the condition of reserve banks and member banks.

The widely publicized move of the reserve board in boosting by 50 per cent the amount of "legal" reserves that commercial member banks are required to pledge with the central banks as security for deposits thus failed to cause more than a slight ripple in the finances of banks.

Still Hold Much Idle Money.

After the shooting was all over and the returns were in the reports showed the member banks of the nation still held "loose" unpledged cash of 1 billion 810 million dollars, a sufficient base, according to official estimates, for an expansion of 14½ billions of bank credit.

It was in the hope of preventing speculative and uncontrolable use of idle bank cash that the reserve board raised the ante on "required" reserves. The figures show that the amount of idle bank cash has been reduced from 3 billions 170 million to 1 billion 810 millions by the board's action. Deeper than that the board hesitates to go for fear of jeopardizing the marketability of recurring new issues of treasury borrowings.

Little Selling of Bonds.

There was a little selling of government bonds by some individual banks in New York and Chicago, and "country" banks having deposits in the big metropolitan institutions drew down slightly on their balances, but the extent of such changes was almost negligible.

Chicago banks sold 39 million dollars' worth of government securities. New York banks made little change in their holdings of "governments" but sold 42 millions of Home Owners' Loan corporation and Federal Farm Mortgage corporation government guaranteed bonds. Deposits of country banks with New York banks dropped 111 millions and such deposits in Chicago declined 27 millions. No money had to be borrowed from the reserve system by member banks in Chicago and only 2 millions was borrowed by New York banks.

Order Has Small Effect.

Thus the furore attendant upon the reserve board's increase in reserve requirements is over for the time being with no casualties and little ground won. Already the continuing influx of gold from abroad and treasury expenditure of so-called "free" gold have started to rebuild the idle and unattached cash of the banks back in the direction of the former high levels.

In the week ended Aug. 19 monetary gold stocks of the United States rose 17 millions to a new all-time high of 10 billions, 678 millions—a billion and a half higher than a year ago.

One moderately encouraging development was a further expansion last week of 10 million dollars in the Chicago banks' commercial loans, which now total 358 millions, a rise of 48 per cent from the level of a year ago. New York banks' commercial loans rose 15 millions for the week, but are still only about 7 per cent above the figure for a year ago.

The federal government during the week refrained from drawing any of its deposits from commercial banks in New York and Chicago, in order to ease them over the Aug. 15 deadline for meeting the reserve board's increased reserve requirements. Instead, the government drew 123 millions out of the treasury's deposits with the 12 reserve banks themselves.

GRAIN OFFICIAL DENIES FIGHT ON COMMODITY LAW

Robert Boylan, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, yesterday denied knowledge of any legal action by members to contest the constitutionality of the commodity exchange act, and asserted officials planned no action of that sort.

It was learned, however, that a number of commission men are considering action similar to a suit filed last Saturday by members of the Chicago Mercantile exchange, and have retained the law firm of Townley, Wild, Campbell & Clark, 33 North La Salle street, as counsel. No definite steps have been taken yet.

GOVERNMENT ASKS PACKERS TO BID FOR SHEEP BUYING JOB

The government yesterday asked packers to submit bids on Aug. 28 for the job of buying and processing sheep and lambs for the government. Buying by the government, if conditions warant it, will be done on the open market by packers authorized to represent the government.

Although Chicago packers will enter their bids, some doubt was expressed as to whether actual buying will be done in Chicago because of a statement in yesterday's wire from Washington specifying that, if possible, purchases are to be made at points west of the Mississippi and east of the Rocky mountains.

It was said that approximately $3,000,000 has been set aside for the purchase of sheep, which may be sufficient to purchase about 1,000,000 sheep if buying is confined to the low priced old sheep.

The purchases will be made to support the market if prices weaken too much because of liquidation caused by the drouth.

FRANCE REPORTS GOLD LOSS DUE TO WAR IN SPAIN

The critical Spanish situation resulted in France losing more than 9 million dollars in gold reserves last week, according to the condition statement of the Bank of France issued yesterday. Currencies of European countries yesterday were as uncertain in their movements as the diplomatic maneuvers among those countries.

The French franc closed unchanged at 6.58⅜ cents, the level at which gold shipments from Paris to New York become profitable. Some small metal engagements in Paris were anticipated. The Dutch guilder lost 2 points to close at 67.92 cents, and another member of the gold bloc, Swiss francs, were also unchanged at 32.60 cents.

Other Currencies Variable.

German marks gained 2 points to 40.25 cents and Belgian belgas ½ point to 16.88 cents, but the British pound sterling lost ⅜ cent to close in New York at $5.03. In London the pound gained ⅛ cent to $5.03⅜ and in Paris the franc lost ground to close at 6.583 cents, compared with the New York overnight rate of 6.585 cents.

The Bank of France statement revealed a loss of 142,000,000 francs [$9,349,813] in gold reserves in the week ended Aug. 13 and a decline of 548,000,000 francs [$36,082,375] in circulation. This brought the ratio of gold to circulation to 65.01 per cent, against 64.76 per cent in the preceding week.

France Borrows More.

The French government borrowed 925,000,000 francs from the bank to redeem a like amount of its treasury bills. So far the bank has loaned the state 7,567,000,000 francs of the 10,000,000,000 francs permitted.

Gold stocks of the bank on Aug. 13 amounted to 54,847,000,000 francs, compared with 54,989,000,000 a week earlier, while note circulation at 84,359,000,000 francs compared with 84,907,000,000 francs in the preceding week.

The statement of the Bank of England for the week ended Aug. 19 showed gold reserves at a new all-time high of £244,860,000, a gain of £850,000 [$4,278,687] over the preceding week. Note circulation declined and the ratio of gold reserves to note circulation rose to 37.8 from 35 per cent a week earlier.

More Gold Coming to U. S.

Engagement of $526,000 gold in India and $352,000 in England was announced yesterday by the New York Federal Reserve bank. The bank reported the arrival here of $4,729,400 of gold, consisting of $2,479,300 from India, $1,979,000 from Canada, and $271,100 from England, and release of $350,000 gold from earmarking.

For the week ended on Wednesday the reserve bank listed imports at New York of $16,379,000, including $7,243,000 from France, $4,701,000 from Mexico, $1,984,000 from Canada, $1,366,000 from England, $988,000 from India, and $97,000 from Nicaragua. The bank reported a net increase of $4,378,000 in gold held under earmark for foreign account here and arrival at San Francisco of $1,441,000 gold from Hongkong.

CATTLE BOUGHT BY GOVERNMENT AS PRICES DROP

Orders Placed in Chicago and Kansas City.

The government late yesterday afternoon entered the cattle markets at Chicago and Kansas City with a last minute order for 600 cutter cows, hefers and steers to support prices as the markets for all but a handful of top grades of steers and light hefers slumped sharply.

The classes of cattle the government came in to support have declined 25 to 50 cents in two days, and were slipping rapidly as supplies accumulated yesterday. Federal buying orders arrived too late for actual buying in the Kansas City market, but part of the Chicago order was filled before the trade closed.

First Purchase of Steers.

Yesterday was the first time the government agents bought steers, having previously confined their buying to the lower grades of cows and hefers.

Orders at Chicago called for 75 cutter steers of decent flesh that would cost from $4.50 to $5.25, 125 hefers at $4.00 to $4.50, and 100 cows at $3.50 to $4.00.

Most beef steers are selling 15 to 25 cents under the high point of the week, but best light steers and yearlings are steady. Declines in grassy hefers in the first three days of the week amount to 50 cents, but others are mostly steady to weak, while the best fed hefers are strong with the recent high spot.

Top beef steers sold at $10.00, the bulk bringing $7.50 to $9.00.

Hogs Drop Despite Scarcity.

Restricted demand for fresh pork curbed buying of hogs still more yesterday. Further sharp concessions were granted by sellers before the supply could be moved, despite the fact that receipts continued to run considerably under normal. Declines of 10 to 25 cents were recorded, with some sales off 35 cents.

Yesterday's break carried the market back to where it was about nine days ago before the sensational rise shot prices to new 1935 highs early in the week. Current prices are 40 cents to $1.00 under the high spot. The top yesterday was $11.50, compared with $11.80 on Wednesday and with $12.05 Tuesday. The average declined 20 cents to $10.10.

Mostly steady to strong prices were paid for fat lambs yesterday and feeder quotations were raised to new 1936 highs. Top feeder lambs went to the country at $8.50, only 25 cents under the highest August sale of replacement stock in seven years.

Packers obtained most closely sorted native ewe and wether lambs at $9.25 to $9.50, while city butchers paid up to $9.75, the top.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

Green Pastures.

August 20, 1936.

RECENT rains have worked wonders on the crops and pastures at the Tribune's Wheaton Experimental farm. Both the open and woodland pastures are freshening up and new growth is appearing everywhere. Alfalfa fields that had been picked bare by the sheep are putting out green shoots again.

The rains came too late to be of material benefit to a 20 acre field of corn on the Wheaton place, but the farm manager says that about 43 acres of late planted corn should make a fair yield. The plants still are green and are beginning to form good sized ears. Rains have been heavier here during the last week than at the Yorkville farm.

All the corn on the Wheaton farm this year will be cut and the entire plants used as feed. The two silos on the farm, having a combined capacity of about 170 tons, will be filled. Last year only 21 acres of corn were required to fill the silos, but it is expected to take a much larger acreage of this year's comparatively short crop to fill them.

What corn is left after the silos are filled will be cut and shocked and fed next winter as roughage to sheep, cows, and horses.

Chinch Bugs Again.

A second brood of chinch bugs started hatching at the Wheaton farm last week. The pests are most numerous in two small fields of corn near the center of the farm. However, the corn plants are in such thrifty condition since the rains that the bugs seem to be doing little damage.

Grasshoppers Thick.

Grasshoppers are thick on both the Tribune farms. At the Wheaton place they are doing most damage to the alfalfa fields and the blue grass pastures. They also are eating the tender shoots of volunteer grass coming up in the oat and wheat stubble. The hoppers are causing most trouble in the red clover meadows at the Yorkville farm. They are not hurting the corn very much at either place.

Snakeroot Search.

Another thorough search for white snakeroot weeds was made in some of the woodland pastures on the Wheaton farm this week. Some of the breeding ewes will be turned into these pastures soon and the men are taking no chances of their eating the poison plants. Burdock plants in the woods also were cut and thrown on old brush piles to dry out. They will be burned when the ground becomes thoroughly saturated with moisture so there will be no danger of the fires spreading.

Late Soy Beans.

Soy beans are coming up in a late planted field at the Yorkville farm. The beans were planted in the dust back in July and none of them sprouted until this week. The stand is poor and the beans are not expected to make a hay crop worth cutting. They likely will be plowed under for green fertilizer this fall and the land sown down to winter wheat or rye.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that pursuant to the provisions of the order entered on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1936, the hearing before the Court as aforesaid on the 9th day of September, A. D. 1936, will also be for the purpose of determining the number of shares of the common stock of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company which Henry T. Bush and C. Ray Phillips, as Receivers of Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company, shall be authorized to sell in order to raise money to pay claims adjudicated herein and administration fees and expenses allowed herein, and for such other purposes as said Court shall determine. This matter was originally set for hearing on the 29th day of April, A. D. 1936, and adjourned until the 29th day of May, A. D. 1936, at which time it was adjourned until the 9th day of September, A. D. 1936. The Court will consider at said adjourned hearing the fairness of the terms and conditions of the issuance of rights to purchase the number of shares of the common stock of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company so determined to be sold as aforesaid and the issuance of warrants to purchase the 80,000 shares of the common stock of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company as provided in the offer of Columbia Oil & Gasoline and Columbia Gas & Electric Company approved by the order entered by the Chancellor in the above-captioned proceeding on the 29th day of April, A. D. 1936, and the fairness of the terms and conditions under which said shares thereafter shall be issued. The Receivers hold warrants to subscribe for 80,000 shares of common stock of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company at $25.00 per share up to and including January 1, 1937, and under the provisions of the offer above mentioned will distribute the same pro rata to Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company stockholders, except that the Class "B" stockholders shall be entitled to only 1/20 of the rights accruing to each common stockholder. At the same time and in the same manner, the Receivers will distribute warrants for the number of shares of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company which the Chancellor determines shall be sold by them at $25.00 per share to raise the necessary funds to pay all claims and allowances in the proceedings and for such other matters as the Chancellor shall determine. It is contemplated that such distribution of warrants will be made during October, 1936. Under the agreement with the Columbia Oil & Gasoline Corporation, all of the 80,000 shares unsubscribed for by Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company stockholders will be purchased at $25.00 per share by Columbia Oil & Gasoline Corporation and such part up to 40,000 shares of the stock which the Receivers offer for sale to stockholders of Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company at $25.00 per share not so subscribed for by stockholders will likewise be purchased by Columbia Oil & Gasoline Corporation.

TAKE FURTHER NOTICE that all applications referred to hereinabove and the agreement between the Receivers and Columbia Oil & Gasoline Corporation and Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation are on file and can be inspected in the office of the Registar in Chancery, Eleventh & King Streets, City of Wilmington, State of Delaware.

Dated August 20, 1936.
